CITY WILL PAY AGAIN TODAY IN RESCUE MONEY

Strawn Group Doles Out $8,785,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Strawn Citizens' committee provided sufficient cash yesterday to meet the city, school, county, and sanitary district pay rolls up to March 15. The city, schools, and county will hand out the salary checks today and the sanitary district on Saturday.

Last week the Strawn committee, in considering requests totaling more than $16,000,000, decided it would buy tax warrants of a face value totaling $9,215,000. Since then the committee has been investigating and decided the local governments could get along on an aggregate of $8,785,000—a reduction of $430,000.

The school board wanted $4,400,000. Its pay rolls totaled only $3,990,000, and that was all it obtained yesterday. The city wanted $3,880,000 and received $3,860,000. The county showed the necessity for $675,000 and got it. The sanitary district made good on its request for $260,000 for pay roll requirements.

$22,056,292 of Fund Gone.

The Strawn committee has paid out $22,056,292.62, from the taxpayers' trust in two installments, distributed among the pay rolls and accrued interest on tax warrants bought, as follows:

Government—	March 2.	March 12.
Schools	$ 4,750,000.00	$3,990,000.00
City	4,500,000.00	3,860,000.00
County	2,750,000.00	675,000.00
Sanitary dist.	340,000.00	260,000.00
Interest	533,582.86	397,709.76
Totals	$12,873,582.86	$9,182,709.76

The accrued interest on the two purchases of tax warrants, totaling $931,292.62, is an earning for the trust and surplus funds of the city, which were invested in the warrants before they were sold to the taxpayers' trust. That cannot be properly used for current expenses.

The city and school warrants were bought by the Strawn committee yesterday after the city council had passed the necessary ordinance, recommended by the council finance committee. The ordinance related only to the purchase of the second installment of tax warrants. The finance committee, at the suggestion of Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], delayed consideration of an ordinance which would permit the administration officials to take care of the succeeding pay day without council action.

Caldwell Attends Meeting.

H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, who submitted the request to the Strawn committee for money with which to pay the teachers and other school employés, was at the finance committee meeting. He told the aldermen that he had four different groups in New York "anxious to buy 1930 school tax warrants" if he could obtain the written approval of two banks in Chicago.

Asked by Ald. Sheldon Govier [9th] who the would-be purchasers are, Mr. Caldwell replied that he did not like to disclose their names. No alderman asked him what two Chicago banks he referred to, but the committee decided to "invite representatives of the Strawn committe to tell the attitude of the banks on the sale of school warrants in New York."

Aldermen Clash with Nelson.

"I don't see any reason to invite the Strawn committee in to offend its members," said Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th]. "We should be cooperating with them."

"Who intends to offend them?" asked Ald. Nelson. "I want to know why they will not permit tax warrants to be sold in New York."

"You have been rather drastic in your comments in the council on the Strawn committee," replied Guernsey.

"Yes," said Nelson, "and my remarks had some effect. His own colleagues told Mr. Strawn that he should desist in his efforts to usurp the powers of public officials. My remarks accomplished that much."

"You are not going to help get the cash to pay public employés by putting on a public fiasco," commented Guernsey.

Bankers' Donations Recalled.

"Those bankers are un-American," said Ald. Govier. It was recalled, however, that the bankers subscribed more than $25,000,000 of the taxpayers' trust, and only two men in public office made any subscription.

"If Mr. Caldwell's statement is correct about New York," said Ald. Terence Moran [16th], "there's something wrong, and we ought to find out about it."

The 1930 tax warrants are the

Charges France Got "Unfair Deal."

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The five power naval conference practically ended today, as far as France is concerned. With its demand for a security pact rejected, the Paris delegation has lost all interest in the negotiations and is indifferent as to whether the others frame a three or four party agreement, or leave the whole question to the league of nations preparatory disarmament commission.

ARISTIDE BRIAND.

Stormy scenes marked the private meeting today between Prime Minister MacDonald, American Secretary of State Stimson, and Foreign Minister Briand of France. The break came when Mr. MacDonald turned to M. Briand and demanded that he produce his real figures. Mr. Briand replied, tartly:

"I have no figures. I came over here to get a pact. If you want figures you must talk to Premier Tardieu when he comes over this weekend. I am finished."

Will Return to Paris.

Later M. Briand declared to his intimates that he would probably go home when M. Tardieu arrives, leaving the French premier to make whatever arrangements he likes.

The aged French statesman demanded point blank of the British prime minister and the American secretary of state why they are suspicious of France's naval requirements and why they refuse to permit her to maintain adequate sea power for self-defense, but accept Italy's demand for parity in silence.

"I don't think that it is fair to ask France to produce all of her figures and make out her case," he said. "We are willing to discuss every point without being asked. But there is another country at the conference occupying the same status as France, but she is left alone and says nothing beyond demanding parity with us—making no justification of her claims.

Says Parity Is Impossible.

"That is impossible. Parity cannot exist between a nation which can concentrate her sea power on one sea—and a small one, compared with the ocean—and a nation which must disperse her naval forces all over the world. Why should not Italy be asked to produce her dossier and state the figures that she needs in the same way that France did?"

M. Briand remarked that he had been informed that Mr. Stimson had tried to obtain a comprehensive outline of the basis of Italy's needs from Dino Grandi, but failed to learn anything more than that the Fascist dogma was parity with France.

M. Briand added that when he tried to discuss the problem frankly with the Italian delegate the responses concerned matters outside of the competences of the conference, and that the Rome representative merely made allusions to Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Turkey, and other Mediterranean powers which are not participating here.

Takes Rap at Stimson.

Returning to the question of a security pact, M. Briand took a sharp rap at the American secretary of state.

"I have seen the statement from Mr. Stimson and I think that he has made a slight mistake," he said. "France never proposed an alliance nor asked for protection from the United States. France seeks a means to realize a mutual agreement to assure the peace of the world and to prevent war. Such an agreement every one could come into, and no one would be barred any more than from the Kellogg pact."

M. Briand softened his remarks with a pointed shot at Mr. Stimson:

"I must thank the secretary of state for his frankness regarding our proposal. He might have played the part of the sly fox and given us an empty, meaningless agreement, which would be worthless in time of need. We are thankful that he spoke sincerely."

M. Briand intimated that the sole outcome he foresees now for the naval conference is a naval holiday of

Magistrate Feron Arrested in Movie

Police Magistrate James M. Feron of Oak Park, who for two weeks has been dodging arrest on a charge of embezzling approximately $15,000 in village funds, was arrested last night as he sat in the Lexington theater at 1162 East 63d street watching a movie.

He was arrested while the Oak Park village board was increasing the reward for his arrest from $500 to $1,000 and passing an ordinance abolishing the office of police magistrate in favor of a municipal court system.

An hour later Feron was shaking hands with Charles H. Crysler, the village president; the chief of police, and the entire village board in a friendly reunion at the detective bureau. Earlier in the day the board, through the village attorney, Paul R. Wick, had filed in the Superior court an affidavit in attachment to tie up Feron's property in an effort to recover the money which he is accused of taking.

"Just a Good Fellow."

After his arrest Feron took the attitude that he had been slightly abused by the Oak Park officials.

"I'm just a good fellow," he told reporters as he posed willingly for photographers. "It wasn't stock market speculation, it wasn't women, and it wasn't liquor that caused my troubles. It was just because I'm a good fellow, giving my money away.

"Why, I'm worth $125,000 or $150,000 out there in Oak Park, but after the stock market crash the real estate business fell off and I didn't have any ready cash. The village board knew all of my assets were frozen, but it looks as though they were just trying to foreclose on me.

Accounting Asked, He Says.

"The day before I went away [Feb. 27] Harry Leadaman, the village clerk, came to me and said the village had to have an accounting. They knew I didn't have the money, but they insisted on it anyway.

"'Why, Harry,' I said, 'I haven't got any money.'

"Harry said he knew it, but he said I could give him a couple of checks and he could hold them until I got some money in the bank. Then the next day when I came home from a funeral I found that the board had forced Harry to put the checks in the bank.

"I guess I just lost my head, then, and I decided to go away."

Feron said he drove to Chicago and put his automobile in the La Salle hotel garage. Then he bought a ticket for New York and spent a week there, "just walking around."

Gets Homesick, Returns.

But he grew homesick after a while, and so, on last Saturday he came back to Chicago on the Twentieth Century limited and decided to stay here. He saw a newspaper advertisement of the opening of the Mayflower hotel at 6125 Kenwood avenue, and registered there as "John M. Ford."

"I read the papers and when I saw that my bond had been put at $50,000 I decided not to give up," he said. "Why, that's too high. That's unfair."

As he entered the Lexington theater last night a friend recognized him and telephoned the Oak Park police, who in turn notified the Woodlawn police. Lieut. Otto Erlanson and his detective bureau squad went to the theater, taking seats near Feron and letting him see the end of the feature film before they arrested him.

Trustees Greet Captive.

When the news of the arrest reached the Oak Park trustees as they were leaving their meeting they immediately became concerned about the extra $500 reward which they offered, and decided unofficially that he had been arrested before the reward was appropriated and that it was, therefore, invalid. Then they climbed into automobiles and hurried down to the detective bureau where they shook hands all around and expressed their sympathy for the magistrate.

Feron was returned to Oak Park and will be arraigned at 2 p. m. today before Justice of the Peace Martin H. McGrath.

In voting to abolish the office of police magistrate the village board spiked the aspirations of J. Edward Jones, the independent candidate for the office, who had been opposed by Feron before his disappearance.

HOT WORDS FLY ON LADIES' DAY AT DRY HEARING

25 Militant Women Laud Prohibition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Twenty-five militant feminine witnesses assembled by various church and prohibition organizations today precipitated the stormiest session which has yet marked the prohibition hearings of the house judiciary committee.

Led by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, and Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the brigade of dry women, speaking at the rate of one every five minutes, put into the committee record approximately 25,000 words of dry testimony during the morning hours of the hearing.

Almost without exception they lauded the 18th amendment as a success, denounced the wets as enemies of the constitution and society, and demanded more rigid enforcement as the only solution for existing evils.

A Three Cornered Wrangle.

It was during the afternoon session, when wet members of the committee sought to cross-examine the witnesses, that the trouble started. Several refused pointblank to answer questions, others defiantly hurled retorts at the interrogators and one or two verged on tears when pressed for answers. The result was an almost incessant three cornered wrangle between the witnesses and wet and dry congressmen, the latter objecting repeatedly to the questioning.

Throughout the day the committee room was jammed to the doors with a noisy crowd, composed largely of women, who frequently applauded the witnesses and hissed the wet committee members. Seats were at such a premium that about half the audience remained seated during the two hour noon recess, several having brought their lunch.

The comedy of confusion during the cross-examination reached its climax when Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] sought to question Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, president of the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league, with regard to her attack upon the witnesses of the wets.

The Brewers' Hand Is Spoiled.

"What we condemn and denounce," she declared, "is the attempt to nullify existing law, to repudiate a solemn obligation, to deride and flout the constitution of our country and to insult the law abiding, God fearing men and women of America by openly advocating nullification and contempt for lawful authority. I have listened for some days to the testimony given here by attorneys for brewers and others, and I have been amazed at some of the statements."

La Guardia asked her to name a brewer's attorney who appeared for the wets.

"One attorney from Chicago," apparently referring to Ralph M. Shaw, she said, admitted he once handled a case for brewers. She could think of no others.

"And, do you still wish to leave 'attorneys' in the plural?" La Guardia inquired.

A Gallant Kansan to the Rescue.

"Yes, I do," the witness retorted. "I think the head of the Association Against the 18th Amendment who was here was one."

La Guardia replied that H. H. Curran, the head of that body, had never practiced law in his life.

Representative C. B. Sparks [Rep., Kas.] objected to La Guardia "testifying" himself, to which the New York representative replied: "The gentleman can shout all he wants to, but I'll correct these gross misstatements of fact whether he likes it or not."

Mrs. Nicholson then sought to read a list of brewing concerns contributing to the Curran organization, which precipitated another clash, the drys insisting they go into the record.

"All right," La Guardia declared, "then I'll move we put in all the contributors to the Anti-Saloon league, including Mr. Kreage."

One Chicago Woman Heard.

Seventeen of today's witnesses were representatives of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, only one of whom, Mrs. Clay-

Policewoman Guiding Pupils Killed by Auto

Policewoman Pearl A. Lanham of Gary was instantly killed yesterday when she was struck by an automobile as she was escorting children from the Glen Park grammar school, Thirty-ninth street and Broadway, at the close of the day's session. The driver, John Nichols, 35 years old, of Griffith, Ind., was held.

Policewoman Lanham had completed aiding a group of twelve children in making the crossing. As she stepped from the curb to cross the street to guide another group she was struck by the automobile. The car, it is charged, was traveling at a high rate of speed. She was hurled eighty feet by the impact. More than a hundred children witnessed the accident.

Mother of 5 Children.

Policewoman Lanham was completing her second week on the Gary police department. She had taken the employment to aid her husband, John Lanham, a railroad employé, to raise their five children. She was 32 years old and lived at 5126 Washington street. Nichols said that he was unable to stop his machine in time to prevent the accident.

Frank Schilola, 7 years old, 727 North Springfield avenue, was fatally injured on his way to school when he was run down by a motor truck in front of 3742 West Chicago avenue. The boy darted from behind one truck into the path of another, driven by Henry Eide, 333 Palmer street. Eide was held. The boy's death raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 178.

Youth Killed in Crash.

John Alangen, 22 years old, 908 West 5th avenue, Gary, was killed and George Myers, 21 years old, 3754 Harrison street, Gary, was injured, probably fatally, when Alangen's automobile collided with another car driven by Frank Szopa, 178 East Fields street, Hammond, at Forsyth street and Michigan avenue in Hammond. Szopa was not injured.

At Last the Downtrodden Freshmen Get Their Rights

Juniors and seniors at the University of Chicago who hoped to pad out their credits with "soft" freshmen courses found the bars up against them yesterday. Previously the downtrodden freshmen had been excluded from their own courses because the class quotas were filled with upper classmen. Yesterday when the upper classmen tried to register in the lower class courses for the spring term, they were forced to stand aside until the freshmen had completed their registration.

ILLINOIS SURVEY SHOWS BIG GAIN IN EMPLOYMENT

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday that unemployment in the state has been reduced between 25 and 40 per cent in the last month. It predicted that within the next sixty days there will be a still greater increase in business and industrial activity to make further large reductions in unemployment.

The report was based on answers to questionnaires distributed to 100 chambers of commerce throughout the state. Eighty per cent of the cities are expecting roadbuilding and other public construction projects to be started within the next month. Factories in various downstate cities indicated that increased orders are expected.

The report will be sent to President Hoover and to the United States and Illinois departments of labor, according to Wayne Hummer of La Salle, president of the chamber.

Hold Dry Law Ratified by U. S. Illegally

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—The prohibition amendment to the constitution was illegally ratified, the special committee of the New York County Lawyers association investigating the amendment decided by a vote of 6 to 1. The committee had deliberated two years on the question.

The eighteenth amendment conflicts with the tenth amendment, the lawyers found. This tenth amendment was adopted to safeguard the individual rights of the people beyond the reach of any expansion in the national government except as might be granted by the people themselves was the argument advanced. This is in conflict with the United States Supreme court's 5 to 4 decision sustaining prohibition.

Cite Extensive History.

The lawyers gave extensive citations of the history of the 10th amendment and then said:

"The eighteenth amendment conflicts with these fundamental constitutional rights of the American people, and can confer no powers on the national government over the people or their individual rights until ratified by the people themselves, assembled in constitutional conventions in their several states."

The noted lawyers composing the committee were Dan F. Cohalan, former Supreme court justice; Julius Henry Cohen; Prof. Leslie J. Tompkins, head of New York university law school; Martin Conboy, former president of the Bar Association of the City of New York; Selden Bacon, Charles Strauss, and Robert McCurdy Marsh, former Supreme court justice. Mr. Marsh's was the dissenting vote.

To Take Point to U. S. Court.

Prof. Tompkins made the announcement tonight He said the committee also moved by the same vote to present its arguments to the United States Supreme court.

"The special committee," Prof. Tompkins said, "voted in favor of the proposition that such a matter ought to be taken up with the Supreme court of the United States at the earliest possible moment on the entirely new ground which is set forth in the report by Selden Bacon, a member of this committee—namely; that the tenth amendment to the constitution modified the fifth article of the original constitution.

"That is, that neither the congress nor the states have the right to adopt an amendment in the manner and form they did and that it ought to be submitted to the people in convention."

ton D. Eulette, came from Chicago. The others included Mrs. Hilda L. Olsen, Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Clarence Macey, Rochester, N. Y.; Bertha K. Landes, former mayor of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Gertrude M. Pattangall, Augusta, Me.; Mrs. Charles H. Greenleaf, Plymouth, N. H.; Mrs. Frank C. Porter, New Haven, Conn.; Mrs. L. J. Johnson, Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. A. H. Lippincott, Camden, N. J.; Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Maynard F. Thayer, Pasadena, Cal.; Mrs. John D. Sherman, Denver, Colo.; Miss Grace Roberts, Miss Bertha Rembaugh, and Mrs. Richard Aldrich, New York City.

Among the witnesses representing affiliated groups were:

Mrs. F. I. Johnson, president of the Federation of Foreign Missions Boards of North America.

Mrs. Orin R. Judd, president of the Council of Women for Home Missions.

Mrs. Morris Liebert, international president of the King's Daughters and Sons.

Mrs. Henry M. Kendrick, representative of the National Council of Federated Church Women.

Mrs. William Tilton, legislative chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Clarence Marshall Busch, president of the National League of American Penwomen.

Many Messages Read.

In addition to the testimony of these witnesses messages lauding the dry law from Mrs. Henry Ford, Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke college, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Vic Doheny, Mrs. Raymond Robins, former Chicagoan, and others were presented at the hearing.

The statement of Mrs. Peabody, who claimed to represent a total of 10 million women, was typical of those delivered by each of the witnesses.

"The vast majority of the women of this country stand for the constitution and law enforcement," she declared. "The normal woman, not the subnormal or neurotic type, knows alcohol to be a habit making drug which wrecks body, soul, and mind, as dangerous as opium to the individual—more dangerous to the family and community.

"There is no organized rebellion against prohibition of opium by advocates of personal liberty. The alcoholic taint from past generations persists in rebellion against this necessary law against the alcohol traffic."

Mrs. Liebert was another witness whose testimony was illustrative. Her organization, she said, is engaged in supplying food, clothing, and fuel to the poor.

"In New York City alone, before prohibition, we purchased each year two to four hundred pairs of shoes so that children could attend school," she continued. "In 1929 only twelve pairs were needed. No longer must the wife meet the husband on pay day so that he will not spend the greater portion in the saloon. No longer are boys and girls sent to the saloon to plead with the father to come home."

Claims Drinking Decreased.

Mrs. Eulette, the only Chicago witness, explained that she represented not only the Illinois branch of the committee for law enforcement but also the board of education of the northern Baptist convention. She did not touch upon conditions in Chicago, devoting most of her statement to an elaboration of "two authenticated facts," first that "prohibition has been of economic benefit," and second, that the amount of drinking is "very much less than before prohibition."

"History has shown the manufacture, sale and use as a beverage to be accompanied by intemperance, poverty, disease, crime, injustice to children, and degradation of women," she said. "Therefore, a government which prohibits it merits in the truest sense Lincoln's description as a government 'for the people.' Our form of government is challenged and threatened if those who do not choose to obey a law are allowed to flout it."

Drunkenness Figures Annoying.

At the outset of the session Mrs. Peabody, who was in charge of the testimony, insisted that her witnesses be allowed to finish their statements before being questioned, a departure from the committee procedure heretofore. This was agreed to over the objections of the wets.

But the wets, especially Representatives La Guardia and Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.], made up for lost time when the statements were completed. One after another, they called the women back to the stand.

Representative Celler aroused the ire of drys by compelling each witness to give her home city and then reading the statistics for drunkenness arrests and the alcoholism death rate for that city, the figures invariably showing an upward trend since 1920. He finally was barred from reading any more figures by a ruling of the chair.

La Guardia Shows Basis of Claims.

La Guardia's line of interrogation was to demand of the witnesses whether they had taken polls of their members on the prohibition question. In each instance he showed that the representations were based upon resolutions adopted at conventions or upon personal views.

Mrs. Johnson of Cambridge, Mass., who stated that her husband is a Harvard professor and who presented statistics showing a decrease in drinking under prohibition, underwent a typical cross-examination at the hands of the two wets.

Celler, reading the figures on the immense increase in the production of corn sugar, asked the witness if she realized most of it went for corn liquor.

"Mr. Chairman," she replied indignantly, "I never heard of corn liquor before in my life."

"Your figures show a great deal of hard liquor drinking before prohibition," said La Guardia. "Do you know how much is being consumed now?"

MRS. JOHNSON—I know nothing about that.

LA GUARDIA—Do you wish to ignore present conditions altogether?

MRS. JOHNSON—Mr. La Guardia, I don't think for one minute more liquor is being consumed now than before.

LA GUARDIA—You say there is little drinking in Harvard?

MRS. JOHNSON—I have never seen a student drunk.

LA GUARDIA—Do you think a drunken student would make a social call on a professor's wife?

MRS. JOHNSON—My husband says he has not smelled liquor on the breath of a student at his classes since 1922.

Yale Is Not Forgotten.

Mrs. Porter of New Haven, Conn., the wife of a Yale professor, testified like Mrs. Johnson that drinking among students does not exist; and likewise was challenged.

"Have you ever been to a Yale football game, Mrs. Porter?" Celler asked her.

"Well," she parried, "you know people come from all over the country to a football game."

"You've been to a regatta, I suppose?"

"Now, I know there is some drinking at both places," the witness admitted. "But I never saw any one drunk on the Yale campus. That is what I meant."

New Jersey Evils Admitted.

Mrs. Lippincott, representing the New Jersey committee of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement, played directly into the hands of the wet cross-examiners when she stated in her testimony that "Conditions are far from ideal in New Jersey for the following reasons: First, liquor still corrupting politicians, as always. Second, appointment of judges, prosecutors and other officials by a former governor who was not in sympathy with the 18th amendment or in our present régime because of pressure from political gangs. Third, refusal to produce evidence in jury trials on the part of prosecutors. Fourth, protection of bootleggers who are vote-getters and intimidation of jurors by political ward leaders. Fifth, apparent coöperation of prosecution and defense in freeing liquor violators. Sixth, faulty indictments or failure to indict on the part of grand juries."

Her Companions Hush Her.

This statement drew a volley of questions from La Guardia and Celler. First, however, the former led her into further elaboration.

LA GUARDIA—And, Mrs. Lippincott, how are conditions in Camden?

MRS. LIPPINCOTT—Very bad.

LA GUARDIA—In Atlantic City?

MRS. LIPPINCOTT—O, terrible!

LA GUARDIA—And in Trenton?

MRS. LIPPINCOTT—Well, I don't know. They suffer some from Philadelphia gangsters who come over from Philadelphia.

At this point, there were "sh's" from women sitting around her and Mrs. Lippincott became more cautious.

Wants Better Men Elected.

But La Guardia, frowning heavily, continued: "Now, Mrs. Lippincott, in view of all these terrible conditions under prohibition which you have pictured, what is your remedy?"

After considerable parrying and thinking the witness explained that she favored electing men to office who would enforce the law.

In questioning Mrs. Busch, who lives in Miami Beach, Fla., La Guardia asked her if she would be willing to have a special government squad as large as necessary to invade Miami Beach at the opening of the tourist season next winter and enforce the prohibition law to the limit and if she would be willing to ask the government to take such a drastic step.

"I would be glad to," she declared.

"All right, you're on," said the representative. "We'll do it. And that ought to make us popular in Miami Beach."

In response to further questions Mrs. Busch attributed the drinking in Florida entirely to the tourists.

While the house hearing was in session today, in another part of the city the Wickersham law enforcement commission continued its secret hearings on prohibition, with Representative Arthur Dyer [Rep., Mo.], author of a bill providing for 2.75 per cent beer, as the major witness. Mr. Dyer urged the commission to recommend the legalization of "liquor not intoxicating in fact" to congress.

WOMEN DRYS ANNOUNCE 14 POINT CREED

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—A 14 point "political creed" of the woman's national committee for law enforcement was presented to the house judiciary committee today by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Beverly, Mass.

It read:

"1. We believe in the government of the United States, based on the constitution, the supreme law of the land, according to article VI. of the constitution—'This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; . . . shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.'"

Call Law "Necessary Protection."

"2. We believe that prohibition of opium, alcohol, and other habit making drugs is a necessary protection in this machine age.

"3. We believe the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, voted by 46 out of 48 states in the way prescribed, with a greater majority than any other amendment, is binding on all states.

"4. We believe in the Volstead act, which has met the test of the Supreme court and limits alcoholic content to one-half of 1 per cent. No other standard would be safe for children and those not inoculated with alcohol.

"5. We believe that under the existing act the buyer is equally guilty with the seller in illicit transactions in liquor.

"6. We believe that the economic gain resulting from the use of billions of dollars formerly spent in saloons, speakeasies, and liquor for private use now used for better homes, clothing, food, washing and sweeping machines, automobiles, radio, life insurance, and bank deposits, justifies this law.

"7. We believe the moral issue makes this law obligatory for the individual citizen and the duty of every church member, and that every church should teach respect for this law through its priests and ministers.

"8. We believe in personal liberty for women who have endured personal slavery through drunken husbands, and we recommend Paul's interpretation of liberty to certain eminent educators and legislators.

Stress Education and Discipline.

"9. We believe in law observance for the protection of life, property, homes, and human rights. Education in law observance, necessary and important, should be supplemented by discipline. The only education for the lawless and criminal found largely among the upper classes and in the underworld.

"10. We believe since 'lawbreakers must not be lawmakers,' lawmaking and enforcement departments of our government should demand that members, sworn to protect and defend the constitution, either cease attacks on the constitution leading to contempt for law, or relinquish their offices. And since the first duty of the government is to protect the people from violators of the law, we call for immediate and adequate action, whatever the cost.

"11. We believe, according to the constitution, article 6, that courts of justice should be relieved of prejudiced judges, other responsible for the failure of justice and the breaking down of law, through protecting the criminal rather than the public.

Referendum Opposed.

"12. We believe there is no authority or precedent for submitting the constitution as a whole or in part to a national referendum.

"13. We believe that the press, which has been in the past and should be now a moral and civic asset, ought, without regard to the personal opinion of owner and editor, to give fair representation of the views of law abiding people and the government rather than continue attacks on the law, which will not be repealed, and whose enforcement may be weakened by statements leading to crime and disorder.

"14. We believe that, in view of the disloyal and dangerous attitude of men and women of wealth and influence and the failure of officials, there should be law enforcement groups of citizens in town, county, state and nation organized to correct propaganda and safeguard law observance through regular channels, and that regular safety groups of men and women serve without compensation and be recognized and approved by the government."

U. S. BOARD TO GET VOLSTEAD DATA IN CHICAGO

Ald. John J. Coughlin [1st], spokesman for the wets in the city council, obtained the passage yesterday of a resolution authorizing the city to forward to the Wickersham law enforcement commission statistics showing the increase in crime, jail population and institutional patients in Illinois under prohibition. The resolution also states that the city has been deprived of $8,000,000 annual revenue from liquor licenses. The figures are those presented in Washington by Dr. Francis J. Gerty of the Psychopathic hospital when he testified recently before the house judiciary committee.

THREATEN WATCHMAN, STEAL CAR.

Two bandits escaped with $25 and an automobile from a garage at 11110 Longwood boulevard yesterday after threatening Douglas Kier, 2312 West 107th place, a watchman, with revolvers.

DELAWARE DRYS LAG ON QUESTIONNAIRE, DU PONT REPORTS

Wilmington, Del., March 12.—(AP)—Pierre S. Du Pont, a member of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment, today announced the response received up to yesterday to his questionnaire sent out on Feb. 4, asking the voters of the state whether or not they favored the repeal of the Klair state prohibition enforcement law.

It was announced that 39,424 persons favored repeal of the law out of a total of 45,640 responding. It was stated that 106,450 questionnaires were placed in the mails.

Just think this over a little—consider its good common sense

¶Every normal person highly values good physical and mental health. The one is closely related to the other, of course. You cannot have the full, calm, happy outlook upon life to which you are entitled if you are not reasonably comfortable and contented in mind and body.

¶Everyone knows all this, but all of us do not bear it in mind all the time. For instance, you yourself may be in the habit of underestimating the tremendous influence of diet upon the way things about you affect you and the way you affect those with whom you are in contact.

¶Now, no person should be a crank about his diet, 'fuss' about what he eats or what he does not eat or wonder after eating whether he should not have eaten something else, but everyone should be aware that even the sturdiest constitution can be undermined by persistent and long continued faulty diet.

¶If, by eating little without sound diversification and sensible selection, you think to safeguard your health you are in all probability depriving yourself of the essentials of sound diet in two ways—first, and most important, by lack of variety of needed elements, and second, by insufficiency in quantity.

¶Why not start today—this morning or this noon or this evening—the wise precaution of taking at Henrici's most of those meals which you eat away from home? Here you will have the full benefit of more than sixty years of careful, conscientious study of diet requirements reflected in menus filled to the limit with a variety of delicious dishes of all proper sorts from the most substantial which any person of large demand could require to the lightest and most delicate of dainty foods—all in generous portions and all moderately priced. FALLING WHEAT SMASHES LEVEL OF FOOD PRICES

Northwest Protests on U. S. Policies.

BY PAUL POTTER.

World prices for agricultural commodities suffered a sharp decline yesterday as a demoralized condition in foreign grain markets became reflected in the United States and Canada. Governmental agencies under the direction of the federal farm board made vain efforts to stem the tide by heavy wheat purchases in Chicago, Kansas City, and Minneapolis.

Wheat, corn, oats and rye quotations reached new low levels for the crop season, followed by downward trends in better, lard and other foodstuffs. While May corn sold down to 78¼ cents a bushel, and rye prices were the lowest in 16 years, the unharvested wheat crop was selling a fraction under a dollar a bushel.

Worried Over the Effect.

Economists are wondering how much deterrent influence these dropping prices of grain will have on the returning normal prosperity, and one of them speculated yesterday on whether the government price fixing machinery is going to prove again the futility of interfering with the law of supply and demand; also on what would be the situation if the grain debenture plan had been adopted.

The decline in prices started immediately upon opening of nearly all grain exchanges, upon reports of liquidation in Liverpool wheat that brought slumps of as much as 6¼ cents. May wheat in Liverpool sold for 3¾ cents less than the same grade in Chicago, with the additional spread of from 20 to 22 cents representing the cost of delivery between the two points.

Legge Withholds Comment.

Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board, meeting with officials of the Grain Stabilization corporation in Chicago, declined to comment further on the situation, or to disclose the import of the meeting. Following his talk with W. G. Kellogg, manager of the Farmers' National Grain corporation, G. S. Milnor, newly appointed vice president of the stabilization corporation, and others, he left for a meeting with Kansas live stock farmers.

Mr. Legge's letter outlining the serious grain storage situation, which he said would continue another sixty days, had not been received last night by Gov. George F. Shafer, North Dakota, to whom it was sent in answer to the governor's plea for better prices for farm products. Gov. Shafer said he did not mean to criticize the farm board.

Governor Hits Policy.

Another governor took up the word battle with the farm board chairman yesterday. Gov. Theodore Christianson of Minnesota declared he disagreed with Mr. Legge's solution of the farm problem by adjusting crop production to domestic demands.

"Agricultural production," Gov. Christianson said, "is dependent upon factors which are variable and over which man has no control. While a general limitation of acreage in certain lines, as in wheat, is probably desirable, there is no way in which such a limitation may be enforced, and there is no assurance that if it were we would not in the event of unfavorable weather conditions be confronted with a shortage, which from the standpoint of national prosperity would be unfortunate."

"Demand of Northwest."

Gov. Christianson added that he saw no reason for giving industry, with the means of definitely limiting production to domestic needs, the "monopoly of the opportunity to sell abroad." The northwest, he said, wants conditions that will permit both agriculture and industry to sell in foreign markets. Nothing else would satisfy the farmer, and those interested in his welfare, he said.

In Washington officials of the China famine relief committee told the senate agricultural committee yesterday they would prefer a direct appropriation in preference to the proposal of Senator McMaster [Rep., S. D.] to purchase $25,000,000 worth of American wheat for the starving Chinese.

Canada Pool Leaders Meet.

Officers of the three western provinces wheat pools in Canada were meeting in Winnipeg yesterday as cash wheat reached the lowest price in six years in that market, selling a fraction under a dollar a bushel. Toward the close, however, the Winnipeg quotations reacted to within 1¼ cents of the previous day's prices. Members of the prairie province pools will be advanced only 40 cents a bushel for oats and barley, delivered at Fort William, and 45 cents a bushel for rye on the same basis.

A leading factor in the universal downward movement in the world's grain prices was said to have been the estimates by Broomhall, noted English statistician. He announced a reduction of 62,000,000 bushels from a previous estimate of wheat import needs, or a total of 634,000,000 bushels for this crop, as contrasted with imports of 917,000,000 bushels in 1928-'29.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—Peggy Udell, famous stage beauty of many marriages, was married to Peter Michon of Michon brothers vaudeville team today at the city hall in Newark by Mayor Congleton. Miss Udell gave her age as 25 while the bridegroom said he was 27. It is his first marriage.

Miss Udell said in applying for a license she was wed first to John W. Montgomery, millionaire, of Bellefonte, Pa., but that union was annulled. Later she wed Jimmy Conselman of Providence, R. I., professional football player and song writer. They had it abrogated, were reconciled after a football game, and rewed, but divorced again last July.

SENATE VOTES FARM BOARD 100 MILLION IN DEFICIENCY BILL

Washington, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—Immediate appropriation of more than 173 million dollars for multiple government projects was voted today by the senate in passing the first deficiency bill.

The senate added to the measure as it passed the house the 100 million dollars requested by President Hoover for the farm board; 150 thousand dollars to continue the American delegation at the London naval limitation conference; 12 million dollars for river and harbor work, and 7 million dollars for seed loans to farmers in storm stricken states.

The 100 million dollar fund for the farm board gives this newly established government organization a total of 250 million dollars of the 500 million dollars authorized for its revolving fund by congress. The additional fund was approved without opposition, but its consideration provoked some sharp words on the policies of the farm board.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] demanded that the board cooperate with the Canadian wheat pool against what he believes to be a combination by England, France and Italy to depress the American market. He estimated that the board would really need $1,500,000,000 to carry out the purposes of the act.

Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee supported the board's policy in the grain market and said he believed the board is "doing all it possibly can."

PRICE OF FLOUR SLUMPS LOWER; FOLLOWS WHEAT

Minneapolis, Minn., March 12.—(AP)—Flour, the housewife's standby, dipping in harmony with the slump in wheat, dropped again today in quotations of Minneapolis millers nearer the level of the immediate pre-war years.

Family patent, the type sold commonly for home use, was 10 cents lower today than Tuesday, with the price varying from $8.60 to $8.70 per barrel, compared with $7.30 for the corresponding day a year ago. A barrel consists of two 98 pound sacks. Except for brief intervals, this is the low point for flour since the world war, when the price per barrel went as high as $18.00.

In 1913 the lowest average prices for the year for family patents was recorded for the last two decades, $4.60, moving upward to an average yearly price of $5.10 in 1914.

PARSON PUZZLED WHEN INDICTED FOR SHOOTING 2

Loyal Churchmen Fail to Get Him a Lawyer.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ottawa, Ill., March 12.—[Special.]—The Rev James A. Wilson, 60 year old pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Mendota, Ill., was indicted today for shooting two of his parishioners with intent to kill. Bonds of $20,000 were set and the minister was held in jail for arraignment on Saturday.

The grand jury debated three days on the evidence against the pastor. During this time the 500 members of Mr. Wilson's congregation exerted every effort to forestall an indictment. State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson was forced to guard against a threatened demonstration to influence the grand jury.

He Was Tired of His Wife.

The pastor shot and wounded Mr. and Mrs. Amos Elliott because they refused to surrender to him an indiscreet letter which he had written to Mrs. Emma K. Wagner, a widow in his congregation, and which she had given to the Elliotts. The Rev. Mr. Wilson is married. He made love to the attractive widow, according to his confession, because he was "tired of his wife."

Although Mr. Elliott still is in danger from his wounds, the church members maintain that the pastor should not be held accountable in the courts.

"That such sentiment has arisen in a civilized American community is inexplicable to me," State's Attorney Hanson commented today.

A Mendota youth also was indicted the jury for holding up a gasoline station.

"The same persons who insisted upon a vigorous prosecution of that inexperienced boy, who didn't fire a shot, were pressing me to release the Rev. Mr. Wilson, whose bullets endangered the lives of two persons," Mr. Hanson said. "I can't understand how they can reconcile those two attitudes. Surely, a man is not held to be a law unto himself because he wears the cloth of a clergyman."

Calls Flock His Children.

When the Rev. Mr. Wilson received the news of his indictment in his cell he appeared to hold that very view. He was puzzled. To him the shooting of two of his flock because they might have injured his reputation seemed no more drastic than if he had lashed them verbally from the pulpit.

"They are all my children," he explained.

When State's Attorney Hanson first ordered the minister taken to the county jail at Ottawa, Charles Powell, deacon of the church, was indignant.

"You're not going to arrest our pastor," he protested. "Why, he didn't know what he was doing! He was just excited."

No Lawyer Retained for Him.

But the minister was taken to jail. He remained there because his supporters didn't come forward with funds to bail him out. A meeting was held for the purpose of collecting a defense fund, but the 500 members of the congregation contributed an average of less than 20 cents apiece. No lawyer has been engaged yet to represent him.

One Mendota resident who has remained an impartial observer of the affair declared today that "this is just a throwback to ancient conditions. Before the Christian era the Greek and Roman priests had absolute authority over the people. They could order the death of a man or woman who displeased them. That condition has arisen here with the Rev. Mr. Wilson in charge and his congregation has accepted his attitude. It is a situation paralleled, I believe, in many a country town, and has only been brought out here because the pastor carried out the idea literally and enforced his commands with a gun."

GETS DIVORCE

MRS. ANNETTE STEIN.

Mrs. Annette Stein, 32 years old, 426 Surf street, yesterday won a divorce from Joseph Stein, wealthy real estate dealer, before Superior Judge William J. Lindsay. The decree ended a stormy marital war.

The Steins were married April 24, 1920. On the night of Oct. 27, 1927, Stein, accompanied by two policemen, dragged his wife from a train in the La Salle street station and had her arrested for larceny. He charged that his wife's passion for gambling led her to take $2,500 in diamonds and $25,000 in securities from him. He also charged that she was leaving with another man. The charges were dropped and the couple became reconciled a week later.

The following November Stein brought a bill for divorce, citing his wife's losses at cards and alleging that she had registered in a Chicago hotel with a Thomas J. Burke. A second reconciliation was effected a short time later.

Yesterday Mrs. Stein testified she left her husband last Feb. 11. She charged that he had beaten her black and blue on several occasions. As the judge indicated he would grant a decree she asked that it be signed as quickly as possible since she plans to leave for Europe on the S. S. Bremen tomorrow.

WESLEY OGDEN'S WIFE TIES UP $1,000,000 FUND

Circuit Judge William V. Brothers yesterday issued an injunction to restrain Wesley Ogden from disposing of a $1,000,000 trust fund left him by his mother, Mrs. Anna Austin, formerly Mrs. John W. Ogden, to avoid paying alimony to his estranged wife, Mrs. Bella Vocke Ogden. The injunction was asked by Mrs. Ogden, who dropped her suit for separate maintenance on Tuesday to institute a suit for divorce on charges of cruelty and habitual drunkenness. Ogden has been living in California since he left his wife, last Feb. 26.

Holland Refuses Visa to Soviet Woman Envoy

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, March 12.—The Dutch government today refused to grant the soviet minister at Oslo, Mme. Alexandra Kollontay, a visa to enter Holland to attend the world congress for women at The Hague. Hitherto soviet representatives to other congress meetings have experienced no difficulties obtaining visas.

Pocatello, Idaho, March 12.—(AP)—Merrill P. Morgan, 20, a student pilot, was killed tonight in an airplane crash near here. His plane went into a nose dive at an altitude of 1,000 feet, crashed near the airport and burst into flames.

2,000 YOUTHS FIGHT POLICE AS GANDHI MARCHES

British Troops Alert in "War" for Freedom.

NEW DELHI, March 12.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi's historic "march to the sea" in furtherance of the campaign for civil disobedience began today from the leader's headquarters at Ahmadabad, and tonight demonstrations that were usually orderly were reported from various parts of upper India.

At Aslali, the first halt on the long journey, Gandhi spoke to a large crowd. He defied the British government to arrest him and warned his followers that they must be prepared "for the worst, even death, in plans for defiance of the salt tax." Production of salt in defiance of the government monopoly is the first disobedience step of the Indian program.

Thousands Escort Him.

At the beginning of the march it was reported that thousands of men and women accompanied Gandhi for several miles, rich and poor marching side by side, while thousands lined the roadside. Most of them dropped out eventually and Gandhi continued with eighty or more.

The British troops are on the alert for trouble. Thus far no action has been taken, although Gandhi's arrest soon is generally expected. The only "incident" of the day occurred in Bombay, where 2,000 schoolboys clashed with the police. Only one was arrested, and he was released later.

Demonstrations Are Quiet.

Demonstrations in other places were mainly limited to hoisting the Nationalist flag and making speeches. A public demonstration in New Delhi, organized by the Youth league, passed off peacefully with little or no extra police precautions being taken.

At Rawalpindi the president of the Youth league was arrested and charged with sedition, but business went on as usual. Gandhi is expected to leave Aslali tomorrow morning and will stop for the night at Navagon.

London Eyes Resistance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—News received in London today stated that such extraordinary plans are being made to carry out Mahatma Gandhi's passive resistance movement in India that Great Britain will either be forced to resort to forcible methods or yield to popular demands in the case Gandhi is arrested. The Indians have requested provincial committees to enlist huge armies of passive resisters, while the "congress cabinet" has adopted the following program:

The residences of the viceroy and provincial governors are to be entirely surrounded by volunteers, who will prevent any one from entering or leaving the premises. Volunteers will sit five deep on all roads, refusing to allow any one to pass the cordons, new volunteers relieving them every six hours. They will refuse to move, regardless of orders.

At least 20 per cent of the volunteers are women. The committees expect that the police and military forces will be forced to take violent methods to disperse the "army." If possible the first move will take place at Delhi, otherwise at Bombay. In Delhi the viceroy's home will be surrounded and in Bombay Sir Frederick Sykes, the governor of Bombay, will be kept prisoner within his house.

BANDIT INVADES HOME; ROBS THREE WOMEN; FORGETS HIS PISTOL

COURT DEPRIVES PASTOR OF HIS BED IN CHURCH

Paducah, Ky., March 12.—(AP)—The Rev. D. R. Clapp today was barred by a court order from use of the pulpit or property of the First Baptist church here, where his opponents charge he had been sleeping to prevent them from holding services.

A controversy has been waged within the church for more than a year, ever since Dr. Clapp, then pastor, dismissed several members on charges of card playing and attending Sunday shows. Dr. Clapp later was removed from office by a vote of the congregation, but contended that his removal was illegal.

The injunction, granted by special Judge W. J. Webb, gave jurisdiction over the church property to J. T. Reddick and other trustees, leaders of the faction opposing Dr. Clapp.

Rector Kills Himself; Friends Think It Accident

Marion, S. C., March 12.—(AP)—The Rev. Harrell J. Lewis, 28, rector of the Episcopal church here, shot himself through the head today at the church rectory. He died before medical aid could be summoned. His friends expressed the belief the shooting was accidental and authorities announced an inquest would not be necessary.

BOSTON LIQUOR BUYER'S CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Justice Department Asks Final Decision.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—The Supreme court today was asked by the department of justice to settle the controversial question of whether the purchase of liquor is a criminal act punishable under the national prohibition law.

The department brought the matter to the attention of the court by filing an appeal in the case of James E. Farrar, Watertown, Mass., resident recently freed in Boston after being indicted on a charge of purchasing liquor. In that case Judge James M. Morton quashed an indictment against Farrar and handed down a decision holding the purchase of liquor is not a crime under the Volstead act.

Final action by the Supreme court on the issue raised in the Farrar case would provide a clear cut decision on the question of whether the buyer of beverage liquor can be prosecuted under the Volstead act for that one act alone.

Prosecution Efforts New.

Partly on the advice of Anti-Saloon league spokesmen the government never has actively campaigned against the buyer of intoxicating liquor. In recent months, however, sporadic attempts have been made to prosecute purchasers of liquor under section 6 of the Volstead act.

This section states that no one shall manufacture, sell, purchase, transport, or prescribe any liquor without first obtaining a permit from the prohibition commission.

The government in the Farrar case held section 6 made Farrar equally guilty with the seller, but Judge Morton took the position the buyer of liquor is exempt from punishment under the Volstead act.

Difference of Opinion.

Department of justice officials said the decision to appeal the Boston case was taken after an investigation which showed a difference of opinion among federal jurists on the question of whether the buyer is punishable.

"In view of the doubt as evidenced by the expression of various judges to whether the purchase of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes is of itself a violation of the national prohibition law, the attorney general decided to appeal the Boston case," justice department officials said.

The fact the department of justice now is considering the case of the United States versus Alfred E. Norris, involving an alleged conspiracy between a purchaser and a seller to transport intoxicating liquor, was another determining factor in the attorney general's decision to take the purchase question to the high courts at this time.

Decision Was Reversed.

In the Norris case the District court held the purchaser (Norris) guilty, but the Circuit of Appeals in Philadelphia reversed that decision. Norris purchased liquor later transported from Philadelphia to New York.

The Norris case is set for argument before the Supreme court on April 14.

DRY BUREAU FINDS NEW DENATURANT FOR ALCOHOL, SAYS DORAN

New York, March 2.—(AP)—A new nonpoisonous denaturant for industrial alcohol, more effective than any now in use, has been discovered by the technical division of the prohibition bureau, Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, revealed today at a conference of industrial alcohol producers.

The denaturant is a product of petroleum and Commissioner Doran said it made alcohol extremely difficult of conversion for drinking purposes. The producers, he said, have given him assurance they will cooperate in the use of the new denaturant.

Whether it will eventually supplant aldehol and denatol, the two denaturants now most commonly used, Dr. Doran did not say.

According to members of the Industrial Alcohol institute, at whose offices today's conference was held, the new denaturant causes converted alcohol to be highly unpalatable, although it is not poisonous. It was discovered by Dr. W. V. Linder, chief of the technical division of the prohibition bureau.

LATIN AMERICA CROWN AWARDED TO MISS PANAMA

Miami, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Señorita Melida Boyd, bearing the title "Miss Panama," was selected "Miss Latin America" before a crowd of 10,000 persons in Bay Front park here tonight. The dark complexioned beauty was given first honors by a board of four judges, who reviewed the nine entrants in the contest.

Señorita Julia Salazar, "Miss Costa Rica," was given second honors and Señorita Haydee Morales, "Miss Nicaragua," third.

Mary Dean, an American girl representing the Canal Zone, was given a special prize as Panaman representative in the two day contest conducted in connection with the first annual international Miami beauty pageant to select "America's sweetheart" and "Miss Latin America."

Señorita Salazar caused a flurry when she refused to appear in a bathing suit at a general pageant of all the contestants.

Señorita Salazar said evening dress would be the proper costume for an appearance in the pageant. She declared it "is not proper for a girl to appear in a bathing suit unless she is in the water."

Mother Loses Race by Air; Death Takes Son

Lexington, Ky., March 12.—(AP)—Death was the victor tonight in a race with an airplane in which a mother was speeding from New York to Lexington to be at the bedside of her son in a hospital here. Notified that her son, Prince Harrill, 25, was dying, Mrs. Addie Prince Harrill left New York City at 4 p. m. Young Harrill died at 5:15 o'clock. Mrs. Harrill's plane had not arrived at a late hour tonight.

WINS RUM DEAL SUIT, BUT JUDGE ASKS U. S. QUIZ

Defense Says Transaction Is Liquor Conspiracy.

A suit based upon a liquor transaction resulted in a verdict of $3,000 in favor of the plaintiff yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Harry C. Stuttle. A defense that the deal was for an illegal purpose and therefore could not be enforced in law caused the court to ask federal authorities for an investigation after the jury had returned its verdict. The defense had insisted that the plaintiff had conspired with the defendants to violate the prohibition law.

The plaintiff was Joseph Mutinsky, a shoemaker, 4053 West Twenty-sixth street. He charged that on Feb. 2, 1926, he was approached by Joseph Psota, a chiropractor and osteopath at 716 North Arthur street, and Louis A. Ruda, 2308 South Kedzie avenue, who, posing as government agents, invited him to participate in the purchase of a consignment of pre-war liquor in a government warehouse at Detroit.

Liquor Is Seized.

He invested his life's savings of $3,000 when, he claims, they told him that he could double his money in ten days because the liquor could be purchased at $60 a case and resold at $120. Psota and Ruda represented the transaction as strictly legal, declaring that the liquor was to be resoldt to hospitals and druggists, Mutinsky said. Attorney Charles J. Michal, representing Mutinsky, charged that the pair defrauded Mutinsky when the liquor was seized in transport.

Ruda and Psota testified that Mutinsky had entered an agreement with them to start bootlegging operations. They denied having posed as federal agents and maintained that Mutinsky accepted an illegal partnership and was not entitled to recover.

Calls for Investigation.

As Mutinsky was rejoicing over the verdict of the jury Judge Stuttle called on the United States district attorney to make an investigation.

Attorney Michal declares that he has three similar cases pending against Ruda and Psota brought by other victims of the scheme. They are Charles Marek, 3130 West 19th street, who invested $3,000; Louis Pohejda, 1636 South 58th court, Cicero, who lost $2,500, and Joseph Holacek, 2419 South Ridgeland avenue, Berwyn, who claims to have lost $3,800.

Grand Jury Votes No Bills Against Air School Heads

The charge of operating a confidence game brought against officials of the Aviation Service and Transport company by two former students was dropped yesterday when the grand jury reported no bills in the case. The officials are Donald MacKenzie, president; T. L. Evans, treasurer; John Miller, vice president, and A. C. Robarge, salesman. They were held to the grand jury last week by Judge John A. Sbarbaro. The company operates a flying school at the Municipal airport.

WALL ST.'S FIRST WOMAN BROKER GUILTY OF THEFT

New York, March 12.—(AP)—Miss Margaret E. McCann, the first woman to enter the brokerage business in Wall street, was convicted tonight by a General Sessions court jury on one of five grand larceny indictments returned against her in 1928 in the $450,000 failure of her firm. She will be sentenced March 19. The penalty for the offense is from five to ten years' imprisonment.

Miss McCann showed no emotion over her conviction on the complaint of one of her patrons that a few days before the failure of her firm she had sold $12,800 in stock owned by him, without authorization, and appropriated the money to her own use.

The only time during the trial when she lost her calm was when the prosecutor told the jury she was a "thief."

She jumped to her feet, glared at him, and cried, "How dare you?"

NOTED DRY GETS JAIL TERM AS DOPE ADDICT ON 54TH BIRTHDAY

Cincinnati, O., March 12.—[Special.]—Herbert Kreitzer, prominent Dayton, O., attorney, was sentenced to 18 months in the Atlanta federal prison as a dope addict today, his 54th birthday, by United States District Judge Benson Hough. Kreitzer was an honored member of the Ohio bar for a third of a century and was one of the best known legal stars in the service of the Anti-Saloon league of Ohio.

Kreitzer, in telling his story to the court, declared that when extraordinary use of whisky did not serve to give him satisfactory results he took to using narcotics. Every effort was made to keep his arrest several months ago at Dayton secret, owing to his prominence in Anti-Saloon league affairs.

CERMAK DEFENDS COUNTY BOARD IN FOREST DISPUTE

President Cermak yesterday defended the county board against attacks directed at the commissioners for alleged irregularities in the purchase of additions to the forest preserve. He declared that political opponents of the present board are reviving scandals exploded years ago.

In his defense Mr. Cermak assailed the Better Government association as "nothing but a bunch of racketeers." He said the county commissioners are guided in every move by a non-political advisory board.

The county board voted down a resolution introduced by Commissioner Frank J. Wilson purporting to reveal waste in construction of the new county paid and criminal courts building. The expenditures have been investigated by a citizens' committee and a committee of architects and engineers in the face of political attacks, Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst said.

AIR CRASH KILLS FLYER WHO SHOT DOWN 52 PLANES

Parents of Canadian War Hero Live Here.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—(AP)—Canada's second ranking ace of the world war, Col. William G. Barker, headed to his death at the Rockcliffe Royal Canadian air force field today when the motor of a new ship he was testing stalled in an upward spin while flying at a low altitude.

The war ace had 52 German planes to his credit. His broken body was pulled from the twisted wreckage by government officials, who had gathered to witness his test of the new Fairchild two seater biplane. It was the first time the colonel had flown a ship of that type.

Col. Barker had been in the air only ten minutes before the crash. He was flying low and apparently put the ship into a steep climb when, at the top of the upward loop, it suddenly remained suspended for a moment and then plunged downward. His record among Canadian airmen was exceeded only by that of Col. W. C. Bishop.

Enlisted at 20 Years.

Born at Dauphin, Manitoba, 36 years ago, Barker was only 20 years of age when he proceeded overseas with the first Canadian mounted rifles. He served in France with them until December, 1915, when he was transferred to the Royal Flying corps. He served in the flying corps and the Royal Air force continuously until 10 days before the armistice. Barker was wounded twice.

Col. Barker was decorated with the Victoria cross after a feat, listed as one of the air epics of the war. A short time before the armistice he was attacking an enemy plane, when he ran into a "flying circus" of German ships. He brought down six of the German planes and, although badly wounded, landed his own machine safely.

PARENTS RESIDE HERE.

Col. Barker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Barker, reside at 6117 Ellis avenue. Six brothers also live here, while two sisters live in Winnipeg. The dead flyer's mother is in Dauphin, Manitoba, attending the funeral of her sister.

According to his relatives, Col. Barker lost an arm during the war and was also flown with one hand.

WOMAN AND SERVANT DIE IN FIRE.

Como, Miss., March 12.—(AP)—Miss Anne Barr, 80, and her 90 year old Negro servant, Martha Cheatham, were burned to death here today in a fire that destroyed a store and damaged the Tivolio hotel. The loss was estimated by firemen and the owners at $10,000.

HINT AT POISON IN MYSTERY DEATH OF RUSSIAN FOE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 12.—Both the Manchurian and Chinese Nationalist governments have ordered inquiries into the circumstances surrounding the mysterious death of Gen. Liang Chung-chia, defense commissioner of the Harbin district in Heilungkiang province, who was found dead in bed at Hailar early Sunday morning, after having attended a banquet.

The Mukden government sent a commission of military officers and physicians with orders to make a thorough investigation. It is believed Gen. Liang was poisoned.

Gen. Liang was popularly known as the hero of Manchuli, due to his success in repelling red Russian attacks during the complications over the Chinese Eastern railway.

Foster and Four Other Communists Give Bail

New York, March 12.—(AP)—After being held in jail for six days, William Z. Foster, workers' communist candidate for President in 1928, and four other communist leaders who were arrested in connection with last Thursday's Red riot, were released on bail late tonight. A policeman was injured. Their bail was furnished by bonding companies. Each had been held in $12,500 bonds.

CHOICE WILL BE DENIED VOTERS IN 30 DISTRICTS

Assembly Primary Victors Sure of Election.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Despite the pleas of the Legislative Voters' league and similar organizations, the voters of thirty senatorial districts in Illinois will have no chance to choose among Republican and Democratic nominees for state representatives at the November election.

In only twenty-one districts will there be more than three nominees. In the other thirty the men and women who win the nominations on April 3 will be considered as good as elected, as the danger of an independent making a successful race in November is considered negligible.

Same as in 1928.

This situation in the state as a whole is just what it was two years ago. In 1928 there also were thirty districts where the two parties nominated only three candidates to the district, assuring the primary winners of walkovers in the election.

The one difference between the two years is that in some Cook county districts the senatorial committee listened to the L. V. L. pleading and increased the number of nominees, insuring contests for the fall. There were four of Cook county five. But downstate these, making the total contests in there were five districts that two years ago had contests which this year will settle the election outcome at the primary.

In the Twelfth or Freeport district two years ago the Democrats put up two of their party against two Republicans, but won only one place. This year they put up only one. In the Forty-first, consisting of Will and Du Page counties, the Republicans tried to elect three members. The Democrats put up only one, Michael F. Hennebry, and he ran ahead of the highest Republican. So this year the Republicans put up only two.

Democrats Give Up Fight.

In the Forty-fifth or Springfield district the Democrats have given up the thought they had in 1928 of electing two members. And they have done the same in the Fifty-first, 'way down in Egypt.

Politicians thought it interesting that in the Rockford district, the Tenth, now represented exclusively by Republicans, the Democratic senatorial committee didn't even report that it would have one candidate.

The only November contest in Chicago two years ago was in the Second, a near west side district. There each side put up two and the Democrats won two of the three places. This year the Republicans put only one in the race. In the Seventh, or "outer belt" district, this year the Republicans have determined to try to elect three, their opponents putting up only one.

Contest On in Englewood.

In Englewood, the Eleventh district Democratic committee has gathered courage and will try to elect two instead of only one, as it did two years ago. In the Nineteenth the reverse is true. There the Republicans are running two this year against two Democrats. In the Twenty-fifth the Democrats now are out for two places instead of the one they hold. In the Thirty-first they are doing the same.

County Judge Jarecki and Chairman Maguire of the election board emphatically denied Deneen charges that the naming of the judges and clerks in the river wards had been turned over to members of the old Galpin-Crowe combine. They were made by Jacob Dinckinson Allen, executive director for the group, whose representative on the election board recently was replaced by Mrs. Mabel Gilmore Reinecke, a change made by Judge Jarecki over strong Deneen protests.

SEARCH FOR NEW CLEWS IN TORCH DEATH OF WOMAN

A new search for clews to the identity of the woman whose dismembered body was found in the ruins of a burned cottage at Deep Lake last Saturday will be started today by Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle of Lake county. Although the ashes of the fire which destroyed the cottage were raked over several times after the body was discovered, Sheriff Doolittle believes they may still contain a ring, teeth, or some other clew and he will have the debris sifted in search of any articles which may have escaped observation.

Three men, who appeared to be Italians, called at the Howard Holland funeral home in Waukegan last night and insisted on seeing the body. Two, who called at the morgue together, were turned away by Mrs. Holland but said they would return later. The third was also refused admittance but forced his way into the place after Mrs. Holland had gone upstairs. He said his name was Dorman and that he was a former member of the late Eddie Tancl's Cicero gang. He said a girl whom he knew had been missing with another girl since last Friday and suspected that the murder victim might be one of these two.

The suggestion that the body might have been that of Edna Pastrig of Milwaukee was made to the Lake county authorities yesterday by her brother-in-law, Rin Murakami, a Japanese chiropractor of Milwaukee. He told the sheriff that Miss Pastrig has been missing.

Delay Inquest in Slaying of Precinct Poll Worker

The inquest into the death of William Slaughter, colored precinct worker of the 42d ward who was found fatally wounded in the rear of 603 West Division street Tuesday night, will be resumed at the Chicago avenue station this afternoon. John Pampinella, 1125 Larrabee street, a rival worker, is being held. The inquest was opened yesterday, but was adjourned abruptly when conflicting testimony threatened to become bitter and disorderly.

CHANGE IN LAKE LEVELS CITED TO SUPREME COURT

Both Sides Plead Against Hughes Report.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Present high lake levels were cited before the Supreme Court of the United States today as furnishing a refutation of the contention that diversion of water at Chicago is causing widespread damage.

John W. Davis, appearing as counsel for the Chicago sanitary district, stressed the increase in the lake levels as part of an argument for a modification of the proposed final decree recommended by Charles E. Hughes, as special master in the water diversion case.

"The levels of the lake today are three feet and nine inches higher than when testimony was first taken before Mr. Hughes, and which was the basis of the opinion of the court, as handed down in January, 1929," said Mr. Davis. "The levels are so high as to be an embarrassment. The diversion of water at Chicago cannot possibly be doing any one any harm at present and for this reason more lenient terms should be provided for the completion of the sewage disposal plants."

Wisconsin Fights Relief.

Mr. Davis, former solicitor general, ambassador to Great Britain and Democratic Presidential nominee, entered the long pending case for the first time in presenting today's argument. He opened the hearing on objections of the opposing sides to the Hughes master's report. He was followed by Raymond T. Jackson, special counsel for the state of Wisconsin, who renewed the plea of the lake states that Chicago be required to discontinue entirely all diversion of water and to dump effluent from sewage disposal plants into the lake.

Tomorrow the arguments will be concluded, with James M. Beck, like Mr. Davis a former solicitor general, and E. D. Adcock appearing for the Chicago sanitary district. Mr. Jackson will conclude his argument for the lake states and will be followed by one or two of the other attorneys on that side of the case, among whom are former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker of Michigan, and Attorney General Gilbert Bettman of Ohio.

Justice Holmes Presides.

Chief Justice Hughes, because of the part he has played in the case as a special master, did not sit during the argument. Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who celebrated his 89th birthday on the day of former Chief Justice William Howard Taft's death, presided. Justice Holmes and other members of the court, including Justices Willis Van Devanter, George Sutherland, Pierce Butler, Harlan F. Stone, and Louis D. Brandeis, showed their interest by asking frequent questions. The court's decision of January, 1929, in which it was held that diversion of water beyond the amount needed for navigation purposes is illegal, was written by Mr. Taft.

Present high levels of the lakes formed one of three reasons presented by Mr. Davis why the program suggested in the Hughes report for completion of sewage disposal plants within a period of nine years should be relaxed somewhat. The other reasons were the possibility that any reduction in levels due to diversion can be offset by the construction of compensating works and the financial difficulties involved in carrying out the program.

Cites Chicago "Finances."

"The program calls for the expenditure of 176 millions or more," said Mr. Davis. "If we are able to issue and sell bonds as fast as the law will permit it will take twelve years.

"The present financial condition of the city of Chicago and its various governmental bodies is now a matter of notoriety throughout the United States. It is an example of what might transpire at any time during the progress of this program."

Mr. Davis placed particular emphasis upon a plea that the court should not attempt to determine the exact amount to which the diversion should be reduced as proposed in the Hughes report, but that this should be left to the discretion of the secretary of war.

In ridiculing contentions advanced by the lake states, Mr. Davis said that filtration plants and other works suggested by them would cost Chicago nearly a billion dollars.

"No such proposal has been made," said Mr. Davis, "since Shylock demanded his pound of flesh."

Mr. Jackson, on behalf of the lake states, construed the court's decision as meaning that no diversion whatever should be continued "for the alleged purpose of sanitation." He challenged the finding of Mr. Hughes that 1,500 cubic feet should be allowed for purposes of navigation in the port of Chicago.

Replying to a contention by Mr. Davis that inasmuch as 100 per cent purification of sewage cannot be provided the residue ought not to be dumped back into the lake, Mr. Jackson said that if the program for sewage disposal plants is not adequate additional practical measures should be provided.

"It is our position that there is no legal right to divert water without our consent," said Mr. Jackson. "We want the entire flow cut off on the completion of the sewage treatment program. It is practical to construct a second system of sanitary sewers. We do not think filtration plants are necessary and that chlorination of the water will be sufficient. We think it is possible to construct an intake at a remote point in the lake so as to avoid all contamination."

Carlstrom in Conference.

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, who is in the case on behalf of the state of Illinois, conferred during the day with President Hoover and Secretary of War Hurley relative to the Illinois waterway question. The report of the army engineers on the proposal for completion of the state project by the federal government has been held up in the office of the attorney general, where legal phases have been under consideration for more than a month. Mr. Carlstrom sought to speed up action on this report.

The Minnesota congressional delegation visited the White House to urge the President to support the proposal for an increase in the depth of the authorized channel in the upper Mississippi from six to nine feet. The President was credited with favoring the project, but wants it completed over a long period of years, as its cost is estimated at 100 million dollars.

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—The house pensions committee today reported the Knutson bill for immediate relief to 114,000 veterans of the Spanish-American war, the China relief expedition, and the Philippine insurrection, at a cost estimated at $11,712,440. The bill provides a higher rate of pensions.

Opposition to the house bill to restrict ocean mail contracts to shipping companies flying only American flags, was voiced before the senate commerce committee by Postmaster General Brown.

A bill extending for two years the time within which American claimants may apply for payments under the war claims act was signed by President Hoover.

Senator Heflin [Dem., Ala.] introduced a resolution calling upon the secretary of labor to take a census of aliens and immediately deport those illegally resident.

President Hoover signed a bill authorizing the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad company to construct a railroad across the Missouri river at Boonville, Mo.

Chief Justice Hughes announced that he would take over the Fourth circuit, formerly presided over by the late Chief Justice Taft. This circuit is composed of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Supreme court today announced that it would take a recess from March 17 to April 14.

Gold Nugget in Chicken Starts Hunt for Its Coop

Vancouver, Wash., March 12.—(AP)—The former habitat of a chicken which graced the dinner table of J. E. Argo was sought today after Mrs. Argo took a gold nugget, the size of a pea, from the fowl's craw. The chicken was purchased at a Vancouver store.

LOBBY QUIZZERS HECKLE HUSTON, BUT ALL IN VAIN

Questions of Committee Unimportant, He Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Jibes, jeers and studied insults hurled at him today by unfriendly members of the senate's coalition controlled lobby committee failed to shake any new Muscle Shoals scandal out of Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Huston frankly told the angry senators he knows nothing of the financial records of the Tennessee River Improvement association he formerly headed and reminded them that if they are sincerely anxious to get the facts they have the power to subpoena J. W. Worthington, the executive director of the organization. Worthington is supposed to be ill in the Ford hospital in Detroit, Mich., and Huston willingly admitted that, as reported to the committee, the only records in existence showing how approximately $500,000 was spent in the promotion of Muscle Shoals legislation, are Worthington's check book stubs and canceled checks.

Served as President.

Huston was treasurer of the Tennessee River association for two years until 1915, when he became its president, an office he retained until his election to the Republican national committee chairmanship.

"Did it ever occur to you," snapped Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.], "that, for the sake of your own reputation, you ought to keep records."

"I have never had reason to be embarrassed in such a matter," Huston retorted.

"Never?" asked Caraway, sarcastically. "Well, you and Will Taylor [Republican member of the house from Tennessee] were before the senate judiciary committee in connection with the expenses of the Republican delegation to the Cleveland convention. It was charged you collected the money for the trip and that the delegates had to pay their own expenses."

"I have never been embarrassed," answered Huston calmly.

"Well, it would embarrass most honest people," snarled Caraway. "You are a peculiar person."

Questioned About Stubs.

Reverting to the check book stub and canceled check system of records, Caraway demanded to know if Huston would countenance such a system in any of his own enterprises. Huston replied that his business is different and that the system used appeared to be satisfactory to the contributors who financed the Tennessee River association.

"And yet," said Caraway sarcastically, "you were rated as a business expert and it was reported that you were going to put business methods in the Republican national committee."

"What is your business?" asked Caraway.

"I am a manufacturer," said Huston.

"Yes, a manufacturer of propaganda," said Caraway.

"Not yet, senator," said Huston.

"May Learn," He Retorts.

"I may learn that from my Democrat friends," retorted Huston.

Huston disclosed that the Union Carbide company had contributed a total of $30,000 to the Tennessee River association and Huston himself acknowledged giving at least $50,000. The rest of the organization's funds were subscribed, Huston asserted, by Tennessee river valley organizations.

Only once during the cross examination, which will be resumed tomorrow morning, did Huston appear to be losing his temper, and then when Senator J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.] sought to make him admit that his resignation from the national committee chairmanship, as a result of his past connection with the Muscle Shoals lobby, was discussed at the White House.

"Well, you did discuss this committee's exposures with the President, didn't you?" insisted Blaine for the third or fourth time.

"Senator," replied Huston with a trace of anger in his voice, "I don't regard much that transpires before this committee as important. Most of it is unimportant."

"What!" shouted Caraway. "You don't regard your connection with the Tennessee River Improvement association as embarrassing?"

Never Embarrassed.

"No," answered Huston; "I do not regard any activity in connection with that association embarrassing to me now or in the future."

Both Caraway and Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.] complained that Huston had told them nothing the committee has not already heard from the stenographers and clerks found in the Tennessee River association's offices, and asked what he had in mind when he asked for an opportunity to appear before the committee.

"You said in a public statement that we had bandied your name around," said Caraway. "What was it you wanted to tell us?"

"I wanted to tell the committee what the association was doing and file a statement——"

"You wanted to give us what we had already. The thing we wanted to know you have concealed."

"I have concealed nothing," declared Huston, emphatically.

SMOKING IN PUBLIC BY SCHOOL TEACHERS HALTED IN QUINCY

Quincy, Ill., March 12.—[Special.]—The Quincy board of education has voted to support John H. Steiner, superintendent of schools, in his disapproval of women instructors who smoke in public.

"No dictum forbidding the practice has been issued," Mr. Steiner said in commenting on the action. "If women teachers smoke in the privacy of their homes we won't know it and it will be no concern of ours. But smoking publicly should be disapproved."

PIG IRON TARIFF 75 CTS. PER TON; GRUNDY LOSES

Senate, However, Boosts Window Glass Rates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Senator Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.] met defeat today in an effort to boost the duty on pig iron. The senate, by a vote of 31 to 42, rejected an amendment offered by him to increase the rate to $1.40 per ton. As a result of the action the rate in the senate bill remains 75 cents per ton, which was the duty in the 1922 act before it was increased to $1.12½ by presidential proclamation.

Protection "Not Adequate."

Senator Grundy, in advocating his amendment, insisted that the 75 cent duty would not provide adequate protection for merchant furnaces which produce it. It was the first time that the Pennsylvania senator and former lobbyist has led a fight for adoption of a tariff amendment. Eighteen Republicans voted against his amendment, while only three Democrats favored it.

While the coalition held its lines together in opposition to a higher duty on pig iron, it met defeat in two roll calls on plate and window glass. In both cases the senate restored present duties fixed by presidential proclamation and continued in the house bill, reversing previous actions in reducing the rates to those of the 1922 act.

Curtis' Vote Breaks Tie.

In the case of the duty on plate glass, Vice President Curtis broke a tie, voting for the higher rate. The vote was 36 to 36 before he voted. His vote enabled proponents of the higher duty to win, 37 to 36.

The vote in favor of higher rates on window glass was 50 to 35.

The senate concurred in committee of the whole amendments reducing duties on aluminum and aluminum goods. Senator Grundy had intended to press amendments for restoration of higher rates, but failed to do so after meeting defeat on pig iron.

In a night session the senate overturned the committee of the whole action placing maple, birch and beech on the free list and voted to fix a rate of 8 per cent ad valorem on those products.

An agreement was reached to vote tomorrow on a reconsideration of the recent action increasing the duty on sugar. Senator Nye [Rep., N. D.] called up the matter and there was some discussion, during which Senator Blaine [Rep., Wis.] suggested that the lobby committee should investigate activities of Heber Grant, head of the Mormon church, in behalf of a higher duty on sugar.

Berlin Woman Forms Party to Win Equality for Sex

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 12.—Katharina von Kardorf-Cheimb, wife of the vice president of the reichstag and herself former member of the reichstag, has launched a "Woman's party" to unite women to fight for real enforcement of the equality rights which were promised in the Weimar constitution. The new association is "strictly republican." It will allow men to join, but will not give them voting power.

South Bend Banker Fined on Slot Machine Charge

Joseph V. Wypiszynski, former justice of the peace in South Bend, Ind., and well known in banking circles there, yesterday pleaded guilty to operating slot machines before Special Judge W. A. Slick and was fined $750. The indictment charged Wypiszynski with operating about thirty machines in drug stores, cigar stores, and grocery stores, from which he was alleged to have taken about $18,000 in profits. Wypiszynski, a Democrat, served a two year term as justice of the peace about five years ago. He has been a director in several foreign banks in South Bend.

Gets the 3 Best Things in Life

When all a girl needs is a clear, smooth skin, plenty of energy and a stomach which does not deprive her of the cake, candy and good food she wants, just keep down the excessive stomach acids, like pretty Lillian Utley, 921 Eastwood Ave., Chicago, does.

"I got the surprise of my life when I started taking Acidine," says Miss Utley. "Whenever I ate anything rich my stomach got so acid I'd have headaches and get sick. That's all over now. Acidine sweetens my stomach so easily I never have to worry. It tastes fine. I like it."

Sick, sour stomach, burning sensation in the throat, excessive thirst, skin rash, come from too much acid when the stomach doesn't digest the starchy food and sweets you eat. Get a package of Acidine at any drug store and see how quick, pleasant and inexpensive it is.

HOLDING FIRMS DEFENDED AS AN AID TO ECONOMY

American Gas President Heard by Commission.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—Efficiency and economy have been promoted, it was contended today before the federal trade commission, by the relationships of the Electric Bond and Share company and its subsidiaries.

George N. Tidd, president of the American Gas and Electric company, a subsidiary of the Electric Bond and Share company, testifying before the commission, asserted that, while his company could probably obtain credit and security without the assistance of the parent company, it could not be obtained as cheaply. In addition, the Electric Bond and Share company, he pointed out, has standardized the purchase of materials and supplies for subsidiary companies.

Stocks Are Reduced.

As a result of the latter plan, Mr. Tidd declared, considerable savings are effected by the reduction of the number and quantity of materials on hand in the stockrooms of the various subsidiaries and exchanges. Machinery exchanges particularly are maintained, he said, through which use is made of otherwise idle equipment.

Mr. Tidd denied that preference is given to the General Electric company in the purchase of materials, and asserted that quality and price are the controlling consideration in dealings with a large number of manufacturing concerns, including, in addition to the General Electric company, the Westinghouse Electric company, the Allis-Chalmers company, and others.

The American Gas and Electric company is the first of many holding companies to be investigated by the commission in the so-called interlocking or financial relationship phase of the public utility probe directed by a senate resolution. Frank B. Ball, vice president of the American Gas and Electric company, and Harold M. Sawyer, another vice president of the same company, were brief witnesses today, testifying as to their company's acquisition of properties and its interests in concerns not related to the public utility business.

Rises to Presidency.

In reply to questions by Robtrt E. Healy, chief counsel for the commission, Mr. Tidd told how he rose to the presidency of the American Gas and Electric company from the post of assistant to the general manager, H. D. Hartman. The company, Mr. Tidd testified, was organized in 1907 when it acquired the stock of the old Electric Company of America.

Mr. Tidd readily disclosed the fact that Sidney Mitchell, chairman of the Electric Bond and Share company, is also chairman of the American Gas and Electric company, and that Mitchell's son, S. A. Mitchell, is a member of the latter company's directorate, as well as an officer of the New York financial house of Bonbright & Co. Young Mitchell, Tidd asserted, has not interested himself in the purchase of properties, extensions, or operations, but has confined himself to financing the American Gas and Electric company, and is credited, Mr. Tidd continued, with having contributed "more to the successful development of the American Gas and Electric system than any other factor."

Bill for Regulation.

While the commission hearing was under way today Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] introduced in the senate a bill providing for strict government regulation of companies producing, transmitting, or distributing power in interstate commerce. Under the measure steam and water power production, in addition to electric power, would be under supervision of the federal power commission.

This is the first proposed legislation in congress providing for federal control over power companies, similiar to that exercised over railways by the interstate commerce commission.

Duce Calls on U. S. Envoy and Breaks a Record

ROME, March 12.—(AP)—A visit of Premier Mussolini to the home of United States Ambassador Garrett has just come to light. It is the first such call the premier has made in several years. Accompanied only by Undersecretary Giunta, he went to Ambassador Garrett's home in Rospigliosi palace, and, speaking in English, discussed a wide range of subjects with him. They varied from housekeeping in Rome to political trends in the United States.

Why March Is Most Dangerous

March is the most dangerous month of the year because the change of season is more than a good many systems can stand. Too often it is true that the sick "last only till spring." But if the system is fortified, if the impurities are driven from the blood, and the nerve tissues fed with wholesome and strength-giving pure food medicine, there is no danger in the change of seasons.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

is invaluable as a tonic in the spring. It strengthens the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—builds up the body. It is this power that has made it so successful in treating colds and throat troubles. No weakening stimulants, morphine or other dangerous drugs.

SPURNS TITLE

CARL J. CRANTZ.

To Carl J. Crantz Jr. the title "count" is just another word. Carl interrupted his classes yesterday at Senn High school, where he is a junior, to explain that his father is next in line of succession to the estate and title of the late Count Gustav Adolphus Wessiolm of Sweden. But the boy thought it "silly" for an American to think of giving up citizenship to go back and claim the title. Carl's home is at 1065 Hollywood court, and he was irked because his classmates were greeting him with "Hello, count." The elder Crants refused to comment.

CHICAGO-DIXIE AIR MAIL WILL FLY AT NIGHT

The Chicago-Atlanta air mail service will be changed from day to night flying on April 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by the postoffice department at Washington. The new schedule will speed up the mail service between Chicago and Miami and other southeastern points. Planes will leave Chicago at 9:30 p. m. and arrive at Atlanta at 5:10 a. m. They will leave Atlanta at midnight, arriving in Chicago at 7:35. The new schedule was made possible by the lighting of the airway, which is practically completed.

PROGRESS SLOW IN SEARCH FOR THILO CASE JURY

CRIMINAL COURT.

Lee Edison, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge John P. McGoorty.

William F. Krell, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the bridewell by Judge Phillip Finnegan.

George Sherling, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Walter Steffen.

William Grant, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

The long delayed trial of three youths charged with the murder of Dr. George W. Thilo was proceeding slowly yesterday because the state is looking for a jury which will inflict the death penalty. Four jurors were sworn in on the first day of the trial, but two of them had to be excused at the opening of court yesterday. When court adjourned last night the only progress in the trial was the selection of two men to take the places of the disqualified jurors.

The defendants, Allan Goldstein, Lawrence Ogden, and Raymond Scott, are now serving terms in Pontiac reformatory for robbery. They nearly evaded the murder charge through a supposedly lost mittimus, which ordered them held for grand jury action by a coroner's jury. The mittimus never reached the grand jury room.

The widow of Dr. Thilo, who discovered the fact that the mittimus had disappeared, is attending every session of the trial.

GUARD AGAINST WASTE

The Taxpayers' trust, having gathered the money to operate the city and county governments until taxes can be collected, will keep a watchful eye on the disbursement of the funds and will see that they are not spent wastefully. This was the message given to the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday by Philip R. Clarke, president of the Central Trust company and director of the rescue campaign, which raised $74,000,000 in eleven days.

Each of the four governments—the city, county, schools and sanitary district—which are selling their tax anticipation warrants to the taxpayers' trust and thus obtaining operating cash, will be required to present their pay rolls to the directors of the trust every 30 days and the rolls will be carefully scrutinized before the money is made available, Mr. Clarke said. He spoke at the association's weekly luncheon at the Hotel La Salle, describing how his rescue organization had conducted the $74,000,000 relief campaign.

Traces Financial Troubles.

Mr. Clarke began by explaining the financial difficulties of the governments which came to a crisis the first of January and left important public services with no working capital. He sketched the inequalities of previous tax valuations and spoke of the invalid assessment of 1927. "Petty politicians fixing taxes" was the basis for Chicago's financial plight, he said.

"The morale of the local governments showed signs of breaking down," Mr. Clarke went on, and then he told how he had been enlisted in the relief campaign by the citizens' rescue committee, headed by Silas Strawn.

"Mr. Strawn called me on the telephone on Feb. 20," Clarke said, "and when I hung up the receiver I found myself chairman of a committee out to collect a $74,000,000 jackpot. We worked all that night on our organization. We arranged the industries into groups and appointed a business man to solicit each group. We had subscription blanks printed hurriedly, and the next morning we were ready to start."

$74,000,000 in Eleven Days.

Eleven days later the campaigners had obtained 939 subscriptions totaling more than the $74,000,000 sought.

Mr. Clarke paid tribute to his solicitors, naming among them Britton I. Budd, Walter Gregory, Hathaway Watson, Ezra Warner, Samuel Steele, and Ben McCutcheon.

The Taxpayers' trust is "deeply sympathetic with the city's creditors, but we can't go much farther with our money than to take care of pay rolls and bond issues," Mr. Clarke said in conclusion. "There is nothing more important right now than the completion of the work of the board of review. It is certainly important that the board complete its work."

ASSESSORS DISMISS 7 MORE EMPLOYES FOR ECONOMY SAKE

The board of assessors yesterday dropped seven employés from its regular roll of 102, and at the same time announced a number of transfers in the interests of increased efficiency. The cut is expected to save the county $20,100 a year. The pruning was demanded by the Strawn citizens' committee, and the eliminations were made upon the recommendation of Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment. Last Saturday the board cut 144 employés from the reassessment staff of 253.

PROSECUTORS EYE WARD RECORDS IN CITY PAY INQUIRY

The original time sheets and pay roll records from the city department of public works for the first eight wards were examined yesterday at the state's attorney's office. The prosecutors are seeking evidence of pay roll padding in the department presided over by Commissioner Richard W. Wolfe.

The department's pay roll in the 1st ward for the last half of December showed that $127,671 was expended for truck hire and labor. This, however, included the bill for cleaning the loop streets after a severe snowstorm.

The original records were demanded because the prosecutors said they wanted to make sure there were no erasures. After being examined for alterations the records were photographed and were then returned to the city hall.

Wolfe Ordered to Repair Cavein on La Salle St.

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe was instructed by the city council yesterday to repair the street cavein on La Salle street near Wacker drive, which has resulted in the barricading of a section of La Salle street. The order was introduced by Ald. John J. Coughlin [1st]. The pavement settled, according to Ald. Coughlin, as a result of the cave-in of an old pedestrian tunnel which had never been filled in. Coughlin said the tunnel contains an old street car which was abandoned there.

FAHERTY HOME; WANTS SUBWAY WORK STARTED

$670,000 Is Needed for Plans, He Declares.

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, returned to Chicago last night, ready to renew his efforts to start work on subways. Mr. Flaherty has been in Florida for three months, recovering from an illness which began shortly after the death of Mrs. Faherty.

Anti-administration aldermen have insisted that Faherty's connection with subway digging is a handicap to the project. But Faherty said last night that he is anxious to do anything to obtain a subway and will go along with any program that the council and mayor adopt.

"They can give me the job of preparing the plans and specifications for a subway in State street or do the work themselves," said Mr. Faherty. "All I want is specifications down to the last nut and bolt on which a contract can be awarded. Then the digging can start."

Will Hold Conferences.

The first step in the subway program, Faherty said last night, is to confer with Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee, and Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the local transportation committee.

"It will take seventy-five men from six to seven months to draw the plans and specifications on which a contract can be awarded," said Faherty. "When you figure that length of time just for drawings, one can see the necessity of a quick start if the job is to be finished before the World's Fair."

Sets Cost at $670,000.

"The $30,000 recently appropriated for the plans will produce little progress. It will cost in the neighborhood of $670,000 for the complete specifications, and I am not talking idly. I have had the benefit of the advice of the best subway engineering brains in this country and Europe."

In 1928 the council voted $670,000 to Faherty from the street car fund to draft subway plans, but the appropriation was held up by Charles C. Fitzmorris, then city controller, on the ground that a referendum was necessary. At a later time the council refused to consider reappropriating the same amount.

FRANCHISE DEAL CUTS OUT FREE TELEPHONES FOR THE CITY HALL

Free telephone service for the city hall and the $24,000 a year upkeep of the city's telephone complaint bureau were eliminated yesterday from the compensation provisions of the proposed franchise ordinance of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. The city's telephone bill is estimated to cost the company between $180,000 and $200,000 yearly. For the first five years of the proposed ordinance the city will receive a 50 per cent discount, a 25 per cent discount for the next ten years, and will pay the full rate for the remaining eight years of the franchise.

The agreement was reached yesterday by Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th], chairman of a council subcommittee, and attorneys for the telephone company.

In place of the eliminated compensation features the police and fire departments will be allowed to make a certain number of free calls and the company will pay 3 per cent of its gross revenues quarterly instead of semi-annually, as under the old franchise, which expired a year ago, Ald. Cronson said. The latter provision, he asserted, is worth $30,000 a year to the city in interest.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

GERMANY CLEARS WAY TO PAY UP WARTIME DEBTS

Final Action on Young Plan Up to Hindenburg.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 12.—Germany today definitely accepted the Young reparations plan which provides for final liquidation of its war debts, when the reichstag ordered its final adoption on third reading by a vote of 265 to 192, or a majority of 73. The pact for settlement of disputes with Poland was approved by a majority of only 19 votes, while the German-American agreement was passed by a rising vote.

President Von Hindenburg is ready to attach his signature to the Young plan, but circles close to the president assert he considers the Polish treaty vote insufficient and that he has expressed his intention of refusing to ratify it.

Endangers Young Plan.

The president's alleged refusal to sign the Polish pact endangers the entire Young plan, as London and Paris have announced they will not ratify the plan unless the Germans patch up a definite agreement with Poland.

A hurry call was issued to the cabinet late tonight to do everything possible to induce President von Hindenburg to ratify the Polish agreement, as well as the Young plan.

Chancellor Hermann Mueller in his final address to the reichstag before the vote admitted "the government never denied that the Young plan and The Hague agreement failed to come up to Germany's expectations, but the government is convinced the new reparations agreement is an improvement over the present uncertainty and instability."

Hails Return to Sovereignty.

Chancellor Mueller hailed the expected liberation of the Rhineland, its recovery of sovereignty and control of finances, railroads and taxes.

"We no longer will depend on decisions of the uncontrolled and uncontrollable office in the hands of foreigners as was the case under the Dawes plan," he said in taking a dig at the American agent-general of reparations, Seymour Parker Gilbert. It is well known that the relations between Mr. Gilbert and the German government have been strained for the last two years.

Government parties, in a resolution pledged themselves to help the government keep its promise to its partners in the Young plan and to "submit all differences" which might arise to arbitration."

TRIAL STARTS

3 WOMEN, NEGRO CHOSEN ON JURY IN DOHENY CASE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—[Special.]—Three women and a colored garage man are included in the district Supreme court jury chosen in record time today to try Edward L. Doheny, multimillionaire oil man, on a bribery indictment charging he gave Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, $100,000 for a lease on the navy's Elk Hills, Cal., oil reserves. Fall, convicted of accepting the bribe, is at liberty on bond pending the outcome of an appeal.

Following the practice adopted in every oil scandal case since the Sinclair jury tampering episode two years ago, Justice William Hitz ordered the jury locked up for the duration of the trial, which, it was indicated, may require three weeks or more. Owen J. Roberts, chief of special government counsel in oil litigation, and Frank J. Hogan, counsel for the oil man, will submit their version of the Doheny-Fall transaction to the jury tomorrow morning, and the first witness, probably a state department attaché to identify records, will take the stand before noon.

Doheny will take the stand in his own defense and insist that the $100,000 advanced to Fall was in reality a loan from one lifelong friend to another and Mrs. Doheny will testify that the mutilated note which will be submitted to the jury as evidence of the innocence of the transaction was torn to prevent the executors of their estates from pressing Fall for payment in the event of the sudden death of the Dohenys.

ARGENTINA GETS SHOCK AS 8 HOUR DAY IS MADE LAW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, March 12.—Argentine employers and workers learned through the papers today that the eight hour day had automatically become law. This act was passed in August, 1929, but its coming into effect caused surprise, as the law had been tacitly consigned to oblivion after its passage. The government also had failed to issue regulations under which the law was to be enforced.

Railroad workers all over the country laid down their tools from 3 to 4 p. m. today as a protest against the road owners refusing to consider their demands for a minimum wage for all categories of workers. This and other demands would entail an additional outlay of $6,500,000 yearly.

The railroad men intend repeating this stirke every day until their demands are conceded. In view of the big slump in traffic receipts throughout the country there is little likelihood of the companies granting their demands.

U. S. AND BRITAIN ASSUME ROLE AS NAVAL DICTATORS

Ready to Sign Treaty Regardless of Others.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The Anglo-American entente which was sealed on the banks of the Rapidan river by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald last October, emerged today as the dictator of the destiny of the London naval conference.

Great Britain and America are going to write the treaty that is to come out of this conference. If France dislikes the terms, she can stay outside. If Italy, too, demurs, they are going to make it a three power treaty; and if Japan balks, John Bull and Uncle Sam are prepared to sign the pact alone.

Refuses to Guarantee Peace.

This was disclosed today as the significance of the action of the American delegation yesterday in throwing overboard the French demand for a consultative pact or a political security guarantee. This step was taken by Secretary of State Stimson because the British and American governments have decided that it is too stiff a price to pay for the signature of France on this treaty. Both governments have resolved not to commit the American and British peoples to underwriting the peace of Europe.

The principal factor in the decision of the two governments, it transpires, was the attitude of Prime Minister MacDonald. Only two weeks ago, Mr. Stimson and the other American delegates, reflecting the viewpoint of the Hoover administration, were in favor of hooking up with the naval limitation treaty a consultative pact, by which the powers could meet and consult in the event of a breach or a threatened breach of the Kellogg war renunciation pact.

MacDonald Vetoes Proposition.

Mr. MacDonald vetoed the proposition in consequence of the same considerations which are causing Great Britain to veer away from the old entente with France, and to seek such a rapprochment with America as materialized from the Rapidan agreement —"a moral understanding" between the English speaking peoples, as Mr. Stimson termed it.

Great Britain is not only displaying a pronounced isolationist trend, but is yielding to the centrifugal pull away from continental Europe which has been exerted by the British dominions. Mr. MacDonald having doomed the consultative pact, Mr. Stimson, who found many reasons in its favor less than a fortnight ago, began to find just as many reasons against it.

Stimson Is Executioner.

Moreover, Mr. Stimson consented to be the public executioner for the consultative pact, this being deemed the logical rôle for the chief representative of a country traditionally opposed to entangling alliances. Thus, the Anglo-American entente functioned perfectly in its first working tryout, with no greater damage than compelling Mr. Stimson to reverse himself within a fortnight on the virtues of a consultative pact.

And Mr. MacDonald, who was pulling the strings, was able to conceal his part in the proceeding. France suspects this, but is not able to prove anything. On the face of it, America has kicked over the consultative pact, and Mr. MacDonald is compelled to the inevitable, more, of course, in sorrow than in anger.

Britain Runs Partnership.

In this episode there is something the French perceive as evidence that in the Anglo-American partnership the senior partner is going to dominate the firm. There is nothing new in this, however. The domination of the senior partner was disclosed by the agreement which was consummated on the Rapidan river and amplified at London, in which the Hoover administration made concessions on battleships and cruisers that Great Britain had been maneuvering for ever since the Geneva conference.

Since the rejection, by the Anglo-American entente, of the French security demands, the London naval conference boils down to the question of whether the French are going to come in or stay out of the navy limitation treaty. Premier Tardieu and Foreign Minister Briand now know that they are up against that understanding between the English speaking peoples that they suspected was in the making when Mr. MacDonald set out for America.

PREMIER OF FRANCE DOWNS DEPUTY FOES IN ALL NIGHT FIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 13 [Thursday].—After a terrific struggle, the Tardieu government this morning came safely through its first real baptism under fire in the chamber of deputies with a majority of 67, more than the majority on his ministerial declaration last Wednesday.

Thus the danger of a new ministerial debacle in France is past for the time being, and Premier Tardieu will be able to get over to London without fear of being knifed in his absence.

He won his fight after he had been put into the minority by six votes once during an all night debate, and after he dared the disgruntled left to come and drag him down. They tried to do it with the motion of Vincent Auriol of lopping seven ministers and under secretaries from his cabinet by setting the limit at 25. Tardieu's collaborators add up to 32, a record. When the smoke of battle cleared, the Auriol motion was scotched.

ITALIAN WAR CHIEF DEFENDS BUDGET BOOST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 12.—War Minister Pietro Gozzero today explained why the budget of $143,850,000, an increase of $7,600,000 over last year, was necessary before the corporative chamber.

Sig. Gozzero said it was impossible to reduce expenditures without compromising Italy's security. His speech amplified his parliamentary report of last week, when special attention was called to the French and Jugo-Slavian war budgets, as well as the heavy fortifications France is erecting in the maritime Alps near Nice.

The war chief declared peace talks hid the formidable armaments of other countries, but that all of Italy's expenses were shown clearly in the budget. Pensions, included in Italy's budget, but not in war budgets of other countries, he said, total $13,556,000, plus $3,400,000 for royal carabineers, acting as police. He dashed hopes of reducing the period of military service below 18 months. There will be no reductions, either, in the size of the army of 260,000 men.

BYRD PLANNING NEW STUNT; WILL BE A "SENSATION"

DUNEDIN, N. Z., March 12.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who has flown over both the north and south poles and driven a plane across the Atlantic, is planning another sensational feat. "If I were to say what I am going to do next," he said today, "my remarks would cause a sensation." The explorer, whose hair has become gray within the last 14 months, smilingly declined to say whether he contemplated a return to the antarctic.

Pointing out that the American claim lay in the antarctic, entirely outside the Ross dependency, a British settlement, Byrd said there was nothing in the situation likely to cause controversy. When it was pointed out that there still were vast unexplored territories beyond the great barrier of the antarctic, particularly between the Bay of Whales and Deception island, Byrd turned to the immediate plans of his present expedition.

BRIAND BOLTS NAVAL PARLEY IN STORMY SCENE

four or five years, during which the negotiations of the chief sea powers will continue.

"Some of the work accomplished here will be extremely useful to the league of nations preparatory disarmament commission next season," he said.

In conclusion, M. Briand said:

"I am returning to Paris, probably at the end of the week, when Premier Tardieu comes to London. My work is done. My particular job was handling the political aspect of the negotiations. Now matters rest entirely in the hands of the technicians, and I am not much at figures. I don't see why I should come back, but perhaps I will. That depends upon the developments."

The Japanese delegation tonight indicated that the absence of France from further negotiations, which automatically disposes of Italy also, will prevent Japan from proceeding in detail toward any extensive reduction of armaments, because her strength is contingent upon the naval forces of the European powers.

If Tokio persists in this attitude it dooms any three power pact, and since Mr. MacDonald has always insisted that the French strength dictates Great Britain's requirements, it is difficult to envisage how President Hoover can obtain any naval reduction agreement here.

M. P.'S DEMAND ACTION

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—One hundred Laborite members of parliament today signed a memorial to the naval conference, urging it to get on with the work and suggesting a real naval reduction. The memorial expresses regret that the British thesis for abolition of battleships has not been pressed and urges a cruiser reduction below the British maximum of 50 and a drastic reduction of submarines and destroyers. It also urges that battleships be scrapped down within 18 months to the level of 10-10-6 for Great Britain, the United States and Japan rather than 15-15-9, as now contemplated.

"There will be grave danger to the future peace of the world if this conference fails to effect reduction and limitation, and we feel that the time has come for a bold statement of policy," the memorial says.

In parliament this afternoon, the tory members began heckling Prime Minister MacDonald about the progress of the conference. Admiral Beamish, the fire eating retired sailor, wanted to know the total tonnage canceled by the powers represented at the conference since June, 1928.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, replied that Great Britain had canceled 66,000 tons, but no one else had canceled anything.

"Does this not show the utter futility of making gestures to other powers, who take not the slightest notice?" Admiral Beamish replied.

He also demanded that Mr. MacDonald make a statement to parliament on the progress of the conference. Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden, who answered in the absence of Mr. MacDonald, refused. Admiral Beamish then demanded that he convey to Mr. MacDonald the opinion that no agreement is better than a partial one between oceanic powers.

The conference today got down to the hard work of figures. The work was concerned almost entirely with consideration by Mr. Alexander and French Minister of Marine Dumesnil, with American Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow as an observer and helper, of the figures which France wants written into the category table already agreed upon. Not the smallest task was translating into common language the various methods of calculating tonnages and describing ships of the three countries.

This work was begun by the naval experts last night and after a late sitting they adjourned until this morning, when they met again. They sat until lunch time and after lunch a meeting consisting of Prime Minister MacDonald, Foreign Secretary Henderson and Mr. Alexander for Great Britain; Foreign Minister Briand and M. Dumesnil for France, and Secretary of State Stimson, Senator Joseph T. Robinson and Ambassador Morrow for America, was held to hear what the naval experts had arrived at.

They took up a detail examination of the tables as collated and simplified by the experts and listened to explanations by technical men. After a couple of hours' discussion they adjourned until tomorrow afternoon.

1930 Budget Estimated at Four Billions.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12. — The dismal prospect of digging down into his pocket for between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 more than last year faces the British taxpayer with the completion of estimates for the budget which Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden will present to the house of commons April 14.

The forecasted total of the 1930 budget as it now stands is in the neighborhood of four billion dollars, a formidable sum which Mr. Snowden is obliged either to pare down or be faced with the alternative of imposing new taxes on industry, which is already groaning under its burden.

Army and Navy Budget Cut.

The main increases in the new budget go to civil departments, which represent an augmentation of nearly $100,000,000. On the other hand, all the military departments register decreases, except the air force, which demands an increase of $8,000,000. The navy's estimate is $28,000,000 less than 1929, while the army has pared $1,000,000 off its needs.

The approximate magnitude of the new budget became known today when the estimates were completed by the army's figures. Coming the day after the Labor government's first defeat in parliament and on the day before the Conservatives are scheduled to ask a vote of censure against Mr. Snowden, the publication of the probable figures of the budget hardly boosted the government's stock.

Protection Duties to Expire.

The chancellor of the exchequer's position is particularly difficult because the pessimistic budget estimates are coupled with a general uneasiness concerning his intentions in regard to the McKenna duties. These duties, which are protecting English industry, automatically expire in the spring and although Mr. Snowden avowed that he was an enemy of the McKenna duties before the elections, he has steadfastly refused to tell the country what he intends to do about them.

If the duties are dropped, England will lose an annual revenue of $11,000,000, while home industry, which is already in a bad way, will suffer another heavy blow.

British super-tax payers declined by 1,450 last year, according to the inland revenue return, issued tonight. Statistics show that 95,592 persons had incomes of $10,000 and over, compared with 97,248 during the previous twelve months. Incomes liable to supertax fell from a total of $2,743,500,000 to $2,656,500,000 which reflected the decline in supertax yield from $276,500,000 to $261,320,000. Income taxes were paid by 2,200,000.

GUARD HOME OF MERCHANT AFTER BOMB IS FOUND

The police last night were guarding the home of Frank La Placa, 761 South Kenneth avenue, against a threatened bomb attack after La Placa had reported that he had found a bomb at his rear door last week and had received several threats of a second attack. The bomb, which Lieut. George Barker of the bomb squad said was the largest he had ever seen, failed to explode because of a faulty fuse.

La Placa turned the bomb over to the police and on Sunday he received a telephone call saying that he and his wife and three children would be blown up unless he delivered $3,000. When he received another letter at the office of his wood and coal business at 740 South Clark street on Monday, warning him that a dynamite bomb would be placed at his home next time, the police placed a guard around his home.

Michigan Senator Urges Action on Contempt Bill

Washington, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—Describing as an "outrage" the case in Cleveland last fall in which two drivers were sentenced for contempt, Senator Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] today urged early action on his bill to require a judge other than the one who brought the contempt charge to sit in passing on charges of this character.

Lift the Ugly Veil of Blemishes from your skin

RADIANT complexion beauty lies just beneath the surface. But millions of men and women suffering from constipation have a sallow, dull, pimply complexion—marred with boils, blotches, etc. What a difference a few days' proper care will make!

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will often work wonders with such people. They help to remove the cause: a septic condition of the blood resulting from intestinal stasis. Doctors and nurses know this condition. They call such cases Septics.

Victims frequently do not realize their condition. It comes on so gradually. No one will tell them of the body odor and fetid breath. The mirror will tell the story: Skin blemishes are Nature's danger signals.

Try This Week-end Test

Get a 60c package of Stuart's Calcium Wafers from any druggist—and follow directions for a few days. What a difference! Eyes bright! Complexion clear—and with radiant nature-tint! Skin healthy, soft, and silken! Let one week-end open this easy way to skin beauty for you.

BRITISH TRADE SHOWS ADVERSE BALANCE OF OVER $36,000,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The British board of trade figures, released today, disclose the fact that Britain's exports for February were the lowest of any month since December, 1926, with one exception. The February exports were $30,600,000 less than January, 1930, and $3,500,000 less than those of February, 1929, while the month shows an unfavorable trade balance of more than $36,000,000.

Compared with the figures of February, 1929, the importation of nearly every manufactured article shows an increase of $100,000, while a parallel decrease is noted in the export division. In the case of cotton yarns manufactures there is an increase of $500,000 of imports over January and a decrease of $10,000,000 in exports.

The statistics show that the vast majority of food consumed in Great Britain during the month of February was imported; for example, in grain and flour $25,000,000 was imported and only $1,750,000 was exported.

FIVE INDICTED FOR KIDNAPING INSURANCE MAN

Five alleged kidnapers who were arrested last Saturday night when they attempted to collect $1,000 to complete a $5,000 ransom for Theodore F. Kopelman, insurance broker, will be held without bail until they are tried for the crime. Kidnaping for ransom is punishable by death in Illinois. The grand jury yesterday in making the formal return of the indictment for kidnaping for ransom recommended that no ball be permitted.

Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks, who recently obtained the conviction of some bombers, was assigned to the prosecution at the request of the Association of Commerce. Prosecutor Charles J. Mueller will be associated with Brooks.

The defendants, Seymour Pellar, Sam Gold, Irving Sandler, Charles [Chick] Hadesman and Norman Resnick, will be arraigned tomorrow before Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle. The prosecutors will demand trial at the expiration of the thirty day period allowed defendants. No delay will be tolerated, they said, because of the fear of an attempt to intimidate the witnesses. A second indictment for conspiracy to kidnap, in which Mrs. Gertrude Thoren is a defendant, is expected to be returned today.

Sergt. Drury, "Watchdog of Loop," Weds Miss Poloms

Sergt. William Drury of the detective bureau, known as the "watchdog of the loop," and Miss Anabel Poloms, 656 Cornelia avenue, were married yesterday afternoon by Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court in his chambers in the city hall. Sergt. John Howe, Drury's companion, acted as best man. Drury is 28 years old and lives at 1842 Addison boulevard. Mrs. Drury is 26 year old.

GUNMEN TAKE DRIVER'S CAB.

Two gunmen yesterday robbed Samuel Warren, 4416 Magnolia avenue, a taxicab driver, of $7 and his cab in front of 2831 South Sawyer avenue, after they had ordered him to drive there from State and Lake streets.

Prize Winner

"William suffered from constipation," says Mrs. W. I. McClure, 7732 Cregier Ave., Chicago. "He was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest his food.

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated his bowels quickly; improved his appetite and digestion. He has improved right along until friends say he's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, headachy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps! When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

When you go to bed dog-tired and still can't sleep and you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, it's a sign you're "acid." Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural eating habits, causes acid-indigestion with gas, sourness and burning and sets up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal that saps our strength and vitality and so taxes our nerves that we can't sleep at night or work efficiently during the day.

Magnesia Oxoids, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, correct acidity in the right way! Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxoids generate nascent, or active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimulates the activites of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

5-Day Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids at small cost from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal for a few days and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If 5 days' use doesn't tell you volumes return the balance of the Oxoids to the druggist and he will cheerfully refund your money.

PEER ARGUES U. S. SHOULD PAY DEBT DIXIE REPUDIATED

Quotes Roosevelt; Gets Lesson on Federal Law.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The old story of debts still due from certain southern states of America to British bondholders was given another airing in the house of lords tonight, producing a certain amount of liveliness among those august benches.

The matter was raised by Lord Redesdale, who asked if the government would consider taking up the matter with the United States government, with the view of an early adjustment of these debts. Some $390,000,000, declared Lord Redesdale, is involved in the various debt issues of the eight defaulting southern states.

Mississippi Defaulted Twice.

He cited Mississippi as the outstanding example, that state having defaulted on two loans. Lord Redesdale suggested that the federal government might welcome the British government's invitation to reopen the question.

"Such an action would raise the United States from the level of Russia in the matter of the repudiation of debts," he declared. "It would further give the United States the opportunity of erasing from their history a painful and shameful page!" Lord Redesdale added that the latter words were not his, but those of President Roosevelt.

In his maiden speech the earl of Limerick stressed the inherent difference between defaulting and repudiation. Defaulters say "I cannot pay;" the repudiator says, "I will not pay." He added that the United States had had the full measure of British patience to do what was right and just.

Suggest Offsetting War Debt.

Other suggestions of the noble lords followed, including that of bringing the matter before the world court of justice. And another suggestion from Lord Banbury was to offset the southern states' debts against the "easily earned interest of our war debt to America."

Lord Ponsonby, replying to the government, said that it had never been found possible to take up the question with the United States government. He pointed out that the government was influenced by the knowledge that the federal government had no concern with the financial obligations of the individual states forming the American union and, even if representations were made, would have no power to compel the defaulting states to pay.

"The government sees no connection between the repudiated debts of the southern states in the American union and the British war debts to the United States," he said, adding that the government could not accede to the request that America be invited to solve the problem.

POSSE COMBS WOODS FOR 2 BANDITS WHO ROB BANK IN PEORIA

Peoria, Ill., March 12.—[Special.]—A posse of fifty city and county officers late today were searching a heavily wooded river bottom for two bandits who robbed the Farmers and Mechanics State bank of Peoria of $1,500 at 11 o'clock this morning.

Attempts to use an airplane in the search this afternoon failed because of high winds which prevented a takeoff.

The two bandits fled with the $1,500 in cash after overpowering Patrolman William Harms, who entered the bank while the holdup was in progress. Hans Reece, cashier, and Hilda Hellman, clerk, were alone in the bank when the robbers entered and commanded them to put up their hands.

Late today the robbers had been traced through Springdale cemetery, a short distance from the bank, and into the wooded district along the Illinois river, where the trail was lost in dense woods and undergrowth.

The holdup was the third staged at the bank in the 12 years of its existence.

RAID UNION'S OFFICE TO FOIL BOMBING PLOT

State's attorney's detectives last night raided headquarters of the Associated Hebrew Butchers union, 3607 Roosevelt road, and took into custody eleven men and one woman. Only four of the men were held after Chief Investigator Pat Roche had questioned the prisoners.

The reason for the raid was because of rumors reaching the state's attorney's office that the headquarters were to be bombed or shot up in retaliation for two well known west side hoodlums taking over the union affairs. Sammy Kapian, who was one of the men indicted in the Eller election fraud cases, and Sammy [The Greener] Jacobson, are reported to have "muscled" Max Weiner out of the union and taken control.

Besides Kaplan and Jacobson, those held are Meyer Berger, 3523 Roosevelt road, and Martin McNamara, 1143 South Mansfield avenue. The latter was a caretaker at the place.

DELIVERY DRIVER ROBBED.

Steven Mavlick, 5849 Wilson avenue, a driver for Mandel Brothers, was robbed of $10 yesterday by a bandit who held him up at Wrightwood and Ridgeway avenues.

REPORT CHINESE DIE BY MILLION OF HUNGER, COLD

San Francisco, Cal., March 12.—(AP)—The semi-annual report of missionaries in the interior of China to Father James G. Keller, superior at the Junior seminary of the order in Los Altos, received today, said that hundreds of thousands of Chinese are dead of hunger and cold in the province of Shensi.

"The worst famine section is in the Wei river valley in Shensi," the report said. "A year ago the population was six million. Two millions died during 1929. Two million more are doomed by June. Transportation facilities are gone. Animals have been eaten for food and vehicles broken up for fuel. When farmers stop to feed their animals they have to stand guard over the food and fight off the mob. Children scramble under horses' feet and fight for the morsels that fall from the animals' mouths. The people are crowded into small quarters and typhus has broken out. Daily there are reports of a starving person frozen to death on the streets."

DOCTOR'S CLAIM IS ALLOWED ON MANBY ESTATE

Albuquerque, N. M., March 12.—(AP)—A legal contest over the estate of Arthur Manby, whose decapitated body was found in his home at Taos, N. M., last July, was ended suddenly today when Miss Terecita Ferguson and J. H. Crist, officials of the Colonial Bond and Security company, agreed to allow in full the claim of Dr. Victor C. Thorne of New York City.

Dr. Thorne will receive a federal court decree for $13,071.30, including principal and interest. Counsel agreed that the Manby property will not be sold prior to Jan. 12, 1931. Dr. Thorne lives in New York City.

Miss Ferguson, a small, black eyed, black haired woman whom Manby referred to as his "Princess Terecita" during their association before his death, was present at the court session.

Manby's mysterious death is now being investigated by the United States department of justice at the request of the British embassy.

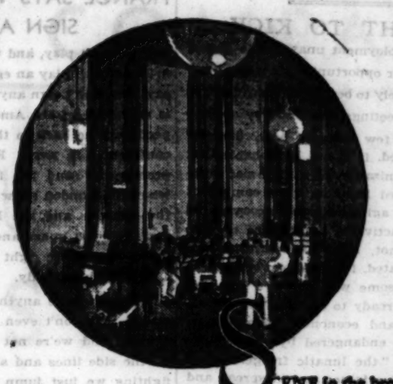
THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

To those who heard - and to those who did not hear - last night's special radio announcement by Standard Oil Company (Indiana)



SCENE in the broadcasting room of Station WMAQ in Chicago, from which was sent last night's special Standard Oil program announcing a new advance in motor lubrication. Because of the nature of President Seubert's announcement, the program was a memorable one—including Will Rogers, Miss Louise Homer and Sousa's Band.

Here is the complete story of this important new development in Motor Oil

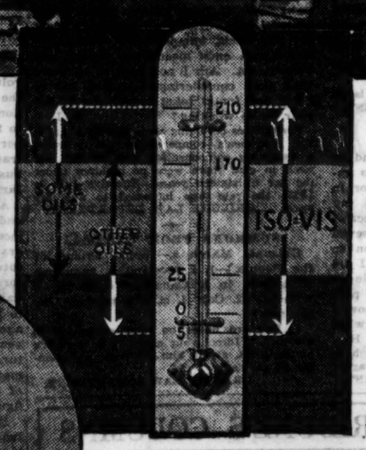
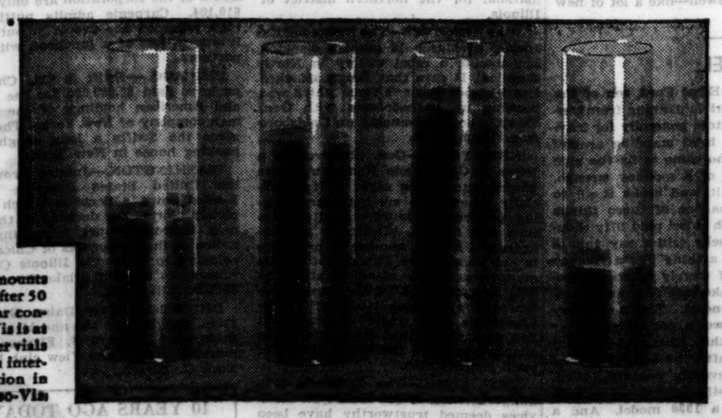
A VIEW of one of the great "stills" in which this new oil is refined. The process differs in some respects from any methods heretofore developed and took more than a year to perfect. Countless laboratory experiments were made. Then came tests of the new oil in cars, trucks and busses—thousands of miles under service conditions. Only then were our engineers ready to announce these final results.

The Ball and Bottle Test

THE MORE "BODY" an oil has, the slower the little ball falls in the tube. You can see this test at any Standard Oil service station. Notice not only the sturdy body of New Iso-Vis, but the difference between used Iso-Vis and any other oil drained from the crankcase. Iso-Vis does not thin out.



SOME OILS lubricate effectively at high engine temperatures but do not work well when the motor is cold. Others reverse this condition. New Iso-Vis not only stands up better under heat but is gives unusually good results at extremes of cold.



THESE VIALS show the different amounts of carbon formed in the same motor after 50 hours of running under exactly similar conditions with four different oils. Iso-Vis is at the extreme right. Carbon in the other vials is from three premium-priced oils. An interesting example of the actual reduction in carbon formation made by New Iso-Vis.

It is incorrect, perhaps, to call this story complete. The complete story would be the record of months of work in one of the world's greatest oil research laboratories—of experiments running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

That is past. The important thing now is to tell you what this new motor oil which has finally been perfected will do for your car.

First of all, it means a tremendous reduction in the carbon nuisance. New Iso-Vis Oil actually reduces carbon formation far below most oils selling today at premium prices.

One reason for this is the fact that New Iso-Vis is a wholly distilled oil. Made by a special process, its sturdy body is not obtained by the usual method of adding undistilled parts of the crude.

New Iso-Vis also makes possible better lubrication at extremes of temperature—both high and low. It not only gives better starting, and a free flow of oil in cold weather, but it does not break down under high engine temperatures.

In addition, New Iso-Vis resists dilution and will not thin out in your crankcase. The enormous importance of this feature cannot be exaggerated. Ninety per cent of all crankcase dilution actually takes place during the first 200 miles of driving. By overcoming this dilution Iso-Vis assures you of lubrication not only when your oil is fresh but right up until the time you change.

With Iso-Vis, the important reason for changing oil is not because of thinning out—but because it is impossible to prevent a certain amount of dirt from getting into the crankcase which must be removed by drainage. You get many hundreds of miles of more effective lubrication with this new motor oil.

New Iso-Vis is, we believe, the most important advance made in oil for the automobile engine. Every Standard Oil dealer and service station can now supply you. Begin today to give your car the most perfect lubrication engineering skill has yet been able to develop.

Notice the Color of New Iso-Vis. It is a rich amber. New Iso-Vis is a wholly distilled oil. Its sturdy body is not obtained by adding undistilled parts of the crude.

The New Polarine is also affected by our new refining processes—giving it a degree of lubricating efficiency which we believe is exceeded only by the New Iso-Vis. The price is 25¢ a quart.

New ISO-VIS Motor Oil 30¢ a quart

RETREATING SAVAGERY IN MICHIGAN.

Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, the Michigan woman who was sent to prison for life for petty liquor law violations, is out. The state Supreme court in reviewing her case held that the trial court had erred in instructions to the jury and ordered a retrial. She has been released on bond, having been in prison about a year. The state expects to encounter some difficulties in prosecuting a second time.

Mrs. Miller, mother of a large family, is one of the petty violators who were given the savage sentence of a fanatic law. It was not intended for the administration of justice but for the procuring of pleasure for its addicts. It was a means by which an occasional victim could be offered up to the gratification of a bigotry which demanded sacrifices. Its origin was the spirit of voodooism. It made ferocity akin to devoutness for the satisfaction of its devotees. Their emotional needs were those of dark minded primitives who exult when a victim is under the knife on the sacrificial stone.

This law of primitive brutality had no relation to the enforcement of prohibition in the state of Michigan. It did not keep and was not intended to keep the bibulous from their beverages. The organized liquor trade of Detroit paid no attention to it. None of the big gorillas of the Canadian trade and none of their hoodlums was afraid of it. No substantial citizen who bought and possessed his whisky by the case or the dozen cases had any regard for it and probably only thought of it when his conscience pricked him because of the injustice done its obscure and foolish victims.

It did not have the slightest effect upon the rum business in the Michigan ports of entry nor upon the transportation of contraband through the state for distribution all over this section of the country. It never touched a violator of any consequence. It was used merely for purposes of ceremonial sacrifice when a wretch could be dragged out of an alley and used for the pleasures of Sadistic addicts of prohibition. They had been able to control state government for their purposes and had been able to stain Michigan justice with the spirit which ruled at Salem and gave Gallows Hill its victims.

Mrs. Miller is free for the time being, whatever may be the consequences of further proceedings against her, but, although the sanity and humanity of the state is prevailing against the cult of human sacrifice, Fred Palm and a few other obscurities are still in prison. It is true the savage law has been modified and the governor has commuted their sentences. Nevertheless these sentences would be regarded as sufficient in the case of manslaughter, although they are not now what Michigan gives its worse murderers—life.

Michigan will get rid of its moralistic savages, but it will look back with regret at the period of their dominance.

THE INFANTRYMAN OF THE FUTURE.

For a thousand years the knight on horseback dominated the battlefields of the world. In his train came his servants on foot. Because they were often youngsters, and in any event were regarded by the knight as his dependents, they were called infantry. With the improvement in firearms the foot soldiers eventually drove the knights from the field. The despised and negligible infantryman became the dominant military figure.

The infantryman remained master of the battlefield, despite his inability to move faster than his own legs would carry him, only because the weapon he carried in his hand was deadly. He was further helped by his ability to take cover, an advantage which the horseman could not share to the same degree. Accordingly, the horseman was powerless against him. No doubt the infantryman of the future will continue to dominate the battlefield, but he will be a far different infantryman from anything known in the last war. He will no longer travel on foot, and he will no longer move across country unprotected in the face of enemy fire.

The tendency was indicated in the last war, when motor transport proved its value. Behind the lines troops will move in trains, in buses, or in trucks. They will walk only when manning permanent works or in advancing through woods or swamps or over mountains. In the face of enemy fire they will move in vehicles whose speed even over broken ground will of itself afford a kind of protection. The remarkable accomplishments in speed and ability to travel over difficult terrain achieved by the newer British tanks suggest that some of these attack vehicles, and perhaps all of them, will be armored.

The memoirs of infantrymen of the future are likely to be far different from those now being read. There will be more movement and less trench warfare. The fatigues of marching under heavy loads will be unknown, unless the scene of conflict happens to be marshland, forest, or mountain. War may be expected to move to swifter conclusions.

THE RIGHT TO KICK.

Conditions of unemployment unavoidable in any business recession offer opportunity for radical agitation which is not likely to be overlooked. Marches of the unemployed, meetings addressed by specialists in exhortation, a few cases of petty disorder have already transpired. It is not improbable that the international organization of communist propaganda, which revealed itself as very competent in the Sacco-Vanzetti agitation, has increased its expenditures and its activities in America of late. The possibilities are not, however, alarming and should not be exaggerated. It would be very humiliating to confess, as some well disposed but susceptible citizens seem ready to do, that the American political, social, and economic system is so fragile that it can be endangered by what Theodore Roosevelt called "the lunatic fringe."

If American well-being is not so widespread and so substantial that it insures its own defense by the American people its appearances are strangely false. Of course, there is no doubt and no reason for doubt of its reality, and this should protect us from the foolish alarms which it is the interest of some individuals to create. It should prevent us from being tricked into excesses of repression which are more hurtful to ourselves than to the cause of its victims. It should prevent us from forgetting our principles and losing faith in our theory of progress through freedom.

We are not counseling or condoning violence because it is preached or committed in the name of liberty. Men or women in such a country as ours who preach revolution by force should be met promptly by force, whether they call themselves martyrs or not. Bolshevism or any doctrine which seeks the violent overthrow of our government cannot be lawfully advocated and has no moral justification in this country. But the representatives of American law should represent American law at all times. When the police disperse parades and demonstrations that are not in accordance with legal regulations they would do well to act with as much restraint as the law requires and conditions permit. A sense of humor will help in most cases. The handling of the communist parade the other day in Chicago seems to have been a great success. Commissioner Russell and Deputy Stege are to be congratulated for their skill and good judgment. When meetings are being held they should not be broken up unless there is clear incitement to violence. Criticism of our form of government, of our social or economic system, allegations of wrong, tirades against alleged evils are all within the right of free speech. The rights of free speech, of free press, of free assembly are not confined to the individual who belongs to the majority and who is satisfied with things as they are. They were established for the dissenter, the rebel. To dissent, to criticize, to protest, and to assemble for the airing of grievances, real or imaginary, are inherent and inalienable rights under the American system. They are not without limits, but the limits are fixed by the laws and not by the impulses of officials or the prejudices or interests of individuals or the passions of the moment.

WASTE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A committee of building managers, men experienced in the cleaning and maintenance of commercial structures, has reported on the costs of operating the public school buildings of Chicago. They estimate that there are more than 700 persons employed in cleaning and caring for school buildings who could be dispensed with without any loss of efficiency. The annual cost to the taxpayers of these useless employés is close to $1,500,000.

The unnecessary jobs, needless to say, are so much political patronage. The money that is spent for superfluous janitors might be saved or it might be spent for the benefit of the children or the teachers. The evidence that the money today is being wasted confirms in detail the finding of the National Education association, which inquired into costs of school operation and costs of instruction in the larger cities in the country. Chicago spends 53 per cent above the average per pupil for school maintenance and 16 per cent less than the average for instruction.

For example, New York pays $8.22 per pupil for school building operation, while Chicago's pay rollers run the cost up to $17.49. In contrast, New York spends $114 for instruction, while Chicago can afford only $83.97.

As Mr. Hewitt has intimated, this is a situation which the taxpayers' trust ought not overlook in apportioning the money at its disposal among the various local governments. The money advanced by taxpayers is not sufficient to meet all the appropriations approved by all the local governments. If some of the essential services of government are not to be curtailed, the committee must employ its control of the purse-strings to eliminate graft and patronage. School appropriations offer a good starting point. The same edition of THE TRIBUNE which quoted the finding of the building managers also contained the information that Frank Singleton, a school board employé, is about to undertake a safety campaign among school children, although Supt. Bogan has already undertaken the same task and regards Mr. Singleton's efforts as wholly superfluous and a waste of money.

Thus far the taxpayers' trust has not made its purchases of tax warrants conditional upon a revision of pay rolls, nor has it indicated clearly its policy in the matter. It has not protested against waste. Indeed, inspired statements have said that the Strawn committee and its successors cannot interfere with the acts of public officials. The fact is that they can interfere, as any one who controls the purse always can and generally does. It would be much nearer the truth to say that the committee does not wish to interfere.

CHAPLIN'S VENTURE.
[Baltimore Sun.]

Talking pictures have had such phenomenal success that the announcement of Charlie Chaplin that he will form a company to produce silent pictures comes as the voice of one crying in the wilderness. There ought to be room for both forms of entertainment. There must be thousands of persons who regret the almost complete disappearance of the silent picture. Pantomime is, as Chaplin asserts, one of the greatest forms of expression, and he is the ablest exponent of pantomime that these times have seen. His belief in pantomime itself and as a vehicle for his own efforts argues well for the success of his venture. Regardless of the success of talking pictures and of their wide and constant appeal, there will always be those eager to see moving pictures that more clearly show their kinship to pantomime.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R. M.

FRANCE SAYS WE MUST SIGN A SECURITY PACT—

or she won't play, and the five power naval parley in London will lay an egg. The American delegates say they won't sign any such kind of thing. Which is very wise of the American delegates if they expect to come back to the dear old home when the conference is over. France only wants us to promise to send the fleet (if we have one left when the London show is over) and the army and the marines and the New York fire department and the coast guard and the Mississippi river flood patrol over there right away in case she gets into a fight with anybody.

We don't have anything to say before the fight starts. We don't even have to know what it's all about. And we're not supposed to stand around on the side lines and ask questions. If France is fighting we just jump right in and slug left and right, and wherever we see a head (so it isn't France's head) we hit it. That sounds pretty good for France, but where do we get off at?

Maybe the fellow that France is fighting is a good friend of ours? That won't make a bit of difference; we've got to give him a kick in the pants anyhow, because France tells us to. We may say: "Lissen, France; that's a good guy. Him and us is pals. He hasn't hurt us none and we don't want to take a poke at him. Have a heart; let us out of this." France will just say, "Blague! (that's French for applesauce), heem I would keel. You go ahead and keel heem for me." Then we'd say for France to go ahead and do her own killing; but she'd pull the treaty on us, and, sure enough, if we signed the thing, we'd have to go in and do the dirty work.

Well, the last report is that our people over in London are not going to sign Uncle Sam's name on the dotted line. But the very fact that they're asked to makes us believe that we'd better tell our delegates that they went over there with round trip tickets and if they haven't lost 'em they'd better use 'em.

TABERNACLE.

My bones erect a steel skeleton
On which are hung
Sheer walls of stone.
I am a house compact and airy.
Pierce the stone, shatter the glass,
Dissipate the sanctuary,
Let the soul pass!
In the emergency of this distress,
Let lightning in at the door,
Strip the husk
From the prisoned core,
Destroy this indurate flesh,
Raze body and bone to the dust.

POLLY CHASE BOYDEN.

ONLY 55 DAYS MORE!

Gosh! And we thought it was a grand tip. We saw in the papers where the new Bank of International Settlements which the U. S. of A. has joined had eighty good jobs and were hunting people to fill 'em. So we called Snowshoe Al up (he's been hunting a job for six months), and told him to get busy and grab off a job with the International bank. So Al applied, as we told him to do, but yesterday it comes out that when the officials of the bank met in Paris they found that 30,000 applications had been made for those 80 jobs. Snowshoe acted pretty sore yesterday when he heard about it, but cheer up, Al, they've got to pick 80 out of those 30,000, and it might as well be you as anybody else. And even if you don't draw down a job with the International bank all you got to do is to wait sixty days here in the United States, and then there'll be jobs for one and all. And, besides, it's only 55 days now.

ANYHOW, the kind-hearted government is going to wash off the outside of the postoffice as a present to Chicago for our World's Fair in 1933. And if we beg pretty hard and say pretty please, maybe the government will put in a couple of dozen new spittoons in the corridors of the postoffice. There's nothing that gives a postoffice corridor such a sort of cultural appearance and makes it truly recherché—you know, pretty swell—like a lot of new gobboons.

IN DEFENSE OF EDSEL.

Our genial young friend, Edsel Ford, son of the w. k. Henry, is getting a terrible panning from connoisseurs, artists, and collectors generally for leaving a priceless old Rhagae bowl standing around so carelessly that a man who came to fix the pipe organ dropped a scantling, or a monkey wrench, or something or other on it, and broke it all to smithereens. The bowl was one of those things regarded as priceless, though Edsel paid fifty thousand smackers for it. Edsel's critics say that a rich man who gets hold of a thing like a Rhagae bowl should regard himself merely as its temporary custodian, and must take care of it and treasure it for humanity in general. That's all very well for most people, but we've got to remember that Edsel didn't look at that Rhagae bowl that way. He probably heard after he bought it that it was made in the eleventh century. Well, from Edsel's viewpoint, a 1045 model would be hard to sell; everybody wants a 1930 model. And a Rhagae bowl as old as that and run to hellengone all over Persia would very likely have its engine burned out, the clutch pedal broken, the transmission case gone, and all the inner tubes rotted. And, besides, Edsel probably noticed that the old Rhagae bowl was pretty badly chipped and would have to go to the shop for a couple of fresh coats of paint. But, of course, the worst thing about that Rhagae bowl, from Edsel's standpoint, was that it was a 1045 model. Try to sell your old 1925 model and imagine Edsel's feelings when he realized he was stuck with a 1045 model. Yessir, you've got to look at that Rhagae bowl the way Edsel looked at it, and then you won't blame him for leaving it lying around loose where the organ-repair man could drop a scantling on it.

LAST LINE! A last line today? Whaddaya mean, last line? We should write a last line while we're trying to remember our salary, wages and commissions, bad debts, income from fiduciaries (wottel is a fiduciary?), interest on tax free covenant bonds upon which a tax was paid at source, surtax on item 21, and—oh, doggone! We write no last line until we get through with this income tax schedule. R. H. L.

ABOUT PARESIS.

SUBSCRIBER NO. 63 writes:

Please tell me the cause of paresis.

What are the symptoms? What part of the body does it attack?

REPLY.

Paresis, sometimes known as general paresis, is one of the forms—and the most frequently encountered one—of syphilis of the brain. Physicians refer to it as a form of parasyphilis, meaning it is allied to syphilis and caused by it, without being one of the regular manifestations of the disease. It does not follow quickly after the onset of the infection; in fact, it does not come until years after the original infection and after a long lapse of time since the last preceding symptom. It is a disease of middle life. Few are old when it appears and fewer still are in the periods of adolescence, youth, or early maturity.

You ask what part of the body it attacks. The answer is the brain. It is one of the few kinds of insanity which can be recognized by examining the brain at autopsy or looking at sections of it under the microscope. Furthermore, a positive Kahn or Wassermann test helps very much in making the diagnosis. Therefore we can say with reasonable approach to truth that paresis is a form of insanity for which we have a laboratory diagnostic test. In this it stands alone.

Different forms of insanity affect different mental acts. Paranoia affects the prejudices, therefore the emotions; manic-depressive especially affects the emotions; paresis affects judgment above all. A paranoiac will have poor judgment in all matters where his peculiarly erratic emotions come into play. A man with paresis has poor judgment because it is the nature of his malady. The paretic is very apt to develop delusions. His delusions seldom relate to persecution. As a rule there is nothing of inferiority about them, as is the case with the delusions of the paranoiac. The paretic's delusions are based on ideas of superiority. Later in the course of the disorder there is apt to be weakness of muscles, of body, and of mind; that is where the terms paresis, general paresis, or paralysis come from.

The cure of paresis runs along two lines. The purely medical treatment consists in inoculating with malaria or with sodoku or injecting something. The social treatment consists in training the paretic to get on with people, not to offend, to keep out of trouble, to limit himself to work that he can do and to do that well. Many are cured in the sense that they get well enough to go back home and do a certain amount of work for a few years.

NEVER HAD A RELAPSE.

Mrs. I. H. writes: I have been especially interested in various cures for bed wetting. I had the habit myself as a child, and, being very much ashamed of it, tried honestly to help myself and failed. When my boy at three still wet the bed I decided to help him cure himself and worked out my own system. He went to bed at 6:30 p. m. My alarm clock was set for 10:30 p. m. At that time I woke him, being sure he was awake, and took him to the toilet, regardless of whether his kidneys acted or not. Then I reset the alarm for 3:30 a. m. and repeated the program. In two months' time the habit was cured and he never had a relapse.

The really important part of his cure was the awakening. I even washed his face and feet with cold water to make sure. A child will answer questions and obey instructions and, at the same time, be sound asleep. It is necessary that he understand the reason for his getting up.

DRAFTS AND COLDS.

G. writes: The one and only male in our office of ten girls is a fresh air fiend who insists that no one can catch a cold by sitting in a draft. We have all decided to make you the judge and advise us whether or not this is so.

REPLY:

Sitting in a draft or getting the feet cold is an important contributing cause of acute coryza called common colds. Doubtless this disease is an infection, but the contributing causes are important. Some people harden themselves until they are not harmed by sitting in drafts. Others are very susceptible.

LIMITATION PERIOD ON JUDGMENTS.

Chicago, March 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Eight years ago proceedings were filed against A. who signed a judgment note eleven years ago. There were no funds and no attempt has been made to collect since. What is the limitation period on this note?

The limitation period on judgments is 20 years. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

OLD SCHOOL BILL

Chicago, March 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Part of my tuition was unpaid when I left college as a minor in Indiana before the expiration of my term. The college gave me a transcript of credits. Now, after nearly seven years, the college places collection in the hands of a collection agency. I am now of age but financially unable to pay. However, I sent them $20 as part payment. Can they compel me, now I am of age, to pay the balance of what was really my father's bills? M. H.

Yes, in view of the fact that you have ratified the contract since coming of age. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM $14 A DAY TO $14 A WEEK.

Chicago, March 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a bricklayer, married. Eight months ago I was injured when a scaffold broke, breaking my right leg. It may be two more years before I can work at my trade. I draw $14 per week, but it is not enough to make both ends meet even though my wife works. Am I not entitled to more than this, considering I earned $13 to $15 a day for at least two-thirds of the year while working? B. L.

For injuries occurring prior to July 1, 1929, the workmen's compensation act provided a maximum compensation rate of $14 per week in case there were no children under the age of sixteen years. Effective July 1, 1929, the rate was increased to $15 per week. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SUMMONS FROM CANADA.

Chicago, March 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I received a summons to appear in a Canadian court as a witness. 2. Can I collect mileage for the trip? J. C.

1. You are under no legal obligation to attend. 2. Direct your question to the clerk of the court, giving him the name and number of the case. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—John G. Nicolay, private secretary to President Lincoln, was nominated for the post of consul to Paris to succeed John Bigelow and the nomination was unanimously confirmed by the senate. Mr. Nicolay will not take up his duties in Paris until some time in the summer. The senate confirmed the nomination of James Russell Jones to be United States marshal for the northern district of Illinois.

WASHINGTON.—The Richmond Examiner of March 10 gives a dispatch announcing a rebel victory in North Carolina. It says that Bragg attacked and whipped Foster's force which was pushing up to coöperate with Gen. Terry, who is advancing on Goldsboro from Wilmington.

NEW YORK.—Gen. Sherman in a letter to Gen. Wade Hampton of the confederate forces says: "It is officially reported to me that our foraging parties are murdered after capture and labeled, 'Death to all foragers.' I have a number of prisoners in our hands to be disposed of in like manner and can stand it about as long as you, but I hardly think these murders are committed with your knowledge and would suggest that you give notice that every life taken simply results in the death of one of your confederates."

NEW YORK.—The Tribune's Wilmington letter of the 7th says: "Advices deemed trustworthy have been received from Gen. Sherman confirming reports which had reached us several days since that his main army passed into North Carolina at least four days ago."

WASHINGTON.—The reported victory of Hoke's and Hill's rebel forces over the national troops in the vicinity of Kingston, N. C., even if true, does not amount to a disaster. It could not have been more than an attack on our construction corps engaged in repairing the railroad between Newbern and Goldsboro.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1900.

LONDON.—The war office has received a dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing that Gen. French arrived near Bloemfontein, the Boer capital, and occupied two hills close to the railway station. He was opposed by the Boers. A brother of President Steyn has been made prisoner.

TOPEKA, Kas.—The Rev. C. M. Sheldon's newspaper, edited as Christ would edit it, in the estimation of the reverend gentleman, may or may not make the mails. At 2 a. m. they are "all balled up" in the Capital office and are three hours late. Everybody is crazy but Sheldon, who is happy and calm. News is buried in the background, and on the front page, under "scare heads," special articles intended to benefit mankind hold the place of honor.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Andrew Carnegie and twenty-nine of his partners in the Carnegie Steel company filed answers to Henry C. Frick's suit for $16,238,000 claimed to be due for his interest in the steel company, for which Carnegie had offered $6,000,000. Instead of $250,000,000, or even $500,000,000, which Frick said Carnegie claimed the business was worth, Carnegie's answer states that the total assets of the corporation are only $75,610,104. Carnegie admits putting a high value on the property, but says it was in jest at a luncheon with his partners.

CHICAGO.—Swift & Co., Chicago packers, paid $3,000,000 for the plant and American holdings of the Eastman company of New York. The deal gives the Swifts a long sought for packing house in New York.

WASHINGTON.—Justice Brown of the United States Supreme court handed down a decision which completely affirms the decision of the Illinois Supreme court sustaining the action of the authorities of Chicago in refusing to allow the Illinois Central railroad to fill in the lake front from 25th to 27th street.

CHICAGO.—Miss Daisy Gertrude Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stein, and Leonard J. Fischer were married at the Lake View club by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 13, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court fought a twenty minute battle with three intoxicated employés of the county treasurer's office in the dimly lighted vestibule of the city hall. Judge Olson claims he was more than holding his own with his assailants when members of the police homicide squad, summoned to his assistance, "manhandled and choked" him while his antagonists escaped. Sergt. Phil Carroll was named by the judge as one of the police. Carroll claims he did not recognize Judge Olson.

CHICAGO.—Two women, Mrs. S. K. Switzer and Mrs. J. A. Humphreys, 11133 Vernon avenue, are fighting to save the life of their brother, Peter W. Summers, a former Chicagoan, who is in the hands of Mexican bandits. He was captured by the band of Jesus Morellas last week and is held for $5,000 ransom. The women fear he will be slain, as the last day set for payment was March 12.

BERLIN.—Minister of Defense Noske has foiled a monarchist plot to foment revolution and to corrupt troops. Die Freiheit alleges that Gen. von Luettwitz, commander of the first reichswehr group, is implicated. Noske has ordered the arrest of Capt. Pabst, Dr. von Kapp and two others.

WHEAT.

Chicago, Ill., March 11.—The letter of Theodore George, published March 11, in regard to wheat, says: "The speculators dealing in imaginary grain buy and sell annually more than 20 times the actual bushelage grown. Every bushel bought and sold must pay toll to some grain exchange member. The millions of dollars thus collected every year are charged back against the farmer in lower prices, for he ultimately pays the cost of distribution."

Statistics published by the government do not support this statement. The grain futures administration recently has published the average daily volume of trading in grain futures for each of the last eight years. Last December "Crops and Markets," published by the department of agriculture, gives the monthly and yearly average price paid to farmers for wheat and other grains. A comparison of the two sets of figures shows that prices paid to farmers average highest when the volume of trading in futures is heaviest and that prices paid to farmers average lowest when the volume of trading in futures is lightest. Thus, in the four of the last eight years when the volume of wheat trading was heaviest the average of daily trades was 46 million bushels; the average price of wheat to farmers in these four years was $1.25 per bushel. In the four years of lightest trading the daily average was 36 million bushels and the average price paid to farmers in these four years was $1.03.

Again, the July, 1929, issue of "Crops and Markets" publishes the yearly total income to farmers from the sale of all grain. In the four years when the futures trading in all grains (wheat, corn and oats) was heaviest (69 million daily average) the total money income to farmers from the sale of grain averaged $1,539,000,000; whereas in the four years of lightest trading in grain futures (49 million daily average) the total money income to farmers from the sale of grain averaged $1,483,000,000. These figures speak for themselves.

If Mr. George owned some "imaginary grain" he probably would not find it very imaginary. The so-called gambler is carrying the bulk of the actual wheat—much more than either the farmer or the Grain Stabilization corporation.

DRYS FROM WET CONSTITUENCIES

Peoria, Ill., March 6.—Explanations as to votes on foreign affairs are in line. But wet Illinois wants to know why the Hon. Charles S. Deneen voted for the Jones law. With no other choice for Illinois Republicans for a United States senator than a dry, the primaries will lead to the nomination of Charles or Ruth. But at election there is no question that ex-Senator J. Hamilton Lewis will be elected if the voters are not afraid to scratch their ballots for fear of spoiling them. A vote for Lewis from the wet Republican ranks counts minus and plus. If the people will vote as they drink or think, regardless of old party affiliations, ex-Senator Lewis will be elected.

JAMES W. PARKER, M. D.

THE GAS STATION RACKET.

Ames, Ia., March 6.—I see in Vox Pop again today news of the latest racket being promoted in Chicago, that of the gas station employés. Why not permit every filling station employé who is interested in stamping this out to become a deputy officer with authority to call out the riot squad and squad car when the Lincoln with the racket boss shows up, to arrest and prosecute him to the limit? This plan may work if the police themselves are not in on the racket as well. M. C. LORENZ.

CHEAP POWER.

Chicago, March 8.—The following news item issued by the Canadian government should be of interest to every one in Chicago who pays electric bills:

"In Ottawa electricity for domestic use is cheaper than anywhere else on the continent, if not in the world, according to authorities on this subject. It is sold at a rate that averages less than one cent per kilowatt hour, which means that the average bill for electric light incurred by householders in the Canadian capital is about $1 per month. About 50 per cent of homes in Ottawa also have electric stoves and other electric appliances, such as hot water heaters, and the average monthly bill for electric current, including cooking and water heating for the ordinary seven or eight roomed house, is about $3 per month. Notwithstanding these rates the Ottawa Hydro Electric commission, a publicly owned utility, reports that 1929 was the best year's business in the history of the commission. It closed the year with a net surplus of $68,544.14 after paying a large expenditure on capital account out of current revenue. The value of the commission's plant and assets shows a surplus of $1,758,054.95 over liabilities."

It would be interesting to hear some of the opponents of government owned public utilities explain the above mentioned low rates in comparison with those prevailing on this side of the line, particularly in Chicago, where private corporations charge us rates six times as great.

If private ownership is more efficient, why can't they furnish us current at rates somewhere near those just across the line? "Water power" does not explain it, for Mr. Insull himself has declared steam plants were more economical. What is the answer? It is a matter which demands more than passing comment. A CONSUMER.

HOW TO CREATE JOBS.

Chicago, March 6.—The statement made by Samuel Crowther yesterday that the billions of dollars saved by those who formerly spent the money for liquor is the cause of prosperity is so absurd it's silly. He might just as well have said that if the automobile industry was eliminated the billions saved which are now spent for automobiles would cause prosperity.

Prosperity comes from the employment of men, the free circulation of money, and if the present prohibition law was modified so as to permit the sale of beer and light wines as soda water is now sold it would create millions of jobs for those who are now without employment. R. H. KELLY.

SHOOTING VICTIM LEAVES CHICAGO; GUNMAN IS FREED

Prosecutor Gives Up Case After 2 Continuances.

Charges of assault with intent to murder against Joseph Glimco, known as a labor terrorist, were dropped before Judge John J. Sullivan in the Criminal court yesterday because Charles Weinreich, the complaining witness, had gone to Wisconsin. Weinreich sent back word that he would stay there until the charge against Glimco was dismissed.

Assistant State's Attorney Nat Ruvell dismissed the charge with "leave to reinstate." Court observers said the reinstatement right is seldom exercised.

Glimco, who was tried for murder a year ago, smiled as he walked from the courtroom a free man.

Attorney Michael Romano wanted the court to nol pros the case against Glimco, thus wiping it off the court books. Prosecutor Ruvell insisted, however, that the leave to reinstate provision be retained on the possibility that Glimco might at some future time be brought to trial.

Shoots Ice Cream Employe.

Glimco, shot Weinreich in the hip on Sept. 5, 1929, the evidence showed. Weinreich was a superintendent in the Welland Ice Cream company's plant at 4010 Ballou street. Glimco was attempting to organize some of the ice cream workers into a new union.

At the time of the shooting there was indignation and a demand for vigorous prosecution on the part of the ice cream institute. An attorney for the institute wrote a letter to State's Attorney Swanson, asking that Glimco be speedily brought to justice. When the case came up to trial yesterday, after two continuances, no one from the ice cream institute was present.

Glimco's case was first set for hearing some weeks ago. He was granted a continuance to prepare for trial. There continued to be labor trouble, and Glimco was still "organizing" the prosecution charged, when the case came up the second time. Another continuance was taken because Weinreich did not appear.

When Weinreich yesterday again failed to appear, Ruvell made an inquiry and learned from employés of the Welland plant that Weinreich had gone to Clintonville, Wis.

"He's there," Ruvell was told, "and he says he'll stay there until the charges against Glimco are dropped."

Swanson Starts Inquiry.

State's Attorney Swanson yesterday said he had asked several members of his staff to report concerning why the grand jury on Tuesday failed to return indictments against Gunner Hartsell, 19 years old, 6744 North Maplewood avenue; his brother, Carl, 21 years old; and Arden Brooks, 18 years old, 2322 Morse avenue, son of a retired policeman.

The three young men were accused of threatening death to Erik Borg, a contractor, and his 17 year old daughter, Beatrice, if Borg did not pay them $1,000.

Mr. Borg said yesterday that while he wanted to see leniency extended to the youths, particularly the Hartsell boys, members of his church, he had wanted them indicted and then placed on probation. Attaches of the state's attorney's office said Borg gave the grand jury the impression he did not want to prosecute the youths and that he did not want them indicted.

"If he does want them indicted," said Assistant State's Attorney Edwin Spiro, in charge of the grand jury, "I'll take the case back before the April grand jury and there certainly will be indictments if Mr. Borg gives testimony calling for indictments."

Chinese Here Pay Tribute to China's "Washington"

Chicago Chinese met in a hall at 2110 Wentworth avenue yesterday to pay tribute to the memory of China's "George Washington," Dr. Sun Yat Sen, regarded as the founder of the Chinese republic. It was the fifth anniversary of the death of Sun Yat Sen. Draped about a large oil painting of the former Chinese president, back of the speaker's platform, were the Chinese national colors—white and green. Tom Y. Chan, manufacturer of noodles, was chairman. Paul Linebarger, counsel for the federal immigration bureau, who for eighteen years was legal adviser to Sun Yat Sen, praised the Chinese patriot.

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

More than 15,000 Chicagoans had been aided in filing their income tax returns at THE TRIBUNE Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, when the office closed yesterday. The tax service was established this year on Jan. 6, and since that time three and four deputy collectors of internal revenue have been assigned there by Collector Myrtle Tanner Blackidge.

About 18,000 persons were given assistance at the office last year and it was predicted yesterday that more than this number will have received aid there this year when the filing period closes on Saturday night. Deputy collectors will be at the office until 6 p. m. Saturday. The collector's office in the federal building will be open until midnight.

SLAYER CHEATS CHAIR; ENDS OWN LIFE; JUDGE DIES

Tulsa, Okla., March 12.—(AP)—District Judge Luther James, 68, died of a heart attack here today a few hours after Charles R. Fray, slayer whom he sentenced to be executed in the electric chair March 28, hanged himself in a death cell at the state penitentiary at McAlester.

Shortly before his death Judge James was advised of Fray's suicide and discussed the case. The jurist died in his office while chatting with court officials.

Fray strangled himself to death with a noose fashioned out of a blanket. In a drunken rage, Fray killed his wife, Lucille, and his former wife, Laura, and wounded the town marshal in Jenks, Okla.

Dry Agents Wreck Brewery on Tip from the Police

Dry agents yesterday followed up a tip from the police and raided a brewery at 2024 West 13th street. They destroyed 10,000 gallons of beer mash, two large filters, a 1,500 gallon carbonator, a 3,000 gallon fermentation tank and forty-three barrels of beer. The raid was led by C. Edson Smith, deputy prohibition administrator. No arrests were made.

RUSSIA WARNED TO EASE UP ON POOR PEASANT

Collective Farm Fight Is Aimed at the Rich.

MOSCOW, March 12.—(AP)—Echoing the recent warning of Joseph Stalin to soviet village officials not to use force in recruiting peasants for collective farms, today's Pravda cautions all Communist party workers and village officials that neither administrative measures nor open coercion must be resorted too.

In all cases, Pravda says, membership in these farms must be based upon the voluntary consent of the peasant himself.

War Aimed at Rich Peasant.

The paper also hints that administrative measures must not be used in converting peasants from their religious beliefs. At the same time, it says, these warnings must not be interpreted as a weakening of the party's struggle to exterminate the kulaks or rich peasants as a class.

Pointing out that both poor peasants and middle class peasants have been dispossessed and exiled in the party's general fight against real kulaks, Pravda says that any departure from the party's instructions regarding extermination of the kulak will be severely punished.

"There have been many cases where poor and middle class peasants have been deprived not only of their property but their voting rights," says Pravda. "Such mistakes must immediately be rectified and the property and rights of these peasants restored."

Warns of Sudden Seizures.

Pravda also admonishes village officials against attempting all at once to force 100 per cent communism upon the peasants by organizing, for example, collective farms in which all the property of the peasant, including even his chickens, geese, and cows, is socialized. Where these instances have occurred, such property must be returned to the owners.

Pravda concludes with the important statement that those peasants who have joined collective farms under duress are free to leave such farms.

START SLICING AWAY BUILDING FOR LINK BRIDGE

The first actual step in preparation for the construction of the outer drive bridge is under way, officials of the north pier terminal announced yesterday. Workmen have started cutting away a section of the terminal building, located on the north bank of Ogden slip, to make way for the extension of Lake Shore drive, which will be the north approach to the link bridges. Stone is now being put in to reinforce the walls where they are being cut.

Two bridges are to be built, one across the slip and the other across the Chicago river. The improvement will link the outer boulevard systems of the north and south sides. The first contracts for work on the substructure of the bridges will be let within two weeks, Lincoln park officials have announced.

Doctor Escapes as Auto Is Hit 6th Time by Train

Logansport, Ind., March 12.—[Special.]—For the sixth time during the last year an automobile driven by Dr. G. R. Clayton of Monon, Ind., was struck by a train at Monon today. The physician escaped with minor injuries in each of the accidents.

FATHER, 68, TELLS HOW HE WOOED AND WON 6 WIVES

Son Admits He Trailed Dad with 3 Mates.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 12.—[Special.]—Faced in federal court by his first and legal wife and his three daughters, Richard D. Cates, 68, of Junction City, Colo., today pleaded guilty to violation of the Mann act and admitted he had married several women in different parts of the country, only to desert them when he had spent the money they brought him.

Second Son Is Freed.

Charges against a second son, Howard Cates, 17, were nolle prossed.

Six women, all strangers to each other before they met here ten days ago, were denied the opportunity to go on the stand and tell how the two older Cates men married and deserted them, disappointing a crowd which jammed the federal court. The women exchanged addresses, kissed, promised to write, and left for their respective homes in Milwaukee, California, Minnesota, Ohio, Kentucky, and Arkansas.

Three of them were wives of the elder Cates, while the other three declared Richard had married them.

Evidence from Seven.

Federal officers stated that since the story of Cates' arrest had been published they had received conclusive testimony from seven women that the elder Cates had courted, wedded, and deserted them.

Sentence on the pair who confessed probably will be passed next week. Howard will go home with his mother, whose address was suppressed by federal action.

GUARD BROTHER OF M'GOVERN, SLAIN GANGSTER

A police guard was established last night at the home of Michael McGovern, brother of the slain Hugh [Stubby] McGovern, south side gangster, at 8305 Laflin street, after Deputy Commissioner Stege had been informed that George Maloney intended to kill McGovern. Maloney was indicted for the murder of "Stubby" McGovern and William [Gunner] McPadden, who were slain in the Granada café in 1928, but the charges were nol prossed.

Maloney was shot last July at 64th street and Cottage Grove avenue. Stege now believes that Maloney may be trying to kill McGovern to prevent him from avenging his brother's death. A woman living near McGovern's home told the police she had seen an automobile circling the block for several nights and said she recognized Maloney in it, with Michael [Bubs] Quinlan and Cy Ryan, both known to the police as hoodlums. Maloney, Quinlan and Ryan are being sought.

DESPONDENT, ENDS HIS LIFE.

John Bumburt, 55 years old, 730 West 21st street, committed suicide last night in his room by cutting his throat with a razor. Other tenants of the house in which he roomed said he was estranged from his wife and two children and had been despondent over the separation and his inability to obtain work.

INTERESTING LETTERS

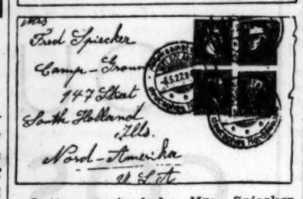
From Helgoland, Germany



Letter received by Mrs. Spiecker, Camp Ground, 147th street, South Holland, Ill.

Back in 1890 Wilhelm Hohenzollern, then emperor of Germany, made a dicker with Lord Salisbury, then Conservative premier of Great Britain, whereby he traded Zanzibar, an island off the east coast of Africa, containing 640 square miles, for Heligoland, a small island less than a mile square in the North sea, 30 miles from the coast of the Prussian province of Schleswig-Holstein. In the next 14 years the Germans made a Gibraltar of the rocky speck and on its fortification was based the naval strategy of the German navy during the great war. It proved a master stroke for Wilhelm and a source of deep chagrin to the British.

Under the terms of the treaty of Versailles the fortifications on the island, now called Helgoland, have been dynamited and dismantled. As a result, the North sea, which was slowly disintegrating the rocky cliffs before the Germans took possession, is reported again to be making inroads on the cliffs. In peace times Helgoland is a popular sea bathing resort.

VOTE COURTESY CAMPAIGN TO CUT AUTO ACCIDENTS

The inauguration of a courtesy campaign among motorists to decrease traffic accidents was approved by the city council yesterday at the request of Ald. John Toman [23d]. Reports of the police department, according to Ald. Toman, show that 14,254 traffic accidents occurred on the streets of Chicago in 1929, causing the death of 803 persons and injury to 15,881 other persons. The reports also show, he said, that of 19,167 motorists involved in the accidents, 7,918 were charged with reckless or careless driving, "much of which was due to drivers taking the right of way which they felt they were entitled to."

ONTARIO DIVORCE BILL ROW STIRS RELIGIOUS FIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—Through Henri Bourassa, Quebec nationalist and religious leader, French Catholic Quebec defended herself in the house of commons today from the charge of having imposed her anti-divorce religious views upon Protestant Ontario.

When the bill to establish an Ontario divorce court was defeated on a tie vote in the house yesterday, all of Quebec's Roman Catholic French representatives voted against it. Ontario's leading Protestant lawyers today issued statements condemnatory of what they allege is Quebec's religious interference in Ontario's affairs. Bourassa's retort today was that every member of the commons, whether Catholic or Protestant, or French or English speaking, had the right to record his views in divisions.

The divorce issue, which has become the subject of major controversy between senate and commons, will reappear this session. Several have already moved to reinstate the bill.

KEYES, NEMESIS OF CRIMINALS, NOW A CONVICT

San Quentin, Cal., March 12.—(AP)—Asa Keyes, who as district attorney of Los Angeles county for twenty-five years sent half the prison population here, entered this penitentiary today as a convict.

Keyes took his place here after an all night journey from Los Angeles, where he recently was convicted of accepting upwards of $100,000 in bribes for alleged failure to prosecute numerous wealthy Californians accused of fleecing thousands of investors in Julian Petroleum corporation stock. He repeated the statement he was innocent.

There was much curiosity as to how prisoners here would receive Keyes, but it was found they virtually ignored him.

Ohio Pair Indicted for Horst Boy's Death

Wooster, O., March 12.—(AP)—Joint indictments for child stealing, and separate indictments for first degree murder were returned by the Wayne county grand jury late today against Charles Hannah and Earl Conold, in the disappearance of Melvin Horst, 4 year old Orrville boy, Dec. 27, 1928.

"Mister! If you want a REAL shave—put a little NOXZEMA on before you lather."

WHEN practically everyone who uses a product goes out of his way to recommend it, that product must have extraordinary merit. That's what is happening to Noxzema, the medicated toilet cream. Millions of new users each year—and most of them "heard about it from friends!" It's amazing—a beautiful tribute to the quality of this healing cream.

Noxzema isn't a "cure-all"—it's just a mighty fine skin cream that in many, many cases does perform seeming "miracles." It soothes burns, chafing, chapped hands—it heals away blemishes—it beautifies complexions by correcting the abnormal conditions that coarsen the skin—it protects tender necks against the razor.

If you have longed for a truly lovely complexion, exquisitely soft, velvety smooth, use Noxzema for ten days as a foundation cream or night cream and see what a marvelous improvement it brings in your skin. If you have trouble keeping your hands smooth and white in winter, rub a little Noxzema on a few times a day, and see how soft and white they become.

Men find nothing beats Noxzema for shaving. Just rub a little in before lathering. It's amazing how easy and comfortable shaving becomes. For Noxzema is a remarkable beard softener, and is a real soothing skin cream besides. Try Noxzema for the rest of its 17 uses.

You don't have to buy a large jar to try Noxzema—this week you can get a 25¢ jar for only 10¢. Get that size—there's enough in it for a few weeks' trial. See for yourself what new comfort, health and beauty that jar can bring to your skin. Clip the coupon. Get the bargain introductory jar today.

DATED Coffee
delights these Popular Authors

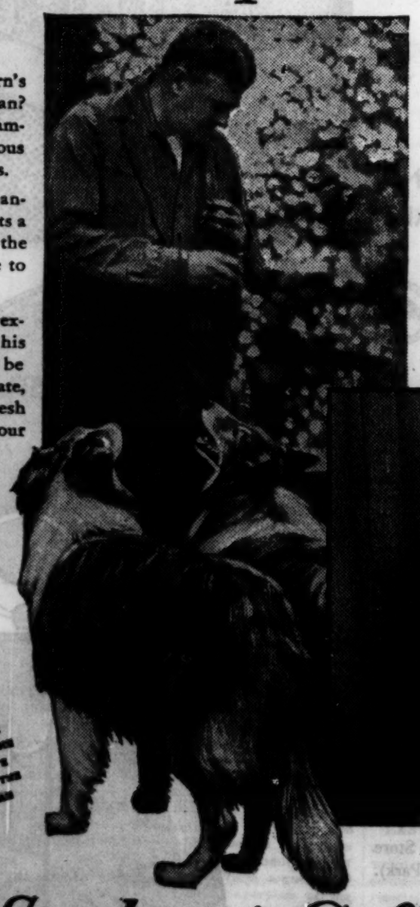
SEE the date on Chase & Sanborn's Coffee can? What does it mean? Fresh coffee—cup after cup of it—steaming hot, fragrant, full of that marvelous pick-up that fresh coffee always brings.

Chase & Sanborn's is dated coffee handled like a fresh food. Your grocer gets a delectably fresh supply direct from the roasting ovens—just enough at a time to carry him until the next delivery.

Every can is plainly marked with an expiration date. You'll never find one in his store after that date. For if a can should be left on his shelves after the expiration date, it is collected and replaced by a fresh can. Now you know positively that your coffee is fresh roasted—full flavored—full strength!

Enjoy fresh coffee from now on. Ask your grocer for Chase & Sanborn's.



ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE is a noted newspaper man, explorer and author. "I like this coffee," he says. "All of us do—even my Martinique servants who know a thing or two about coffee. Chase & Sanborn's Coffee is good. There is a freshness to it which, I think, makes it so."

RICHARD HALLIBURTON never stops at home very long. But while he is at home, how he luxuriates in home comforts!

"I've tasted the finest coffees of the world," he tells us, "—but never have I tasted any that surpasses Chase & Sanborn's for the indescribable flavor that comes from real freshness."

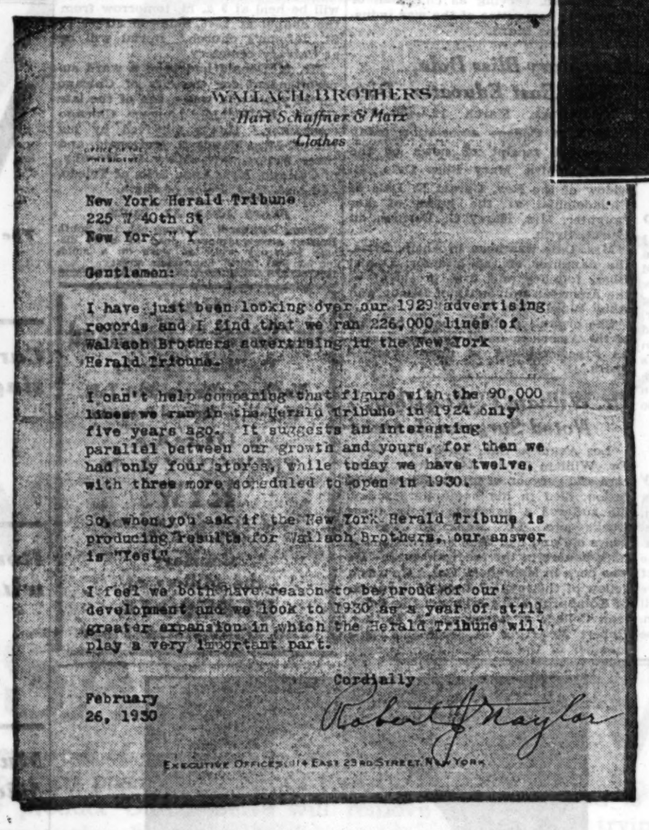
. . . our answer is "YES!"

says the President of Wallach Brothers in a letter to the New York Herald Tribune

ROBERT J. NAYLOR, president of Wallach Brothers, a New York men's wear organization that has grown from 4 stores to 12 in six years, while its Herald Tribune advertising, in the same period, has grown from 90,000 to 226,000 lines.



WALLACH BROTHERS

New York Herald Tribune
225 W 40th St
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

I have just been looking over our 1929 advertising records and I find that we ran 226,000 lines of Wallach Brothers advertising in the New York Herald Tribune.

I can't help comparing that figure with the 90,000 lines we ran in the Herald Tribune in 1924 only five years ago. It suggests an interesting parallel between our growth and yours, for then we had only four stores, while today we have twelve, with three more scheduled to open in 1930.

So, when you ask if the New York Herald Tribune is producing results for Wallach Brothers, our answer is "Yes!"

I feel we both have reason to be proud of our development and we look to 1930 as a year of still greater expansion in which the Herald Tribune will play a very important part.

Cordially
Robert J. Naylor

EXECUTIVE OFFICES: 9 to 9 EAST 23RD STREET, NEW YORK

These are the facts: From four stores to twelve stores in six years; from 90,000 to 226,000 lines of advertising in the New York Herald Tribune—more Wallach Brothers' advertising than in all the evening newspapers combined—and the Herald Tribune's share is growing each year.

Wallach Brothers sell such nationally advertised items as Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, Florsheim shoes, Schoble hats, Manhattan shirts, Resilio neckwear and Hickok belts and braces. So, when the Herald Tribune produces results for Wallach Brothers, it again proves itself a star salesman of small items and large—versatile, swift and powerful.

Results for a men's outfitter—that's our story this time. Last time it was an automatic oil burner, and before that breakfast foods, clothing, insurance, building materials, real estate and many, many more.

So you see, it is the whole family that the New York Herald Tribune influences and sets into action so profitably. Both in city and suburbs, coverage is best where incomes are highest. That means Herald Tribune families can afford to buy what they want when they want it.

A prominent advertising man who has been making a special study of newspapers, says: "The newspapers that are the most profitable for advertisers today are the newspapers whose readers have strong faith in them. Such confidence includes the advertising columns, and is more important in 1930 than it ever was."

The New York Herald Tribune is that kind of newspaper. More and more advertisers are finding it out—profitably.

WIDOW IS LEFT MAJOR SHARE OF TAFT'S ESTATE

$10,000 to Yale; Valuable Papers to Children.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—With the body of William Howard Taft resting beneath newly turned sod in Arlington cemetery, upon which the flowers of yesterday still were fresh, the affection which he bore for Mrs. Taft, his three children, and Yale university, his alma mater, were attested today in his will.

$10,000 to Yale.

Yale university, where Taft spent many of the happiest years of his busy life, first as an undergraduate, and then as the Kent professor of law from 1913 until 1921, when he rose to the chief justiceship, received the largest single sum mentioned in his will—$10,000. It will be added to the principal of the alumni university fund and credited to his own class, that of 1878.

To his three children, Robert A., and Charles P. Taft, and Mrs. Helen Taft Manning, the former chief justice left some of his most prized possessions—his papers, manuscripts, correspondence, addresses, and copyrights. They are to be used as the recipients think best, after consultation with Mrs. Taft.

Gives to Church, School.

In even the smallest bequests the former President's affections were shown. To the All Souls Unitarian church, from which he was buried yesterday, went $2,500. Thrice that amount was left to the Taft school at Watertown, Conn., which was founded by his brother, Horace D. Taft. Other bequests in the will were Wendell W. Mischler, his secretary, $5,000; Margaret McNamara, $1,000; Annie McNamara, $750, and Thomas Halpin, $750.

Possibility was seen today that the extent of the former President's estate might never be known, since, in naming Mrs. Taft as executrix, the request was made that she should not be required to make an inventory.

ELKINS' WIDOW ASKS COURT TO REVOKE WILL

Washington, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Hallie Davis Elkins, widow of the late Senator Elkins of West Virginia, today applied to the district Supreme court for revocation of the probate of the will of her son, Stephen B. Elkins, who died in New York, Oct. 20, 1929.

Mrs. Elkins charged her son was ill, and at intervals was of unsound mind at the time the will and codicil were executed. She charged undue influence was used by Mrs. Evelyn I. Martin of New York, who was given a life annuity of $1,000 a month.

Under the codicil, Mrs. Martin was given a fishing lodge in Virginia, valued at $30,000, together with Mr. Elkin's apartment in New York City, with all its contents except paintings.

Davis Elkins, brother of the deceased, was named executor under the will, and by its terms was given the remainder of the estate. He reported his brother's personal property would be valued at about $117,800.

Chicago Radio Band Members in Car Crash

Danville, Ill., March 12.—(AP)—Musical instruments valued at $1,000 were damaged and four members of the WLS radio station's "dinner bell gang" were shaken and bruised early today when the car in which they were riding from Chicago to Danville collided with two stray horses on the Dixie highway near Milford, north of here.

Loud Speaker Pours Forth Fine Features

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The loud speaker poured forth many fine offerings last evening.

There was a Liszt and Wagner program from New York through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8. There was a fine orchestra, a capable soprano soloist, and an equally capable tenor soloist. The program included a pretty orchestral version of Liszt's "Rhapsody No. 14," with its one entrancing and variously repeated melodic strain.

The program of Russian orthodox church music, sung without accompaniment by the University of Chicago choir, WLS, 8 to 8:30, was worth while. One of the anthems was Gretchaninoff's "The Cherubic Hymn," a work directed by the composer himself during the Christmas day concert by the Senn High school chorus from this station.

The 8:30 to 9:30 program from New York through W-G-N, with the Revelers male quartet, Olive Palmer, soprano, and Paul Oliver, tenor, was even more enjoyable than usual. The operetta consisted of selections from "The Student Prince."

Then came a three ring big show through WMAQ, 9:30 to 10:30, in which jocose Will Rogers, in Los Angeles, functioned as master of ceremonies; Mme. Louise Homer, contralto, in Chicago, sang groups of songs, and Philip Sousa and his band, in New York, serenaded in the usual stirring Sousa style.

LEGION OFFICIALS APPROVE MOVING VETERAN BUREAU

The rehabilitation committee of the American Legion yesterday approved the moving of a part of the United States Veterans' bureau from 111 North Canal street to the Edward Hines Memorial hospital at Broadview, which will be effected by April 1. It had been charged that the removal would work a hardship on the veterans who go to the bureau for treatment.

The statement approving the change was signed by Chester R. Davis, chairman of the department rehabilitation committee of the Legion; John A. Hartman, secretary of the national rehabilitation committee, and Lester R. Benston, department service officer. They pointed out that a branch of the Veterans' bureau will be maintained at 330 South Wells street, where the same type of service will be given as at the present quarters.

CORNELIA BAKER, NOVELIST, DIES; ILL FOR YEAR

Mrs. Cornelia Baker, 75 years old, well known as a novelist and newspaper writer, died yesterday at the home of Mrs. Hannah O'Connell, 64 East Chestnut street, where she had lived for several years. She had been in ill health for a year, following an attack of pneumonia last winter.

Mrs. Baker was the widow of Wilson G. Baker, a Chicago attorney, and had been a resident of Chicago for fifty years, having come here shortly after her marriage. She was the daughter of William McGhee, a pioneer iron manufacturer of southern Ohio, and was educated at Wesleyan college, Cincinnati, where she received the degree of mistress of English literature. Before the death of her husband, thirty years ago, she had traveled extensively.

She had written a number of novels and children's books and for many years was a member of the staff of the Chicago Daily News.

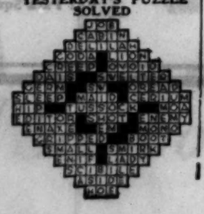
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



It's unwise to risk Bacterial-Mouth.
• Anyone may have it.

With every breath you take you invite a deplorable condition that takes heavy toll in happiness and health. It is something that is no respecter of persons. It is something that none of us like to see in others. Millions of germs sweep into the mouth. They defy the average toothpaste and attack teeth and gums. They cause this unwelcome condition, Bacterial-Mouth. Don't risk it. The way to have sound, white teeth and firm gums is to use the dental cream that removes Bacterial-Mouth by killing the germs that cause it . . . KOLYNOS.

Whitens Teeth 3 Shades in 3 days
as it removes this condition you can't hide

HERE'S the quick, easy way to sound, sparkling white teeth and firm, pink gums—the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique.* Use it for just 3 days... Then note the results ... Teeth look whiter — fully 3 shades. Gums feel firmer, they are healthier. And your mouth tingles with a refreshing, clean taste.

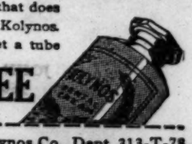
Kolynos cleans teeth and gums as they should be cleaned.

As soon as it enters the mouth, this highly concentrated, antiseptic dental cream gives you a pleasant surprise. It becomes an exhilarating FOAM that is full of life!

This FOAM gets into and cleans out every tiny crevice, pit and fissure. It instantly kills the millions of germs that cause offensive Bacterial-Mouth—that lead to tooth decay, stain, ugly yellow and to gum diseases. (Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds.) Moreover, this FOAM keeps on working after you hang up your toothbrush. For 3 hours it continues to cleanse teeth and purify the mouth.

That is why teeth are so easily and so swiftly cleaned down to the beautiful, naked white enamel—without injury.

If you want whiter, teeth free from decay; and firm, pink gums — discard the dentifrice that does only half of the job. Switch to Kolynos. It will win you in 3 days. Get a tube from any druggist—or mail coupon for a generous trial tube.



*Saves Teeth...Saves Money The unique action of Kolynos permits the Dry-Brush Technique advocated by leading dentists as the way ...to use a dental cream full of strength... to keep the brush bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly ...Use a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, morning and night ...Dental cream lasts longer. .Teeth look cleaner and whiter ...Try this amazing Kolynos Technique.

COURT TOLD HOW A MAGISTRATE GETS RICH QUICK

Four Years on Bench Net Vitale $165,000.

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—Magistrate Albert H. Vitale, testifying today at his trial on removal charges before the Appellate division of the Supreme court, disclosed that in four years on the bench he had amassed a fortune of $165,000. Fortunate investments in real estate, he explained, accounted for the improvement in his finances.

When he was appointed to the bench in 1924 he had only recently liquidated debt of $1,500. In June, 1928, when he accepted a loan of $20,000 from Arnold Rothstein, murdered gambler, his assets were $125,000 in real estate, stocks and cash. A month later the total had risen about $40,000.

Salary $8,000 to $12,000.

During the first years of the magistrate's incumbency his salary was $8,000 a year, later being increased to $12,000.

The magistrate completed his case against the petition of the Bar association that he be ousted from the magistracy. Max D. Steuer formally rested, with a renewal of his plea that the two charges against his client be dismissed. Presiding Justice Victor V. Dowling and his four associate justices, said that decision would be reserved until tomorrow.

Hid Rothstein Loan.

The witness admitted he had omitted to list the Rothstein loan in a financial statement which he had signed as covering his assets and liabilities.

He also admitted that much of his real estate had not been listed in his name. Some of it was in the name of his brother, William J. Vitale, a lawyer, and some was in the name of Mrs. Maria Vitale, the magistrate's mother, who died last month.

It was brought out that Magistrate Vitale repaid his loan from Rothstein's Rothmere mortgage corporation by borrowing $25,000 from the Claremont National bank, of which he was a director.

WALES STEPS ON GAS WHEN AFRICAN TRAFFIC COP WAVES HIM DOWN

KAMPALA, Uganda, March 12. —(AP)—The prince of Wales, while motoring into Entebbe today, encountered a policeman who did not know him and refused to believe it when he was told. When the prince starts from one place to another all traffic is stopped to insure the royal party a clear run. But today the prince was ahead of schedule and was signaled by a uniformed constable.

Wales, who was driving, pulled up, and the constable politely announced, "You can't go this way until the prince of Wales has passed."

Provincial Commissioner Postlewaite, sitting beside the prince, explained: "This is the prince of Wales." "O, I've heard that before," said the policeman as he took the number of the prince's car.

Just then something attracted the policeman's attention. He dashed across the road and Wales hurriedly drove off amid the shouts of the constable. The prince left this afternoon for a long motor drive to Butiaba.

4 MURDERERS TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR APRIL 11

Four Negro murderers will be electrocuted together on April 11, it was decided yesterday at a conference between Judge Walter Steffen and Sheriff John E. Traeger. The latter requested that the date for the execution of Aaron Woodward be changed from March 17 to April 11 so that all the pending execution, may take place at the same time. Woodward was found sane by a jury on Tuesday and yesterday was denied a motion for a new trial. The other three men scheduled for execution are Leonard Shadlow, Leon Brown, and Lafon Fisher. Woodward killed a policeman and the others killed a bank guard.

SAYS SHE SHOT MATE AFTER PLEA FOR MILK MONEY

James Wright, 55 years old, manager of a downtown restaurant, lay critically ill last night of a bullet wound close to the heart at Chicago General hospital, while his wife, Lucille, 40 years old, was being held by Sheffield avenue police pending the outcome of her husband's condition. The wife admitted that she shot her husband in their home at 1021 Altgeld street yesterday when, she said, he refused her money with which to purchase milk for Frank and Frances, the couple's one and a half year old twins. There are three other children: James, 10; Joseph, 7; and Robert, 5.

Police Nip Plot to 'Break the Bank at Monte Carlo'

VIENNA, March 12.—(AP)—Police today arrested Symon Rataport, described as a merchant, as he was departing for Monte Carlo with 20,000 exceptionally good imitations of the casino counters at 100 francs [about $4] each. The police alleged that Rataport intended with an American accomplice to exchange the counters for cash in the playrooms of Monte Carlo.

Judge Refuses to Give Father Custody of Girl

Circuit Judge Klarkowski yesterday refused to entrust to George Babbitt, 3033 East 79th street, or to his mother, Mrs. Nellie Babbitt, 8118 Muskegon avenue, the custody of Babbitt's 8 year old daughter, Florence. The mother charged that her son was not fit to have charge of the girl. In turn the son declared that the mother was not a fit guardian. The judge ordered an investigation by juvenile authorities. A report was submitted yesterday against both the mother and the son. The report recommended that the girl be adopted by her aunt, Mrs. Martha Johnson, 10345 Avenue F, and this recommendation was adopted by the judge.

Lake County Folk to Vote on $1,250,000 Road Bonds

The board of supervisors of Lake county yesterday passed a resolution providing for submitting a $1,250,000 bond issue for paving of 37 miles of roads to a vote of the people on April 29. The measure provides that the money which Lake county is to receive from the state during the next ten years from the gasoline tax shall be used to pay the cost of the road construction.

CALDWELL, FROM AFAR, ADJOURNS BOARD MEETING

Lack of a quorum caused the postponement of the meeting of the board of education yesterday. Charles E. Gilbert, secretary of the board, and a group of spectators had waited an hour for the meeting to begin when it discovered President Caldwell had telephoned to some board members that the meeting would not be held because there were no important matters to be considered. When no one appeared to take the chair, Secretary Gilbert dispatched a messenger to the city hall, where President Caldwell was attending the city council session and word was brought back that the meeting was ordered adjourned. Mr. Gilbert said he was not certain if the board's rules permitted an adjournment by that method.

Wheaton Honor Student Appointed to Annapolis

New Arlington Memorial Bridge Damaged by Fire

Washington, D. C., March 12.—(AP)—The Arlington Memorial bridge, a $14,000,000 structure being built over the Potomac river between the capital and Virginia, was damaged to the extent of approximately $10,000 today by a fire which started about half an hour after workmen had left for the day.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a substitute for calomel, were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

They start the bile and help overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes sold yearly. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Thursday, March 13th, we start a Special 9-Day Demonstration of the new Frigidaire HYDRATOR

Desserts and salads will be served. New recipe books will be given away . . . .

Be sure to attend

Here's your opportunity to find out all about the marvelous new Frigidaire Hydrator.

On Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration—one of the most interesting ever held in our showroom.

We will show the Hydrator in actual use—just as you would use it in your home. You will see how lettuce is made tender and brittle by the Hydrator's moist reviving cold. You will see how celery and radishes take on added crispness—how tomatoes are improved in texture and flavor. You will see how convenient it is to keep all your vegetables in one compact compartment—how the Hydrator saves shelf space—how it simplifies marketing.

And that is not all you will see.

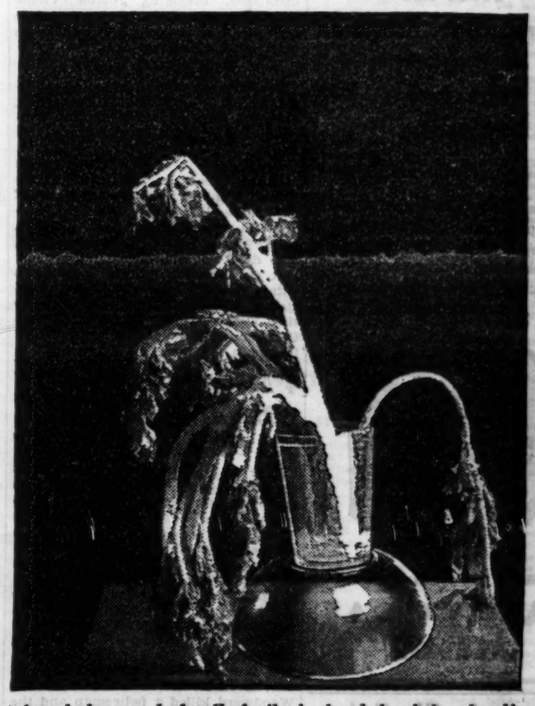
Fast freezing exhibition

The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice cubes faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Free dessert and salad recipe books

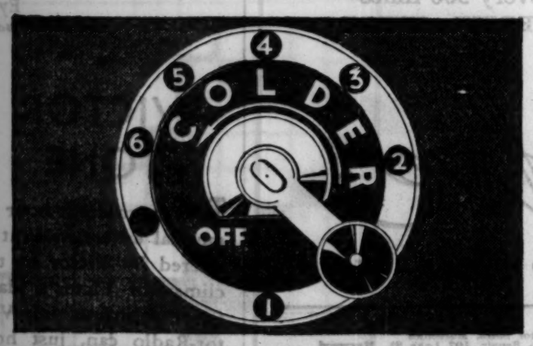
And we'll give you an opportunity to taste the better dishes made possible by the Hydrator and the "Cold Control." A cooking expert will prepare and serve unusual salads and delicious frozen desserts during the entire period of the demonstration. We have also arranged to distribute two souvenir recipe books—both filled with new and different recipes you'll want to try.

Will you be our guest?



Actual photograph of stalk of wilted celery before being placed in the Hydrator. This celery is tough, unpalatable, useless.

The same celery as it came from the Hydrator the following morning. The magic action of the Hydrator has restored the celery to its original state—fresh, crisp, delicious.



THE FAMOUS "FRIGIDAIRE COLD CONTROL"

SPECIAL OFFER UNTIL SATURDAY, MARCH 22nd

We are prepared to make a liberal special offer to all who buy Frigidaire during our 9-day demonstration. Let us tell you about this offer. Let us tell you about our easy payment plan. Come in at your first opportunity. We will be open evenings until ten o'clock every day of the demonstration.

NATURAL 100% BRAN IS BEST, SAY DOCTORS

Over 90% of Physicians' Group Favor This Bran for Constipation

Not long ago the following question was asked of ten thousand doctors:

"Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

19% of the answers were "Yes."

Nothing could be more valuable than such advice as this to those who are constantly troubled by atonic constipation, a wide-spread disease—bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness. These doctors say "natural 100% bran." Your grocer has it —Pillsbury's Bran, natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a most valuable form—it goes to the root of the trouble, and relieves it naturally.

Modern soft diet causes irregular bowel movements—or movements that are regular, but not complete. Decayed material remains in the system —causing headaches, lassitude, sleepiness, loss of appetite, lowered vitality, and increased susceptibility to more serious disease.

Eat Pillsbury's Bran in some way every day. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, teacakes, sponge cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc. —the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you eat Pillsbury's Bran, you may be sure you're getting the right kind—natural 100% bran, overwhelmingly preferred by doctors. Your grocer has it —start tomorrow.

Colds

TO RELIEVE—
Start thorough bowel action and rid your system of poisonous waste as soon as you notice the first sign of a cold. U. S. BOARD BACK IN HAITI CAPITAL TO FORCE PEACE

Will Insist Borno Keep Pledge of Support.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 12.—(AP)—The Hoover Investigating commission returned to this capital tonight, determined to back up its demand that President Louis Borno adhere to his promise to support the commission's plan for a temporary president so that the muddled political situation of the island republic might be cleared up.

Once that subject is out of the way the commission intends to take up its final study of Haitian conditions preparatory to its return to the United States.

Newspaper Quotes Borno.

The newspaper Le Moniteur quoted the president as saying that he approved the commission plan for a temporary administration only on condition that it would be executed in strict accord with the constitution of Haiti and the treaty of 1915.

Since the constitution, under strict interpretation, would not provide for national legislative elections until 1932, the commission interpreted this as an apparent attempt by the president to delay execution of the plan.

Members of the commission were emphatic in declaring that the problem must be solved at once. They said they never had knowledge of any conditional acceptance of their proposal by President Borno. The latter will be told of this attitude tomorrow, unless he changes his own attitude overnight.

400 Haitians Riot.

It was reported this afternoon from Gonaives that a half hour after the commission sailed the first disorder attending their tour took place. A crowd of 400 Haitians was reported to have assembled before the house of a witness who had testified in favor of the occupation and compelled him to lower the Haitian flag from it. The crowd was dispersed with little trouble.

LOFTUS SENTENCED TO FOUR YEAR TERM IN AUTO THEFT CASE

John W. Loftus, former police lieutenant and for twenty-three years a member of the Chicago department, was sentenced yesterday to four years in Leavenworth prison and fined $5,000 by Federal Judge Woodward for violating the Dyer act against trafficking in stolen automobiles.

Albert Hoffman, a Cincinnati bond salesman, alleged accomplice of Loftus, was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $1,000. The men were found guilty by a jury last week. Ted and Leo Baldwin, alleged leaders of an automobile theft ring which stole more than 200 cars in 1927 and 1928, pleaded guilty and were given nine years each.

Loftus was given two year consecutive terms on each of two counts charging possession and disposition of stolen automobiles and two years on a conspiracy charge, the latter term to run concurrently with the first. He was granted a stay of execution to March 21 to permit an appeal.

NABBED ON BANK CHARGE AFTER 3 YEAR HUNT

Alfred Kahert, 37 years old, formerly owner of a tire repair shop at School street and Ashland avenue, who has been sought for more than three years on a charge of swindling the Citizens State bank of $16,000, was arrested yesterday at Phoenix, Ariz., according to a message to Deputy Commissioner Stege from the Phoenix police. Sergt. John Murphy of the detective bureau left last night for Phoenix to return Kahert here for trial.

The Phoenix police said Kahert had been operating there as a fruit and vegetable peddler under an assumed name and was arrested when an underworld character informed them that he was wanted in Chicago.

7 Evanston Cops Share February Patten Award

Seven Evanston policemen who captured four bandits in a gun battle in the Orrington hotel on Feb. 9 will share the James A. Patten police award of $100 for February, according to an announcement yesterday by Chief of Police William O. Freeman. The seven men are Lieut. Fred Toenes, Patrolman John Horne, Ernest Krogman, William Ianson, Henry C. Miller, Paul Hansen, and A. E. Feeley. The award of $100 is given monthly by Mr. Patten's widow for the outstanding police work of the month.

Shots Are His Greeting to Eloping Couple.

Lorain, O., March 12.—[Special.]—Following a wedding party in which he shot and killed his son-in-law, William V. Dinoff, 22, bridegroom of five days, Antonios Dzouclis, 39, was in the Lorain county jail at Elyria tonight facing grand jury investigation of the first degree murder charge against him.

Dinoff was slain in his father's home here a short time after he had brought his bride, Sophia, 19, back from their wedding trip. They had eloped five days before and had just returned from Wellsburg, W. Va.

Dzouclis waived preliminary examination when arraigned before Municipal Judge W. P. Duffy. He was bound over without bail.

Girl Widow Prostrated.

The girl widow is prostrated at the home of her dead husband's parents as preparations are being made for Dinoff's burial. She appears dazed.

Police have learned Dzouclis was opposed to his daughter marrying Dinoff, who had been a boarder at the Dzouclis home a few months prior to the elopement. Dzouclis appeared at the Dinoff residence only a few minutes after the bridal couple's return. He extended a hand toward his son-in-law, who greeted him cordially, believing parental opposition he had anticipated had faded.

Begins to Fire.

Then Dzouclis drew an automatic pistol, which he had up to that time concealed in his hand, and began firing. The bridegroom fell with bullets in his heart, lungs, and brain.

Dzouclis then vanished. He was found by police an hour afterward at the home of a friend. He surrendered without opposition and admitted the shooting, arresting officers said.

Paris Okays Protocol for U. S. to Join World Court

PARIS, March 12.—(AP)—The foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies today approved a bill ratifying the protocol for adherence by the United States to the permanent court of international justice. The protocol must be ratified by each of the member nations and Great Britain, for one, has already approved it.

10 QUESTIONS AND THEIR ANSWERS that make the most important coffee story ever told

MAKE THE NIGHT TEST

COFFEE—steaming, fragrant coffee! Everybody loves it—and everybody can have it now! If coffee has ever robbed you of sleep—if it has affected your nerves or your digestion—read every one of these ten questions and their answers. For they make the most important coffee story ever told—that you can now enjoy coffee whenever you wish—night or morning—without regret!

1 . . . What is there about coffee that makes it necessary for many people to deny themselves the delights of this delicious beverage?

ANSWER . . . It contains a substance called caffein that may cause sleeplessness, nervousness, indigestion.

2 . . . How could these ill-effects be eliminated?

ANSWER . . . By removing the caffein from coffee.

3 . . . But if that's all that is necessary, why wasn't it done long ago?

ANSWER . . . Because the extraction of caffein presented problems which science has only recently solved.

4 . . . You mean that it has now been done successfully?

ANSWER . . . Yes. In Sanka Coffee — genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed.

5 . . . Are you saying that I can actually drink Sanka Coffee at night—late at night, even—and sleep?

ANSWER . . . Absolutely. Sanka Coffee won't keep you awake no matter what time of night you drink it.

6 . . . What do physicians think of it?

ANSWER . . . Thousands of physicians here and abroad have given Sanka Coffee their whole-hearted approval. Ask your own physician about it.

7 . . . What does Sanka Coffee taste like?

ANSWER . . . Like the delicious coffee it is. It is a superior blend of the choicest Central and South American coffees. There is not a particle of anything in Sanka Coffee but coffee. Experts recognize that no other blend is finer in quality or in flavor.

8 . . . But how about removing the caffein? Doesn't that affect the flavor.

ANSWER . . . Not in the least. Caffein is an odorless substance. It adds nothing to coffee's tempting aroma, nothing to its satisfying flavor. In Sanka Coffee, expert blending and roasting bring out the full, rich flavor and the tempting aroma of the finest coffee grown.

9 . . . But won't I lose that effect of immediate satisfaction which a cup of coffee gives me?

ANSWER . . . No. That is not due to caffein. The immediate feeling of relaxation and comfort is the natural effect of a steaming, savory drink—as delightful in Sanka Coffee as in any other coffee you ever tasted.

10 . . . Then if all this is true, why in heaven's name shouldn't I have all the pleasures of coffee — with none of the ill-effects of caffein?

ANSWER . . . You should—and can. Get a pound of Sanka Coffee from your dealer today.

Now on sale at your grocer's! Your grocer now carries Sanka Coffee—ground or in the bean—in full-pound vacuum cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on this money-back basis! "If, after a thorough trial, you are not fully satisfied, return what's left in the can and we'll refund the full purchase price." MINE INSURGENTS ASK SENATE TO START INQUIRY

Strife Again Ties Up Springfield Session.

BY THOMAS WREN.

Interconvention strife and turmoil marked the third day's meeting of the insurgent Illinois coal miners at Springfield yesterday and when the rump convention of anti-Lewis miners adjourned for the day the delegates were still battling over the credentials of Frank Farrington, the former head of the Illinois Miners' union.

Prior to the fight on Farrington the convention sent a message to Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana urging him to launch a senatorial investigation into the United Mine Workers of America under the leadership of President John L. Lewis. Senator Wheeler is a member of the senate committee on labor and education.

Abandon Reorganization Plans.

The Springfield meeting apparently shelved plans to commence an immediate reorganization of the United Mine Workers while controversial issues occupied the business of the convention.

John Brophy, a former miner, and Powers Hapgood, delegates from Pennsylvania, led the fight on Farrington.

They spoke from the floor and declared that Farrington's identification with the reorganization movement of coal miners who have dropped their union affiliation would spell defeat. When the meeting opened Monday the delegates refused to accept Farrington's credentials.

The message to Senator Wheeler was signed by Alex Howat of Kansas. He charged that the regular union, now assembled in convention at Indianapolis, was directed by autocratic rule and stated that the organization employs men as spies and agitators to keep Lewis in office.

Assail Illinois Union.

Mine workers at the Indianapolis convention were told that graft and corruption, stolen elections and embezzlement has marked the activties of the Illinois unit of miners. This state organization was suspended several months ago by its parent body.

Lewis announced that William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will address the Indianapolis meeting next Monday. The appearance of Green is considered significant in view of the fact that a demand has been made to take some disciplinary action against John H. Walker, the president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, who is charged by Lewis with being one of the promoters of the rump Springfield gathering.

HELD UP NEAR HIS HOME.

Robert Moran, 7707 Constance avenue, was robbed of $5 by two men near his home yesterday.

RUSSELL AUTHORIZED TO BUY RADIOS FOR POLICE CARS

Police Commissioner Russell was authorized by the city council yesterday to purchase 200 radio receiving sets which are to be installed in the roving police cars and in police stations. The council also approved the payment of bills totaling $81,667 which were contracted by the commissioner in the purchase of three transmitters and other broadcast equipment which are being installed at three stations.

"This work should go ahead at once," said Ald. Thomas F. Byrne [15th] in the meeting of the finance committee which preceded the council session. "The police radio is one of the best things produced in this age for the suppression of crime. The use of the radio in police work has passed the experimental stage."

Establishment of a police radio system to aid law enforcement officials of Kane, Du Page and Will counties is being considered by the boards of supervisors and municipal authorities in the counties involved. According to Sheriff L. L. Urch of Kane county the installation of a centrally located broadcast station could be made at a cost of $11,000. All police stations and sheriffs' offices and police cars in the three counties would be equipped with receiving sets, according to the proposed plan.

LOSES $19 TO THIEVES.

Two men in an automobile stopped Edward Goldstein in front of his home at 1317 Roosevelt road yesterday and robbed him of $19.

WHY THEY SWING TO PEBECO

Users of other dentifrices are realizing they can actually get more in a tooth paste than simply a sweet-tasting cleansing agent. Cleansing, of course, is of first importance. But PEBECO Tooth Paste, in addition, whitens without marring the delicate enamel. Also, it retards decay by stimulating the flow of neutralizing saliva — Nature's own protection against the destructive mouth acids. Put Pebeco to work today—in a week you'll be enthusiastic about its distinctive taste and results.—Advt.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 12.—Mr. Joe McCarthy's National league champions were not in the mood to do battle today. They were meek with their bats and painfully careless about their fielding, so much so that Los Angeles had no trouble annexing a 10 to 2 exhibition, which drew a record breaking turnout of 1,200 gate crashers to the local Wrigley field.

The Cubs were far below par with their bats because of the pitching of three ex-major leaguers—Ballou, Delaney, and Barfoot. The major leaguers harvested only eight hits. In view of the fact that these hurlers actually were curving, something the Cubs haven't seen to date, they can be excused for their sins of omission. The curving, however, doesn't explain why the titleholders tossed in four errors to make run getting a simple matter for the Angels.

Teachout Yields Six Runs.

Another item of consequence in the final outcome was the throwing by those Cub rookies. Chief McCarthy started with Hank Grampp, the noted bull pen matador, and in four rounds the lad performed so skillfully that only two runs marred his effort. Then Bud Teachout was summoned, and the expected happened. Last Saturday the Seraphs shook him loose from six runs. Today they showed their previous success was no fluke. They scored the same number of tallies in two sessions. Nelson labored for the last three innings, and he kept the Angels down to two runs.

Despite all that happened the Cubs really were put out of the argument by one wallop. Frank Sigafoos, who did a turn with the White Sox last summer, was the author. After Teachout had loaded the bags in the fifth, Sigafoos sent Hack Wilson chasing back among the waving palms in deep centerfield. Before Hack could return from his expedition, everybody had scored, and the decision was definitely beyond the reach of the Chicagoans.

Scoring Gesture in First.

There were only two times during the meeting when the Cubs seemed anxious about getting some runs. One of these was in round one. English and Grimm led off with hits and advanced on Hornsby's long fly. Wilson filled the bases by getting a pass. This put matters up to Cuyler, but his best was a grounder that resulted in a double play. The other outbreak was successful, but too late. It occurred in the seventh, when Cuyler's double, Stephenson's triple, and Bell's infield out scored two runs and robbed the Angels of a shutout.

A glance at the hit column in the box score will furnish evidence as to why Cub runs were so scarce. There is a zero behind the name of Hornsby, and the same thing behind Wilson. The Rajah even went to the trouble of grounding into a double play. Hack went to extremes by fanning once.

Hornsby, English Boot Ball.

Hornsby also was one of the champs a bit off form in defensive play. He kicked one that started the Angels on the trail to two runs in the sixth. In this same round English booted a grounder and Zack Taylor made a wild heave to third base. This sort of fielding wasn't giving Teachout a break. He can dig up troubles of his own. The other Cub error was one of the things which helped to fill the bases for Sigafoos' homer in the fifth. This was contributed by Lester Bell. He pegged wild to Grimm.

The Angels' scoring started with two runs in the fourth, prior to which Grampp had been a success. These tallies resulted from a pass to Moore, a double by Harper, and a single by Jacobs. Then a pass, Bell's error, and a hit batter were recorded before Sigafoos hit that homer off Teachout in the fifth. The details of how the remaining runs were scored are of no importance unless proof is needed that the pitching of Teachout and Nelson was not as McCarthy would have liked to have it.

GOLDEN GLOVES FIGHTERS PUT IN BIG DAY'S WORK

Our Spy Reports

Following is a telegram received yesterday from a Tribune representative who saw the New York Golden Gloves team go through its training paces:

"Saw opponents work today. No softies among them. Watched every one and they are training hard and expect real battles. Looks like Chicago team will come through with flying colors. Tell them they have to work hard to put it over. Will watch them again tomorrow."

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

A knockdown, road work in the morning and a long afternoon of intensive training featured the preparation of the Chicago Golden Gloves team for its inter-city matches with New York at the Chicago Stadium next Wednesday night.

The fighters engaged in interesting bouts at the C. A. A. training headquarters of the Chicago team. They were pitted against each other and some staggering punches were landed.

Steeve Knocked Down.

In one of the bouts Joe Mendoza shot over a left hook which sent Ed Steeve to the mat. Coaches immediately called a halt until the University of Illinois fighter recovered himself. Steeve is the 160 pound champion and Mendoza is the runner up in the light heavyweight class. After the bout Steeve's injured hands were inspected and indications are he will be able to compete. The examining physicians will make a decision today.

Grant Fortney, heavyweight champion, and Buck Everett, winner in the 175 pound class, engaged in an interesting bout. There was no pulling of punches and at the end of three rounds honors were about even. Fortney is one of the hardest workers on the team and after boxing three rounds with Everett, he pulled on the gloves for a one round session with Jack Kranz, the alternate in the 175 pound class. Everett also boxed two rounds with Kranz.

Bennie Goldblatt, 126 pound champion, boxed three rounds with Sidney Kaplan, second place winner in the 118 pound division. Goldblatt was more aggressive than usual and punched harder with his right hand. Kaplan traded punch for punch with his opponent and there was little to choose between them when the final bell rang. Both boys are under weight and in excellent condition.

Espinoza Spars with Levine.

Joe Espinoza of the Emery A. C. of Chicago Heights and Sammy Levine went three fast rounds. At times they stood toe to toe and traded blow for blow. Joe is the 112 pound champion and Levine is the alternate in the same class. Espinoza is a little under weight but claims he can fight better when he scales about 110 pounds.

Arne Asp of Rockford, Ill., who will be the alternate in the 135 pound class, arrived yesterday and stepped three fast rounds with Carl Ogren, the welterweight champion. John Baima, second place winner in the 160 pound class, worked two rounds with Joe Mendoza.

Cubs Go Back on Regular Training Program Today

Avalon, Cal., March 12.—[Special.]—Tomorrow McCarthy will put the Cubs back on the regular training program. They'll have two days for this sort of work because of the canceling of the game originally scheduled for Los Angeles on Friday.

If there was any lingering doubt as to the condition of Hartnett's throwing arm it was dispelled today. He caught five innings today, and with the encouragement of a burning sun he cut loose with everything he had. He was heaving the ball to every sack just as he did before the wing went dead on him last spring.

George Getz, chairman of the Illinois state athletic commission, arrived on the island this noon as the guest of Mr. Wrigley.

Murphy Helps Bruins Defeat Brooklyn Five

Stretch Murphy of Purdue played his first professional basketball game last night. And he proved conclusively to the Stadium crowd that he has a pair of hands which seem instinctively to guide the ball through the hoop.

Stretch, playing against the Brooklyn Visitations, scored four field goals, and the Chicago Bruins won, 26 to 12. All of Murphy's scoring efforts were on follow up shots, where he utilized his 6 feet 6 inches to advantage, catching the ball on the rebound high in the air and shoving it back into the net.

Holman Scores 8 Points.

Pat Herlihy is no midget, but when Stretch leaped and straightened out Pat just didn't have a chance. Then, too, the Bruin regulars were in form. Nat Holman also scored eight points, counting twice from the field and four penalty tosses in as many chances. Nat Hickey tossed three field goals and Russell and Kennedy each registered once. Chicago led at the half, 13 to 5.

Although it had been expected that the Visitations would put up a better fight, their failure to do so didn't detract from the interest the fans showed in Murphy's work. While he went well enough on attack, he was given considerable assistance by his mates on the defense.

Stretch Caught Holding.

Whenever possible the other players cut in front of Herlihy, and Kennedy committed at least one foul to hold Pat from cutting near the basket. Incidentally, Stretch was called four times for holding. Herlihy had several set shots from out in the court, Murphy giving him too much leeway, but none went through the hoop.

Fort Wayne meets the Bruins at the Stadium Sunday night, but Murphy will not be in the lineup. He plans his next appearance Tuesday against the Loyola Charlie Murphy at the 132d Infantry armory. Lineup:

Harvard, Yale Play 2-2 Hockey Tie After 90 Min.

Boston, Mass., March 12.—(AP)—A fighting Harvard hockey team held a great Yale sextet to a 2-2 tie after 90 minutes of play tonight in the third game of the annual series. Each team has a victory and this deadlock forced the series, which runs back to 1900, into a fourth game for the first time.

NICE TOURNEY, NICE PLAYER

Helen Jacobs, who is second to another Helen—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody—in the United States tennis ranking, continues to show France she wields a mean racket. In a fourth round tournament match at Nice yesterday the California miss easily defeated her French opponent. She is almost certain to add the Nice title to her collection.

CHICAGOAN AND PARTNER REACH FOUR BALL FINAL

Miami, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Clarence Gamber dropped a three inch putt into a 39th hole cup as darkness descended over Miami Country club course today to eliminate Gene Sarazen of Fresh Meadow, L. I., and Johnny Farrell of St. Augustine, Fla., from tomorrow's final play in the international four ball matches. Farrell and Sarazen were favorites. Gamber, professional from the Boca Raton club, and his partner, Cyril Walker, veteran from Saddle River, N. J., provided the most decided upset of the $5,000 tournament as they stroked their way through a 1 up victory.

N. Y. Foul Punch to Cost Johnson $4,000 of Purse

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—It is going to cost Larry Johnson, Chicago Negro fighter, approximately $4,000 for his unintentional fouling of Maxie Rosenbloom recently in Madison Square Garden.

Madison Square Garden is the beneficiary, due to the recent ruling of the New York state athletic commission that fighters shall be paid only for the number of rounds they fight if the bout ends in a foul, the balance of their purse reverting to the treasury of the club in which the foul was committed.

Johnson's percentage amounted to about $10,000. In accordance with the new regulation his purse was held up and sent down to commission headquarters. He will appear Friday to explain how it happened and his story probably will save him from a long term suspension, but it will not prevent the extraction of that $4,000 from his pay envelope.

Ray Conger Wins Mile in K. of C. Games

New York, March 12.—[Special.]—For one fleeting second the unwritten tradition of an American victory in the famous Columbian mile, the feature event of the New York chapter of the Knights of Columbus athletic carnival at Madison Square Garden tonight, hung precariously in the balance but the last despairing plunge of Ray Conger whisked it away to safety as he edged out Dr. Paul Martin of Switzerland by six inches in the closest finish that this classic race ever has had.

While a crowd of more than 10,000 turned the Garden into bedlam the runner from the midwest turned back the formidable sprint of the surgeon from Switzerland with a beautiful one of his own that just lasted until his wiry body hit the tape.

Dr. Martin had utter consternation written on his features as his own chest hit the broken tape. For the conquerer of Conger in their three previous meetings had thought that he had one more half lap to go, and this mistake of judgment may have caused him to lose the race.

This of course is problematical, but in justice to Dr. Martin it must be stated that he was comparatively fresh at the finish of the first mile race that he had ever run in time so close to Conger's winning figures of 4:15 2-10 that not a tenth of a second could have separated them.

For Conger it was his sixth consecutive mile victory of the campaign, and his time was the fastest of the season.

Despite the fact that Supreme Court Justice Alfred H. Townley had sustained the Knights of Columbus in its legal fight against the A. A. U. to have Stanislaw Petkiewicz of Poland run in the race, the Warsaw law student refused to start, as he was fearful of unfavorable action by the International Amateur Athletic federation on his disbarment in Latvia, which case is still pending.

Plowing his way to the lead at the very crack of the gun and running in front all of the way, Bernie McCafferty of Holy Cross raced the second fastest 600 yards ever traversed to gain a leg on the beautiful $1,000 Cardinal Hayes trophy.

Miss Stella Walsh of Cleveland, the world's fastest girl runner, lived up to her reputation by tying the 40 yard world's indoor record of :05.2 in her heat, and later shattered all records for the women's 220 yard test. She was clocked for the furlong in :26.1, which breaks her own unofficial mark of :26.8, the official standard of :28.8, and the world's indoor mark of :26.8.

HOW FIGHTERS START THE DAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 12.—Another day has passed and still John Joseph McGraw and his arrogant New York Giants haven't quaffed of victorious ambrosia. Today's score was White Sox 10, Giants 6.

You can't thoroughly appreciate the utter humiliation the Gothamites are suffering just now. It's only the spring, 'tis true, but the gnashing of teeth is no less evident in the New York camp than when the boys were going down the line for a National league pennant. Four games of the spring series now have been played and the Giants have won nary a game. The nearest the New Yorkers came was yesterday's tie.

The thrashing today was more inconsiderate than the previous pastings because the Sox did most of the damage in one inning, the third, when they accomplished a homer, three doubles, four singles, and a sacrifice against one of the Giants' big four, Freddie Fitzsimmons. This onslaught accounted for seven runs.

Harris' Homer Breaks Tie.

Bill Cissell and Dave Harris were the stars. Bill made a homer and three singles in four times at bat, scored three runs, and stole a base. In the field he accepted nine chances, four of them difficult, without an error. Harris broke a 1 to 1 tie with a homer which drove in two men ahead.

Ted Blankenship pitched the first five innings and held the National leaguers to five hits. Four of the five were severe, however, being homers by Jackson and Terry and doubles by Fullis and O'Farrell. Grady Adkins finished and did only fairly well. The entire Chicago cast performed without an error.

The end of the second inning saw the teams tied, 1 to 1. The Giants were credited with their marker when Jackson made the first New York homer of the year, a smack over the left field wall. The Sox score was more gradual. Blackerby reached second on Marshall's bad throw past Terry, went to third when Cissell beat out a hit to deep short, and scored on Clancy's sacrifice fly to Fullis.

Crawford Dies Stealing.

The Sox had to play heads up baseball to avert trouble in the first of the third. Fullis opened the inning with a double and Terry walked. The pair moved up on Fisher's sacrifice fly. Crawford tapped to Blankenship and Fullis was run down, Blankenship to Riddle to Jeffries, Terry going to third on the play and Crawford stopping at first. Crawford tried to steal and was out by ten feet or so.

It was in the last of the third inning that Mr. Bush's boys committed butchery. Jeffries started it with a single to left, then Hunnefield struck out. Watwood singled to center, Jeffries moving to third and Watwood taking second on the throw. Harris then knocked the ball over the left field wall, scoring Jeffries and Watwood ahead. Blackerby doubled to center and stopped at third when Cissel sent a long single to center. Blackerby scored and Cissell held first on Clancy's second sacrifice fly. Riddle doubled to center, scoring Cissell. Blankenship then doubled to right center, Riddle running home. Jeffries got his second hit of the inning, scoring Blankenship. It was over when Hunnefield contributed his second out of the inning, a pop to Crawford.

Today's Game Canceled.

Of course it wasn't much of a ball game the rest of the way, the latter innings being devoted largely to the further starring of Cissell, who got his homer in the fifth and his fourth successive single in the eighth.

The games scheduled for tomorrow and Friday were canceled because of casualties of both clubs, according to the announcement before today's contest.

Manager Bush this evening received telegrams from Smead Jolly and Tommy Thomas stating that Thomas will return Friday and Jolly will arrive Saturday.

BRUINS GO AFTER THE ONE RECORD LEFT STANDING

BY HARLAND ROHM.

The world's champion Boston Bruins will try to tie the only seasonal hockey record they haven't broken this year, while playing the Chicago Blackhawks at the Stadium tonight. And the Hawks will endeavor to gain an even break in the season's series of six games in this final engagement between the two teams this year.

The one seasonal record the Bruins haven't broken is the one for consecutive games without a defeat. Two years ago Les Canadiens ran up a chain of 18 games without a defeat, though they were tied four times in the series. Boston now has a string of 17 games, including only one tie, and hasn't been defeated in two months, since the Hawks licked them 2 to 1, on Jan. 16.

Win Eleven Straight.

The Bruins now have a string of eleven consecutive victories, but this isn't as good as one of 14 straight they made earlier in the year, which is a league record. Among the other records Boston has broken this year are scoring with 163 goals in 41 games, greatest number of games won in a regular season of 44 games, fewest number of defeats and fewest ties.

In addition the Bruins are the only team in the league which hasn't been shut out in a single game, only team which hasn't lost a game on Canadian ice, only team which has lost only one home game and only team which has staged the "iron man" act of winning two games on successive nights more than once, Boston having done it three times.

The Bruins have set various other lesser marks, but that list is sufficient to show why they are holders of the Stanley cup and why they are top-heavy favorites to repeat in the coming playoffs. Yet only one team has been able to beat the Bruins more than once this year—the Blackhawks.

Bruins Hold Edge.

In the five games the two teams have played, Boston has won the three played on their home ice, while the Hawks have won both of the contests played in Chicago.

Compiling those records for the Bruins are a group of hockey stars, the "Dynamite Trio" of Weiland, Clapper, and Gainor leading the league with 89 goals and 73 assists.

Boston will be without the services of Lionel Hitchman, powerful defense man, tonight, as he suffered a broken jaw a few weeks ago. George Owen, formerly Harvard football star, will be in his place. Chicago will match the loss with Marvin Wentworth, defense man, who is in St. Luke's hospital with an attack of catarrhal jaundice.

While Chicago has not such high scoring stars as Boston, the Hawks have a better record in that every one of the nine forwards who has played through the season has 14 points or more in the scoring column.

COMISKEY REPLY TO SHIRES PUTS CARDS ON TABLE

The exchange of communications between Charles A. Comiskey of the White Sox and his wayward first baseman, Arthur Shires, continued yesterday.

Commy dispatched a letter to Shires at Italy, Tex., during the day and admitted last night he put all his cards on the table. "Shires can answer the questions I've asked him and make certain pledges to me or the White Sox will forget all about him," Commy said.

And the Old Roman, who while in a mellow mood 24 hours earlier, said he might boost his original salary offer of $7,000 a year to Shires if Art convinced him he wanted to be a good boy, declared last night that $7,000 a year will be all any contract sent to Shires will call for.

"Of course, that doesn't mean $7,000 is all I'll ever pay him," Commy said. "But this peculiar boy must show me first he wants to be a ball player and not a carnival snake charmer before I'll even try to take him seriously."

Louis Comiskey, son of the Sox owner, returned from the White Sox training camp in Texas yesterday and will lend his moral and physical support to his dad in the controversy with Shires.

ENTRY LIST FOR ILLINOIS RELAYS MOUNTS TO 945

Champaign, Ill., March 13.—[Special.]—Late entries have swelled the list of athletes to 945 for the Illinois relay carnival Saturday. They represent 84 universities, colleges and high schools.

A four mile relay team from the University of Pennsylvania is among the entries. Coach Lawson Robertson has canceled the nomination of a mile relay outfit, substituting the long distance combination of Coan, Montgomery, McNiff, and Ritchie.

Confirmation has been received from the University of Kansas, relating to the entry of Jim Bausch, sensational sophomore. He will compete in the shot. Bausch, who recently captured the Big Six title in the event with a heave of 48 feet 7 inches, also is known to the athletic world as a full back and as regular center on the Jayhawk basketball team.

DE VOS, CHASTAIN EASE UP ON DRILLS FOR STADIUM GO

Rene De Vos, Belgian world war hero, and Clyde Chastain, the Texan, principals in a ten round headliner at the Stadium tomorrow night, completed intensive preparations for their encounter yesterday.

Light exercises today and tomorrow will serve to put both fighters on edge. Odds still favor De Vos to beat the Texan because of greater experience.

Three other ten round bouts complete Friday night's card.

Appleby Scores Third Win in Cue Tourney

St. Louis, Mo., March 12.—(AP)—Edgar Appleby of New York tonight defeated M. C. Wallgren, Pacific coast champion, 300 to 140, in 14 innings to take the lead in the national amateur 18.2 balk line billiard tournament. Appleby's victory gave him three victories without a defeat, while Percy Collins of Chicago, who upset Ray V. Fessenden of Madison, Wis., 300 to 226, in 30 innings this afternoon, was in second place with two wins and no defeats.

Golden Prince Is Scratched from $100,000 Race Feature

San Diego, Cal., March 12.—(AP)—Golden Prince, considered one of the leading contenders for the $100,000 added Agua Caliente handicap at the Agua Caliente track March 23, has been scratched by its owners and will be sent to the Imperial Beach ranch.

Former Stanford Grid Stars to Coach at Mississippi

SMITTY—SLOW AND SURE

THAT KID IS PLENTY LATE THIS MORNING
SAY, THIS HAS GONE FAR ENOUGH - YOU'VE BEEN ACTING TOO FLIP LATELY - JUST BECAUSE YOU GOT $500. I SUPPOSE YOU THINK YOU'RE SOME-BODY
YOU THINK YOU CAN GET AWAY WITH ANYTHING NOW - DON'T LET MONEY GO TO YOUR HEAD-
YOU GOT ME WRONG, BOSS
JUST BECAUSE THE TAXI I WAS IN GOT STUCK IN TRAFFIC, COULD I HELP IT?

Bad News Bob Defeats Classy Field at N. O.

New Orleans, La., March 12.—[Special.]—Bad News Bob, the Louisiana Derby candidate, which E. R. Bradley sold to H. C. Hatch of Canada here a few days ago, turned in a brilliant performance at Jefferson Park this afternoon when he won the Downs purse at a mile and a sixteenth from a group of Derby eligibles.

Stepping the distance in 1:44 1-5, Bad News Bob defeated Harry Payne Whitney's On the Air by three lengths with Dixie Lad a half length back in third place. Reveille Boy and By Product completed the field and neither was ever able to make it interesting for the leaders.

It was the first time Mr. Hatch's silks had been carried here this season, and while Bad News Bob had a following, Reveille Boy went to the post a pronounced favorite. On the Air made the pace for the first six furlongs, but at that stage Jockey Fronk sent Bad News Bob to the front and he was only cantering as he came down the stretch far in advance of all his rivals. In the mutuel betting he paid $8.10 to win.

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"
—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL.D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the men whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

New Booklet Explains Facts That Every Person Should Know

It is one of the most authoritative booklets ever written on the disease of inebriety and its cure. It is based on fifty years' experience, embracing the treatment of more than 400,000 patients, including men and women from all walks of life. The booklet is free. Simply write and ask for it.

BIG TEN SWIM MEET APPEARS TO BE TOSS UP

Purple and Wolverines Are Favorites.

Records in every event on the program will be endangered when the aquatic stars of the Big Ten go into action at Northwestern university tomorrow night in the annual Western conference championships. Preliminaries in the fancy diving will be held tomorrow afternoon while elimination trials in all other events are on tap for tomorrow night.

Michigan and Northwestern, possessing the strongest teams in their swimming history, will provide most of the fireworks. Between them they have five of last year's champions and every one holds the Big Ten record in his specialty.

It's a Toss-Up.

Other teams including Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Chicago have a number of stars in their own right but do not boast of sufficient all around strength to edge ahead of the two favorites.

Michigan, winner of the championship last year, will find the Purple a stubborn foe. In fact the two teams are so easily matched that any slight misjudgment is likely to throw the meet in favor of one team or the other.

Two Relays Important.

Considerable importance is attached to the two relays, the 160 yard sprint relay and the 300 yard medley relay. In the former, Michigan holds a slight edge with Northwestern and Wisconsin to be considered as possibilities.

K. OF C. CAGERS QUALIFY FOR STADIUM MEET

The Knights of Columbus Basketball league held playoffs last night at the Broadway armory to determine qualifying teams from each of the five divisions which will begin the elimination tournament Sunday afternoon at the Stadium.

De Soto won first place in the north division, defeating O'Conner, 32 to 11, and Marquette won the playoff for third place in the same division, defeating University, 29 to 15. Setter took third place in the west division on a last minute basket by Lawless defeating Carroll, 14 to 13.

De La Salle's 12 to 7 victory over Santa Maria earned third place in the central division.

Two Chicago Women Lose in Bellair Annual Event

Bellair, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Two Chicago women were beaten today in the quarter finals of the annual Bellair women's golf championship. Mrs. J. H. Indig, Chicago, lost to Mrs. Helen B. Stetson, Philadelphia, former national champion and present titleholder, 1 down, while Mrs. John Arends, Chicago, lost to Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., 1 down.

THEY FALL FOR HIM

Idlers? Not These Boys Training for N. Y. Fights

BY FRENCH LANE.

Let's spend a day with the gallant little band of Golden Glove warriors who will carry Chicago's colors into battle against New York at the Chicago Stadium next Wednesday night.

The loop just was begining to blink its eyes and the sun was starting to peep over Lake Michigan yesterday morning as the young glove swingers began to hop out of their beds at the Chicago Athletic association.

Joe Baima, the middleweight, made his way down to the private dining room, just off the main Cherry circle dining room. He was among the first to arise. That was at 7 o'clock. In the center is a large round table where twenty can surround the festive board.

Soon Joe was joined by Grant Fortney, Buck Everett, Ed, Steeve with his injured fist in a large bandage, by Sid Kaplan, Benny Goldblatt, Karl Ogren, Paul Leberto and other members of the team. It may interest you to know what these boys ate for breakfast. They started with a dish of applesauce, then came boiled eggs and toast and tea or milk.

Breakfast was over at 8 o'clock and after 30 minutes of rest, the fighters started to get ready for their road work. They were all out on Michigan avenue headed for Grant park at 9 o'clock. For an hour and a half the lads walked, jogged and sprinted. They covered more than six miles and at 10:30 o'clock they were back at the C. A. A. The overweights dropped down beneath heavy blankets and the perspiration flowed nearly an hour. Then came shower baths and at 12 o'clock the parade started once more to the private dining room for lunch.

And what did the leather pushers find awaiting them on the luncheon table?

First they were served a dish of rice. Then came soup. Later a big helping of roast lamb, mashed potatoes and toast. Milk was the beverage which wound up the meal.

It was 1 o'clock when they began to file out of the dining room. There came another hour of rest. Some of the boys took short naps. Others played cards. They began to move toward the C. A. A. gym shortly before 2 o'clock.

Comes the hardest part of their day's work. One by one they climbed into the ring and engaged in three rounds of boxing, all of three minutes duration. Sparring partners were present from here, there and everywhere. A couple of hundred Cheery circle members pushed their way into the auditorium to watch.

There came more shower baths and a rundown. It was 4 o'clock before the lads were back in their rooms for another rest period of two hours. The dinner bell rang at 6 o'clock. They were a hungry lot but the training table diet continued. They started with soup. Next came steak or fish, green peas, baked potatoes and toast. Milk or tea was served and for desert a heaping dish of apple sauce.

WHEN THIS GARY LAD HITS THEM THEY STAY HIT

Buck Everett Ready for Golden Gloves Bouts.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

"There's Buck Everett of the Gary steel mills—he just socks 'em, and they fall."

That was the word which went round the ringside when a lanky light heavyweight stepped up for his first bout in the Golden Gloves tournament. Two hundred of the toughest young fellows of the central states had fought their way into that great amateur show. But Buck, you see, is a phlegmatic fellow and didn't realize how tough they were. So he just socked 'em, and they fell.

He licked five of them in three nights to win the light heavyweight championship and the right to represent Chicago in the intercity bouts with New York next Wednesday. As his opponents came up one by one to sit in the opposite corner and glare across the ring before the gong, they looked so hard boiled that Buck wouldn't have needed much imagination to see himself stretched on the canvas for the count. But the point is that Buck has no imagination. So he just socked 'em, and they fell.

Buck's for Fair Play.

Buck has been socking people since he was just a kid down in the mining district of southern Illinois. He's never started a fight in his life, but he's finished many. It was to Buck that the little fellows would come a-running when that big guy in the next block had twisted their arms and taken their candy away from them. Buck would listen to the kid's tale, stolidly and without comment, for he doesn't get mad very often. Then he'd march into the next block to swing his fists in the cause of fair play.

A fellow had to be handy with his knuckles down in the coal country, for whether he was looking for trouble or minding his own business, it was pretty easy to get mixed up in a brawl. Some of those fights were rousing affairs which gave all concerned a rollicking good time, but others brought tragedy with them. For instance, the one which ended when Buck's father lay dead from a blow with a jack handle.

At that time the boy was 7 years old and the family was living on a farm not far from Marion, Buck's birthplace. But Mrs. Everett found that the task of running a farm and raising a family of five boys and three girls was too much for her strength. So they moved into the town of Pittsburgh, Ill.

It was there that Buck received his schooling. During the summer he worked on farms in the neighborhood, sometimes shocking corn, sometimes pitching hay, sometimes just filling in on odd jobs.

Family Moves to Gary.

When he was a little older he went to work at one of the mines, unloading cars containing rock and the props which were used to bank the walls and ceilings of the tunnels. Buck's work was always above ground, but his three older brothers were forced to toil down in the deep, dark passages of the mines.

Three years ago the family came to Gary and all are living there now with the exception of the oldest boy, who is down in Alabama. Buck, who is now 19, stays with his mother and his 16 year old brother. The other members of the family are married.

Soon after arriving in Gary, Buck went to work in the mills. For eight hours every day he walks about an enormous shed with a bucket of paint in one hand and a brush in the other, daubing identification marks on bars of steel.

Started in Y. M. C. A. Gym.

Buck had always wanted to go in the ring, so about two and a half years ago he began working out at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in Gary. He took a lot of pummeling in his early sparring.

Buck has had 45 or 50 fights in his career, he can't quite remember the exact number. He's lost about five, but nobody has been able to knock him out. He's been on the floor, but always got up and went back at his man with that awful wallop which makes fight fans say:

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POT HUNTING.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 12.—Friend Don: Well, Don, while browsing around the golf courses down here, I ran into a little gossip and thought I better tell you about it. It concerns "pot hunting" in several ladies' tourneys.

You know in the Western Women's, Metropolitan, and most permanent organizations, players have a handicap and are graded as eligible to certain flights only. Therefore, if a player is "off" her game and fails to qualify in her proper flight, she is out of it and cannot drop down to a lower flight.

Well, it seems that in several hotel and club tourneys, which are mostly daily or weekly fee affairs, several ladies couldn't shoot better than about 110 or 115 in the qualifying round, and so were in the third or fourth flight. But, then, how their game changed! They got good and shot only 90s and 95s, and just breezed through the flights where they placed.

Of course, other ladies talked about them, but they took home the silver cups just the same, for there is a cup for every flight. And the upshot of it is many regular third and fourth flighters won't enter tourneys any more, because they haven't a chance. You wouldn't think, Don, any lady would take advantage of another lady at golf, would you?

Another thing, did you ever hear of a duck hunter's cocktail? It was a new one on me, and just hearing of it is plenty after watching it work upon a venturesome soul to whom it was new. Here is the concoction: Half a cup of hot coffee mixed with half a cup of bacardi and a dash of butter. Well, Don, after the demonstrator had three of them, he didn't want to hunt ducks at all. He kept repeating, "Bring on your elephants, bring on your lions, I'll fight them barehanded."

Another thing I noticed is that more people are taking short trips of three or four days to Cuba. That probably is because it is possible to fly over in two and one-half hours, and there also are good boats from Miami, thus eliminating the trip down to Key West. Our friend, Manuel Lopez of the Ambos Mundos, sent me a postcard that his business is better than ever this season.

We're expecting the ladies—Mrs. Wake, Tom Neal's wife, Mrs. Harwood and her daughter, Betty, of Evanston—home from Cuba any day now. Then I won't have the family bus for exclusive use, so I'll be thinking of coming home. I do want another crack at that Melbourne water hole, even if I did lose three balls before I got across. And Ernie Waud promised to be my partner again, which is considerable test of friendship.

It was mighty thoughtful of you to forward that pay check. My jingle was pretty light before it came, but it'll last longer at Melbourne Beach because you can't speculate on anything except the slot machines and any one who does that should consult an alienist. Regards to the bunch.

HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

MICKEY WALKER FIGHTS MONDAY AT WHITE CITY

While it isn't expected that Walker would risk his reputation for the sum he'll get fighting Mahoney, yet Jimmy's record seems to be good enough to make Walker step to win.

He has won decisively on two occasions from Larry Johnson, who was picked by the New York athletic commission to fight Maxie Rosenbloom. Mahoney has whipped Jimmy Slattery, recognized in New York as the light heavyweight champion, and lost another decision on a foul. Tom Pivic, Lou Scozza, Osh Till, Joe Anderson, Dick Daniels, George Courtney, and Emmet Curtice are other lads Mahoney has beaten.

In the semi-windup of eight rounds at 175 pounds Ted Ross, South Chicago, will mix with Edgar Norman. A six round bout will bring the heavyweights Nisse Ramm and Blondy Davis, together. Another six round heavyweights bout will be between Charlie Retzlaff and Man Mountain Erickson.

LISTEN FOR THE SPARROW SONG; IT MEANS SPRING

Watch for Meadowlark; He's Due Also.

BY BOB BECKER.

Less than seven weeks until the opening of the trout fishing season in the states around the great lakes. Only a few days until the song sparrows will be heard in the thickets. About a week and the first meadow larks will fill the air with their cheery notes. Mark off about three and one-half weeks and we ought to see the advance scouts of the purple martins, unless a late spring delays their arrival.

This is the way the impatient outdoor fan can read the March calendar, which at best is one of the "slowest" charts of the year, because it marks the transition between the passing of winter and the definite arrival of spring and many migrating birds.

It's Spring in South.

While passing through Alabama and Tennessee on our way home from Florida we could see that this transition already had been made. Peach trees were masses of delicate pink blossoms and jonquils were in blossom.

In Chicagoland this transition must come later, of course, because March is a tricky month. As a matter of fact, this month may throw some of our early birds completely off their schedules because of a spell of cold weather. On the other hand, signs of an early balmy spring will speed up the arrival of some species.

In a normal March we ought to hear the bubbling songs of the first song sparrows about the 18th or 19th. With the redwinged blackbirds to furnish color and the song sparrows to produce the music late March becomes worth while to the bird fan who is impatient for the great waves of feathered migrants, which will be coming out of the south a little later.

Watch for the Sparrows.

It is interesting to note that over a period of years the meadow lark and the song sparrow have been running a neck and neck race on an average arrival in Chicagoland. But the records show the meadow lark is just one lap behind the gay little song sparrow when the latter checks in. However, one day (the difference in the average arrival dates of these two well known birds) is not much in a migration schedule, so to all intents and purposes we can list the sparrow and the meadow lark as companions on the March migration highway.

Here come the Spring felts, flying in just in time to take the place of Winter's veterans.

And we're specially set up over our $5 hat; good as these hats have always been, we've added linings to match the colors that make 'em even more attractive values.

The shapes are as smartly modern as the new gray, tan and brown shades, and altogether it would be hard to find worthier hats for your head.

Yet—$5 is all.

CHICAGO STOCK LIST ERRATIC; PRICES WEAKEN

Borg-Warner Reports Net of $7,682,590.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Recently accumulated gains were carelessly dealt with in a session marked by erratic price movements on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. The list steadied perceptibly as the early realizing tapered off, but closing prices were irregular, with the weak side claiming the majority of the issues.

Anticipating the annual report, which was released after the close of the market, Borg-Warner showed strength during the session and finished slightly higher. The report showed net earnings for 1929 of $7,682,590.

Equals $6.03 a Share.

After deduction of income of subsidiaries made prior to date of acquisition and provision for minority stockholders' interest and preferred dividends, the net is equivalent to $6.03 a share on the 1,230,959 shares of common stock. In 1928 the company earned net of $4,610,831, which was equivalent to $10.64 a share on the 410,000 shares of common then outstanding.

Current assets of Dec. 31 were $19,221,823 and current liabilities $4,391,798, which compares with $16,213,489 and $3,999,280 respectively at the end of 1928.

Acquisitions made during 1929 have diversified the company's business, President C. L. Davis says in his report. "The management believes," he states, "that the business can be still further diversified by increased sales outside the automobile industry, especially in the rolling mill, industrial power transmission, and electrical refrigeration divisions."

Utility stocks were nearly all lower at the close, but most of them showed improvement from their lows of the day. Middle West was off 1⅛ to 35, while Midland United and Central and Southwest suffered similar reverses. Cities Service was actively traded and was up a fraction at the finish. Acquisition of control of Federal Light and Traction company by the Doherty firm was announced yesterday.

Vote Stock Rights.

Associated Telephone Utilities was quiet and unchanged despite announcement that directors had voted stock subscription rights to holders of record March 22 to buy stock at $24 a share on the basis of one share for each four held.

Industrial specialties, with a few notable exceptions, were soft. Binks Manufacturing, which has been comparatively inactive for some time, spurted more than three points and Winton improved 3¼ to a new high for the year at 63. Great Lakes Dredge fell 10½.

JAPANESE FIRM PURCHASES SITE FOR NEW FACTORY

Will Build at Townsend and Huron Streets.

BY AL CHASE.

Shinsaku Nagano, president of the Fuji Trading company, has acquired the vacant property at the southwest corner of Huron and Townsend streets on which his company plans the immediate construction of a three story fireproof building for the manufacture of its products. Mr. Nagano bought the ground from Frank G. Gustafson, Henry E. Hedberg and James E. Bistor for a reported

SHINSAKU NAGANO.

$100,000, subject to $50,000. Together with the ground the factory project will represent a reported investment of $300,000. The site is 192x100 feet.

L. E. Russell designed the factory which is to occupy all the ground purchased. It will be completed for occupancy next fall. Patterson & Hartridge have the general contract.

Largest of Its Kind.

The Fuji company, now located at 311-15 West Austin avenue, is said to be the largest importer and manufacturer of oriental food products in the country. Among its products are chop suey, chow mein, bamboo shoots, bean sprouts, etc. Yoshi Miyagishina is secretary of the firm. E. A. Teich & Co. were only brokers in yesterday's transaction. C. Lysle Smith was attorney for the purchaser.

Dennis E. Madden has purchased the twelve flats at the northeast corner of Washington street and East avenue, Oak Park, from Joseph A. Geilen and Norbert W. Weber for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $100,000. Lambert K. Hayes was attorney for Mr. Madden.

Aldine Avenue Deal.

Title to the apartment hotel building at 641 Aldine, lot 75x90 feet, has been transferred by Edward R. Richter to Lilly Cederborg. The transfer is subject to a lease to the Chicago Apartment Hotel company.

The six apartments at 908x10 Leland avenue, lot 55x124 feet, have been transferred by Troels S. Ericksen to Alice L. Goode for an undisclosed consideration. A. T. Miner was broker.

S. S. Kresge.

Mrs. B. F. A.: S. S. Kresge company's earnings in 1929 failed to show an increase over those of the preceding year, thereby interrupting the yearly increase shown each year since 1918.

These somewhat disappointing results were attributed partly to the fact that during the last year the company added more units than in any one year in its history and entered the Canadian field in a large way.

Net profit in 1929 was $14,952,211, equal to $2.68 per share on 5,517,929 par $10 common shares, against net profit of $15,642,853 in 1928.

Current assets were $25,248,356 and current liabilities were $8,742,925 on Dec. 31, 1929, leaving a net working capital of $16,499,431, against $22,431,305 a year before.

Profit and loss surplus was $26,256,911 at the close of 1929, after deducting a 50 per cent stock dividend amounting to $18,393,098. At the close of 1928 profit and loss surplus was $38,658,560.

Both the common and preferred are regarded as high grade stocks.

White Motor.

The company's earnings last year were considerably larger than the year before and covered the dividend requirements by a good margin.

The preliminary report of consolidated earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, showed net profit, after charges and federal taxes, amounting to approximately $2,875,000. The amount would be equal to $3.55 per share on 800,000 par $50 shares outstanding.

During the year profit and loss surplus was increased from $6,802,165 to $8,678,000.

The management reported in February that the company was receiving a large amount of new business and that the outlook was promising.

Dividends on the capital stock are $2 per year. This stock is medium grade.

Western Public Service.

J. J. M.: Western Public Service company $4,500,000 first mortgage and refunding 5½ per cent bonds, series "A," dated Feb. 1, 1930, and due Feb. 1, 1960, are a suitable investment for a business man's surplus funds.

Earnings in 1929 were 2.8 times interest requirements on these bonds in 1928, and to almost $340,000,000 in 1929.

Packard Activity.

Until recently Packard was about the only motor stock to attract much attention in the stock market. Buying of this issue, no doubt, has been predicated primarily on a development of the new Diesel airplane motor. The motor has received the approval and certificate from the United States department of commerce and is now being

CONTRASTS ARE DRAWN IN NEWS OF U. S. TRADE

Steel, Autos Slump; Raise Oil Prices.

BY O. A. MATHER.

A rather pessimistic picture of two of the major industries, steel and automobiles, was drawn by the mid-week steel trade reviews yesterday. Production of motor cars is only about half as large as a year ago. The steel mills are now operating around 75 per cent of capacity and are not expected to better this rate appreciably for several months.

On the other hand, another big industry, petroleum, produced some cheerful news. The Standard Oil Company of California made advances in crude oil prices ranging from 5 to 25 cents a barrel as the result of restriction in production. The wholesale price of U. S. motor gasoline in Chicago firmed up, being quoted at 6 to 6¼ cents a gallon. This was regarded as the immediate effect of adoption of a six day week by leading refiners.

"With business unevenly distributed geographically and with demand for different finished products showing sharp contrasts, the steel market presents a confusing picture," the Iron Age says. "For the country as a whole, ingot production has declined from 78 to 75 per cent of capacity but specifications have shown no further recession. At Chicago, however, output is holding at 95 per cent and bookings are the largest in five weeks.

See Little Expansion.

"It is recognized that April may bring a seasonal upturn in demand and that requirements not directly dependent on the ultimate consumer may hold up or actually expand in the next few months but, making due allowance for these contingencies, it is the present consensus that the steel industry will do well if it again exceeds an 80 per cent operation during the first half of the year.

"Total automobile output is now only 50 per cent of what it was in March, 1929, and this fact, coupled with the unusually cautious policy of motor car makers, accounts for a less confident attitude in the steel trade. Indications that consumer buying power has been seriously curtailed are seen in the current preference for low priced automobiles at the expense of higher priced cars. But even motor car builders catering to the small purse have reduced production."

The advance in California crude oil prices was accompanied by an optimistic statement by Standard Oil of California.

Output Balances Demand.

"This advance is made possible through the present conditions, which for the first time in years have brought production of crude oil virtually in balance with demand," the statement says. "The program curtailing California production to 609,000 barrels a day is complete with few exceptions, which, it is anticipated, will be adjusted within a few days. The

Plan Contest of Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Merger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Acquisition of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company by the Bethlehem Steel corporation now assumes the aspect of a determined battle for proxies to be used at the special meeting of the stockholders of the Youngstown company, which has been called for April 8 to pass upon the merger.

Directors of both the Bethlehem and Youngstown companies at special meetings today approved the plan of merger, which is understood to have been formulated by Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, and H. G. Dalton, vice president of the Youngstown firm, and a director in both of them.

The Eaton-Mather-Otis interests are understood to have been refused a request that the matter of the merger be considered further before the directors of the two companies passed upon it, and have formed a stockholders' committee with Youngstown and Cleveland interests opposed to the plan for the purpose of getting proxies to be voted at the special meeting of the stockholders. It was reported in New York that the passage of the merger agreement by the directors of the Youngstown company was a divided affair, with three members of the board either refusing to vote or voting against the proposition.

Terms Combine "Ideal."

James A. Campbell, chairman of the board of the Youngstown company, after the meeting of the directors today authorized a statement in which he termed a consolidation with Bethlehem as "ideal." Prior to the meeting of the board Mr. Campbell had refused to comment upon the situation, and it had been generally understood that he would remain neutral in the matter and not oppose the merger personally if a representative number of stockholders were in favor of it.

While the Eaton-Mather-Otis group are said to be fighting the merger with Bethlehem in order to leave the way open for the acquisition of the Youngstown company by the newly formed Republic Steel corporation, it was learned today that the Republic company has no offer before the Youngstown management for a merger. It was understood that negotiations were on to include the Youngstown company in the original merger of the four companies which now form the Republic company, and that the proposition was defeated chiefly through Mr. Campbell's efforts.

The fight between the interests favoring the Republic and those favoring the Bethlehem deal has for its goal the attainment of the position of being the second largest steel unit in the United States. Mr. Grace today said the assets of the Youngstown company were $235,000,000 and those of Bethlehem slightly in excess of $800,000,000. If the Youngstown and Bethlehem merger is accomplished it would represent a company with over $1,000,000,000 in assets. The Republic Steel corporation now has assets of about $350,000,000, and with the Youngstown company merged it would be close to the $600,000,000 mark.

Will Consider Plan.

With the announcement today that the Gulf States Steel company management has agreed to consider a plan of merger with the Republic company the plans of expansion of Republic began to assume proportions where it threatens Bethlehem's place as the second largest steel company in the United States.

A few weeks ago both the Republic company and the American Rolling Mills company were negotiating for Gulf States. Then both companies withdrew their offers, and a special meeting of stockholders was called for March 24, to change the by-laws of the company to make it necessary that any merger plans must be approved by holders of two-thirds of the companies' stock, instead of a majority, as the by-laws now read.

Interests allied with Otis & Co., who favored the Republic merger, retaliated by forming a stockholders' committee to obtain proxies for use in defeating the changes in bylaws and electing representatives to the board at the annual meeting scheduled for on the same day as the special meeting called to consider the bylaws. Today William H. Coverdale, president of the company, and the stockholders' committee, consisting of G. Monroe Hubbard, Robert I. Ingalls, and E. L. Mather, issued a joint statement in which it was said that an agreement had been reached whereby all the demands of the stockholders' committee would be granted.

Ferdinand Eberstadt of Otis & Co. and G. Munroe Hubbard of White & Co., will be elected directors as representing the Otis & Co. interests and the other stockholders in the committee, and Frank Altschul of Lazard Freres will join the board at the request of both parties.

FEBRUARY STATISTICS ON COPPER PRESENT RIDDLE TO FIGURE OUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Stocks of refined copper in North and South America increased 29,719 tons during February despite the fact that output was lowered. As the result stocks on hand totaled 233,123 tons at the end of February, compared with 65,213 tons on March 1, 1929.

The gain in a year's time has been 177,910 tons. Stocks of both refined and unrefined copper totaled 497,912 tons at the end of February, compared with 473,613 tons at the end of January, an increase of 24,299 tons, the American bureau of metal statistics reports.

Production of refined copper during February decreased 11,179 tons. The total output was 121,195 tons, compared with 132,374 in January and 141,385 tons a year ago. Shipments, on the other hand, dropped to 91,476 tons in February, compared with 100,296 tons in January. In February, 1929, shipments were 157,189 tons.

The fact that stocks should have increased 29,719 tons last month while production decreased 11,179 tons and shipments dropped only 8,524 tons indicates that there was something abnormal in statistics, it was stated.

Gives Real Low Down on Big Butter and Egg Man

BY SCRUTATOR.

The big butter and egg man has grown among the columnists and the stage wise cracker into a tradition that is quite different from what he really is.

Instead of being a person of Falstaffian bearing and ideas, he is a harassed business man conscious that he performs a necessary marketing function, fearful both of strictly economic changes in his business and of governmental policies under the agricultural marketing act.

The economic changes are many and varied. One of the most noteworthy has been the rise in the last five years or so of scientific egg production. An estimate by Harrison F. Jones, secretary of the National Poultry, Butter, and Egg association, places the number of eggs produced on special poultry and egg farms at nearly 10 per cent of all that get into commercial channels. The remainder are a by-product of other farm operations and are regarded by the producers as a sideline.

Keep Hens Laying.

This 10 per cent, more or less, from the specialized farms is a new thing. The men who produce them have found ways to keep their hens laying at times when the by-product man's are loafing. They have a considerable quantity of eggs that can be marketed strictly fresh in the middle of winter.

California, Florida, and Michigan have gone heavily into this kind of production. Florida is now said to produce more fresh eggs than even the winter tourist trade can consume, and there is a surplus to be shipped in the cold weather to New York. The Michigan men have found a ready market in Chicago.

From the big butter and egg man's standpoint this is an encroachment on the cold storage egg market. Something like 10 per cent of the whole commercial egg production is usually in cooler at the peak of the storage season, in August. It is becoming increasingly speculative to hold such quantities while the competent specialized producers, who scarcely existed five years ago, are growing more active each year.

There is no complaint about this trend. It is one man against another and one kind of egg battling another, without unfair advantages. It is somewhat the same with the chain stores, which are reported to do a good deal of buying of poultry, butter, and eggs in the country and themselves perform the butter and egg man's special function in distribution.

The trade does not like this latter tendency. Yet it does not request any legislative aid to stop chain stores from doing what they can to make profits. It is willing to take that situation as it comes. But the government furnishes another kind of problem.

Fears Government Competition.

Frankly, the butter and egg man fears that the government will go into his products as it has gone into the grain market. He admits that he cannot remain in competition with government. Some of his organizations have come out into the open and attacked the policies of the federal farm board before any of them have been applied directly to their business.

In the last week or so the Minnesota Egg, Butter and Poultry association passed resolutions deploring "the theories presented in the agricultural marketing act and the practices developing thereunder, which can only lead to the confiscation of their property without due process of law." The property referred to is the property of butter and egg men. They claim to have a billion and a half invested and to do a gross of three billions a year.

Missouri's egg and poultry shippers resolved formally that their independence was threatened and that the country was Russianized by such policies. A similar tenor was taken by their brothers in Indiana and Ohio.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Stockholders of Household Products, Inc., have approved a plan for merging with Drug, Inc., through an exchange of shares. The exchange will be on the basis of one share of Drug for each share and one-half of Household Products. Stockholders of Drug, Inc., have already approved the deal. Household Products' best known products are Fletcher's Castoria and Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

URGES CHANGE IN LAW AFFECTING RAIL GROUPINGS

Modification of provisions of the transportation act as affecting railroad consolidation was urged last night by Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway, at the annual dinner of the American Railway Engineering association.

"It implies no criticism of the interstate commerce commission to say that the consolidation plan satisfies no one. Considered as a whole, it does not satisfy the commissioners themselves. The most that can be said for it is that it is a formal compliance with the mandate of congress," said Mr. Donnelly.

"It does not follow, however, that the movement toward a reduction in the number of our railroad operating units should be abandoned, or that the spirit which informed the legislation of 1920 is in any sense to be deprecated. The great railroad systems should be strong and self-sustaining; their number should not be excessive, and the operations of distinct companies should be coordinated and unified when this will promote efficiency and economy and the interests of the public are duly protected," he said.

New York, March 12.—A group of professional bear traders came swarming back today and cut down boomlets, hacked off the heads of aspiring young would-be pivotals, and slashed prices ruthlessly all over the map.

Weatherbeaten old veterans of the list were butchered with the rest. United States Steel lost 3¼ points on the day. U. S. Industrial Alcohol was set back 7, Eastman Kodak 5, Johns-Manville 4, Columbian Carbon 5¼, Peoples Gas—lately bellwether to the utilities—7, American Can 3¾, Foreign Power 5⅞, Westinghouse 5⅝, and Western Union 3 points.

Rallies at Midday.

It came near being a complete rout for the bull forces. In the early trading it looked as if the witches were abroad, selling assuming the heavier scope in weeks. Around midday, when call money dropped from 4 to 3½ per cent, leaders of the constructive element tried to apply the brakes and rally their supporters and for a time they seemed to be succeeding. Prices recovered all along the line, some of them rather sharply.

The middle of the afternoon, however, found the destructive cohorts once more in full cry and final prices in a big proportion of cases were around the lowest of the day.

News of the day very largely favored operations for the decline. The announcement that steel operations had been lowered, further weakness in wheat, copper statistics for February showing surplus stocks up again, despite curtailed production, and a general feeling that the New York federal reserve bank might not cut its

Consider Industrial Bonds

In Building a Well Balanced Investment Account

ONE of the most important factors in the development of this country has been the tremendous expansion of our industries. Probably no country has enjoyed such an outstanding industrial growth in such a short period of time.

During the last few years the industrial bond has become increasingly popular. There are good reasons for this. Business today is remarkably stable in comparison with the recurring boom and depression periods of the past. Sound, scientific management is asserting itself more and more. The modern "hand-to-mouth" policy of conducting business has largely eliminated the possibility of heavy inventory losses. All this has brought about a greater stability of earnings. Furthermore, the equity behind industrial bonds in the last few years has been greatly increased due to the retention of a large proportion of earnings by many corporations and to a large volume of stock financing.

Carefully selected industrial bonds today offer excellent investment opportunities. They not only afford adequate safety, but also a slightly higher income return than that given by other classes of bonds of comparable investment merit.

BULLISH FORCES APPEAR AFTER SLUMP IN WHEAT

Traders Expect Rally to Follow.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

There was considerable buying yesterday of deferred deliveries on the Chicago Board of Trade on prospects of a cold wave entering the winter wheat belt. There were also bullish reports of dry weather in parts of Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Nebraska, with some claims of actual deterioration in the western sections of the four states. There was a feeling around the board that wheat, having reached the lowest level in months, is due for a rally.

Trade Estimates Buying.

Despite heavy buying by the government there was a drop of around 7 cents in the March and May deliveries here from the high of last week. The trade estimated that the government had bought over 2,000,000 bushels of May wheat here and 1,000,000 bushels at Minneapolis during the day.

Aside from the persistent refusal of importing countries to take hold on a liberal scale there was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the decline of 11⅝@11¾ cents in the price of the new crop deliveries of wheat that has occurred during the last week.

Corn and Oats Drop.

The break in corn and oats was largely in sympathy with wheat, as there was no pressure of consequence in the cash grain market, and a good shipping demand was maintained, corn sales being 140,000 bushels and oats 153,000 bushels. It was claimed that leading mills had reduced their corn grinding, with one operating on a five day schedule. Corn deliveries sold at a new low for the season, closing 1⅞ to 2¼ cents lower, with March grain at 75⅝ cents and May 79⅞ to 80 cents, while oats were ⅝ to 1⅝ cents lower, March oats finishing at 39⅞ cents and May grain at 41⅛ to 41¼ cents.

Liquidation was on again in the rye market, with all deliveries at a new low for the season. The close was 2⅛ to 2¼ cents lower, with March and May grain finishing at 60 cents a bushel. Heavy short covering was in evidence on the break, and there were indications that the liquidation had spent its force.

R-K-O TO VOTE ON INCREASE OF CLASS A STOCK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—A special meeting of stockholders of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation is scheduled for March 26, following the annual meeting when shareholders will vote on a proposal to increase the authorized class A stock to 4,000,000 shares from 3,500,000.

The additional 500,000 shares are being issued to place the company in a position to expand its business from time to time through raising of additional funds by the sale of class A, it was announced.

RECOVERY IN COTTON

Cotton markets displayed surprising strength yesterday and recovered part of recent losses. The spot market was up 25c from Tuesday's close showing an advance of 55 points from the inside of a few days ago, equal to more than $2.50 a bale. New York was 14.55c; New Orleans, 14.35c; Houston, 14.70c, and Galveston, 14.85c.

Ginning for the 1929 crop, as estimated by E. H. Miller, the James E. Bennett & Co., statistician, is 14,553,259 bales. Intentions to plant for the 1930 crop suggest a decrease of 8 to 9 per cent in acreage from last year. Prices follow:

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by nine men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who, he claimed, had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother, Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe, and others. As they reach the table the lights go out, and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead, with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her, by putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is determined to find the murderer to clear himself. Ellen arranged a meeting to warn him against Dave Moss, and Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son, Pete. He suggests that she marry him. They are quietly married and Jim goes on with his investigation.

MORE EVIDENCE.

Mrs. Glen asked Jim what he thought the sheriff would do.

"I wonder," Jim said dryly. "It wouldn't surprise me if he put me in the calaboose again."

"Why should he?" demanded the plump matron. "He knows that Moss outfit an' he don't love 'em any."

"Sometimes I think he doesn't love me either," the young man answered. "Probably it's six of one an' half a dozen of the other."

He finished a cup of coffee and excused himself. "I'll be runnin' along," he said. "Sorry, honey, but I got to check up one or two things."

"I'm going with you," Ellen said.

"I don't reckon you better," he replied. "Best for you not to get mixed in this business."

Mrs. Glen had left the room and he took occasion to tell her in the wordless ways of a lover that she was the only woman in the world.

"But I've got to be mixed in everything that concerns you now," she argued. "It would be perfectly safe for me to go with you. I . . . I want to go very much."

"You win," he told her gayly. "Sure it will be safe. The Moss tribe have shot their wad—until dark. Get yore bonnet on, honey, an' we'll start right off."

"What do you do with all the old soles and heels?" "Fling 'em in that pile and every once in a while burn the whole caboodle."

Walking down the street, she mentioned what was in her mind. "I hope you didn't . . . that Sam will get well. He deserves what he got. You weren't to blame at all. But——"

"I hope so, too," he answered quietly.

"His father will be crazy mad, and he's a terrible man."

"I reckon."

But his thoughts were of her, not of his danger. She was his wife, this fleeom, light stepping young thing about whom still clung the rapture of dreams not yet blown away. His wife! A bugle of joy sounded in his breast. His partner for life, and it had not been a week since he had walked into the kitchen where she was making pies and had seen her for the first time.

There was only one cobbler in town. He had a little shop sandwiched between a drug store and a saloon.

"Like to have these heels built up while I wait," Jim said, showing his boots. "Can you do it for me? Or are you rushed?"

"I'm always busy," the little man said, "but I can do it." He bustled about and found a chair for Ellen.

Jim took off one of his boots and sat down on a spare bench.

The old man was garrulous, and it was easy to start him on a tide of reminiscence. He had mended a pair of boots once for General Phil Sheridan and once had made firm a loose sole for Senator Ingalls. The best people in town came to him.

"More folks come for half soling than for new heels, I reckon," Jim suggested.

"Yes, that's so, but they come for heels, too. Why, Sheriff Manders was in only yesterday and had his boots reheeled. Some men's boots run over more 'n others. Depends on the way they walk."

"I've fixed Al's boots for years."

"What do you do with all the old soles and heels?"

"Fling 'em in that pile, and every once in a while burn the whole caboodle."

"Probably you notice peculiarities in different men's boots," Ellen said. "I wouldn't be surprised if you could pick out of all that pile the heels you took from the sheriff's boots."

"Right you are, ma'am," the cobbler nodded proudly. He leaned forward, selected a pair of run-down heels, and handed them to her. "Those are the very ones I took off'n his boots yesterday."

Jim showed astonishment. "Well, that's surprising. Every man to his trade. I'll bet you could even swear to these."

"Sure enough I could. You can't fool me after I've handled a fellow's footwear. I'd know them heels a year from now."

A swift glance passed between husband and wife. The cobbler rose from his bench to get a piece of leather he needed. For a moment he turned his back. The dusty heels were dropped into Jim's coat pocket. They were gone when the Rutledges left the shop ten minutes later.

"Let's go to Doctor Aubrey's office," Jim said.

The doctor was in.

He greeted them in his punctilious fashion, bowing to Ellen from the chair. After which he shifted his shoulders in the seersucker coat and looked at Jim significantly.

"When a man takes in holy matrimony a beautiful young woman he owes it to himself and to her to give her a nice honeymoon trip. It would be not quite fitting for you to stay in town at this auspicious time. I recommend St. Louis or Kansas City or Denver," the doctor said.

"In fact, anywhere but here," Jim said, laughing. "We understand, doctor. An' I'm much obliged for the hint. Soon as I can get away I'm going."

"He means we're going, doctor," Ellen corrected, smilingly.

Jim blushed. "That's what I mean."

The emphasis on the last word did not escape Jim. "That's right," he said carelessly. "If it ain't taken right away it won't be a honeymoon, will it? Say, doctor, I'd like to look at yore exhibits again if you don't mind."

Doctor Aubrey unlocked and brought out his second set of plaster casts. Jim selected the one labeled "Exhibit 2." From his pocket he drew the heels obtained at the cobbler's shop. One of these he fitted into the heel of the cast. It was a perfect fit.

"Looks thataway," Jim agreed.

"Who is he?"

"You can come along with me while I tell the sheriff what I know, if you've got the time," Jim said.

"Can't. I have a call to make immediately."

Jim murmured a name.

The doctor stared at him. "You mean that his foot made this imprint?" the doctor asked, astonished.

"That's what I mean, but keep it under yore hat, please. Well, if you won't go with me I'll get Mr. Pendleton. Got to have moral support. I'll ask you to lock up that heel mighty carefully. I'll take the other one along, and the button, too, if you don't mind."

Half an hour later the big Texas trail driver and Rutledge dropped into the office of the sheriff. Ellen had reluctantly gone home.

"Brought your young friend around to surrender, have you, Pendleton?"

"That story in the Globe is nothing but a doggone lie from start to finish," Pendleton burst out with his customary roar.

"Not the way Dave Moss tells it. He's been after me mighty hard to arrest Rutledge, and you know how reliable Dave is. Wouldn't say anything that wasn't so, would he?"

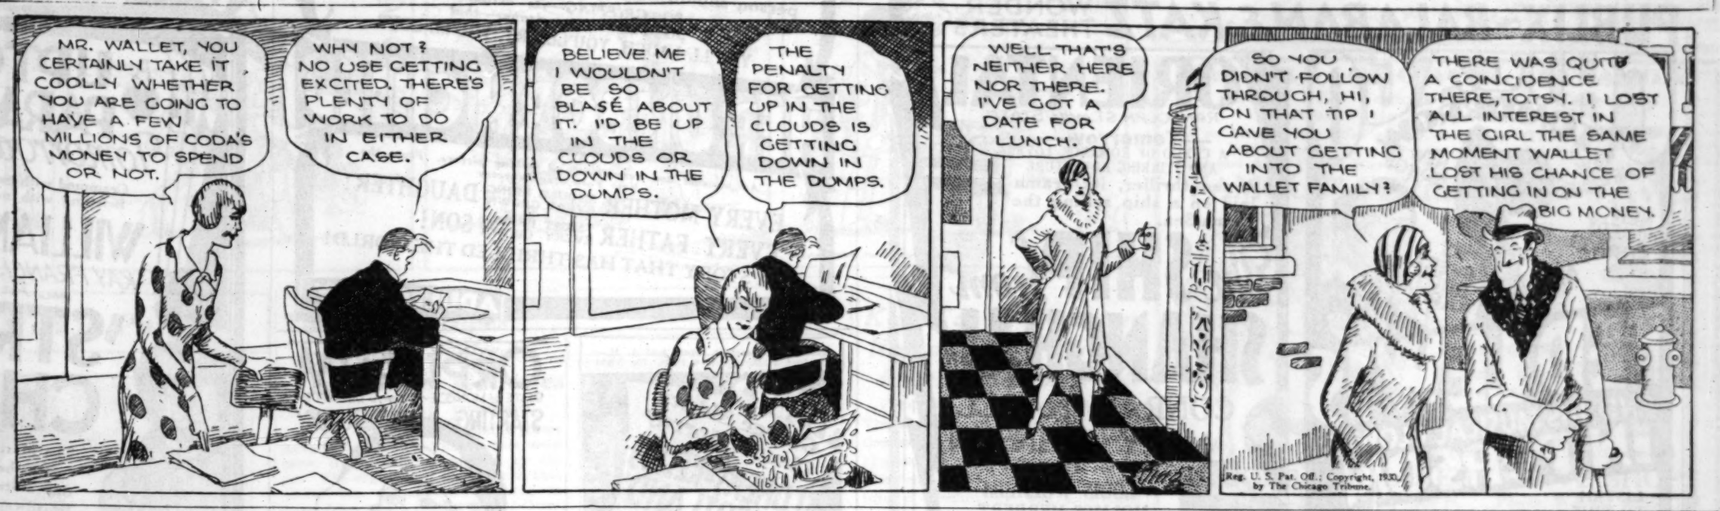
GASOLINE ALLEY—LUNCH TIME



MR. WALLET, YOU CERTAINLY TAKE IT COOLLY WHETHER YOU ARE GOING TO HAVE A FEW MILLIONS OF CODA'S MONEY TO SPEND OR NOT.
WHY NOT? NO USE GETTING EXCITED. THERE'S PLENTY OF WORK TO DO IN EITHER CASE.
BELIEVE ME I WOULDN'T BE SO BLASÉ ABOUT IT. I'D BE UP IN THE CLOUDS OR DOWN IN THE DUMPS.
THE PENALTY FOR GETTING UP IN THE CLOUDS IS GETTING DOWN IN THE DUMPS.
WELL THAT'S NEITHER HERE NOR THERE. I'VE GOT A DATE FOR LUNCH.
SO YOU DIDN'T FOLLOW THROUGH, HI, ON THAT TIP I GAVE YOU ABOUT GETTING INTO THE WALLET FAMILY?
THERE WAS QUITE A COINCIDENCE THERE, TOTSY. I LOST ALL INTEREST IN THE GIRL THE SAME MOMENT WALLET LOST HIS CHANCE OF GETTING IN ON THE BIG MONEY.

Old Tennessee Is Alluring to Spring Tourists

Nashville Day and Half from Chicago.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., March 12.—[Special.]—A five day spring tour recommended by the Chicago Motor club carries the motorist through this historic capital of Tennessee after night stops at Lexington, Ky.; Asheville, N. C., and Chattanooga, Tenn. Here a day and a half drive of 508 miles from Chicago, are the homes of two Presidents of the United States—Andrew Jackson and James Knox Polk. Here and hereabouts are the scenes of some of the biggest battles of the civil war. Here, at a bend in the Cumberland river, is spring.

The Motor club tour route leads here from Chattanooga on U. S. 41, the route traveled last winter between Chicago and Florida. The distance is 144 miles, a morning's drive. Eight and a half miles is poor macadam and eight miles of gravel. The rest is good concrete, bituminous macadam, or asphalt. Two mountains are crossed not far from Chattanooga. The first is Sig Ridge and the other is Monteagle. A good car ascends in high, but a cautious driver uses second on the descent. Between the mountains is the Sequatchie valley, which five years ago was dreaded by Chicagoans driving to Florida.

The bituminous macadam that replaced the mud three or four years ago is now being replaced in the evolution of highways by a concrete pavement on a new alignment that eliminates many curves. Tennessee is building many roads and is building them well. The rights of way do not jog at township lines, as they do on many Illinois highways. The explanation may be that Illinois roads were laid out before sixty mile an hour cross-country driving was common.

Tennessee, however, also has been unusually progressive in bettering the alignment of its old routes. The state was slow in adopting concrete for its roads, but the new jobs show a preference for this material and it is being laid smoother than the surface on most of the thoroughfares around Chicago. Tennessee now has 907 miles of concrete, 402 miles of various types of asphalt, 471 of macadam, and 1,203 of surface treatment, and 3,827 miles of gravel on its state highway system.

The mileage of improvement is not impressive, but the routing of the pavements is for maximum utility rather than political aggrandizement of a state administration. The good roads stretch between cities, serving the farms that happen to be along the route. Many Illinois pavements where located by former Gov. Small where they would get the most votes rather than where they would serve the most traffic.

Tennessee will receive approximately $9,400,000 from its five cent gasoline tax this year and $4,400,000 from registration fees. In addition, the state appropriates for its highway department from the general fund so that approximately $37,000,000 will be available for pavements and bridges this year.

A state highway police department started work today after being suspended for six months. The motorcycle men have orders to assist and to advise automobile drivers and not to molest motorists with arrest for petty technical offenses. The last session of the legislature removed the speed limit on the open road.

BEG YOUR PARDON

James J. Brady, manager of The New World, a Catholic newspaper, writes: "In reply to an inquiry by cable as to what the pope said when addressing the selected lenten preachers, the following has been received: 'We deplore certain customs, which come from the most part from beyond the sea.' Neither America nor Americans are mentioned even by implication."

David Darrah, THE TRIBUNE'S Rome correspondent, in reply to a cabled inquiry, wires: "Concerning the pope's lenten sermon inference, the pope's remarks were clearly for America. He used the word 'overseas' and also illustrated his remark with incidents purely American. Our report was given us by a Vatican churchman who reaffirms tonight that there is no question but the pope was talking about America although he did not mention the name. Neither does the pontiff mention Italy when talking about things he does not like in Italy."

Chicago Woman's Club Pledges $11,343 for Fight Against Cancer

The Chicago Woman's club yesterday pledged $11,343 worth of support to the cancer seal campaign sponsored by the club's cancer educational committee.

Members at their monthly business meeting at the club, 72 East 11th street, were asked to underwrite $5,000 worth of seals. The request was made by Mrs. Frederick A. Lorenz, chairman of the cancer educational committee. The club women responded by more than doubling the sum requested.

"As far as we know the Chicago Woman's club is the only one sponsoring education in cancer," Mrs. Lorenz told members in her appeal. "The club therefore is making history and setting a precedent. The great hope in the fight against cancer now lies in education. The only thing that is holding the cancer educational committee back is finances. The more seals sold, the more money we will have to educate the people of Illinois on cancer."

The cancer educational committee's contest to select a design for the official seal will close Saturday. The designs must portray cheerfulness, hope and health, be done in not more than three colors. They must not exceed three by four inches in size, bearing the slogan: "Fight cancer with education." The winning design will be used in the sale of the seals during April. The committee hopes to sell 20,000 books of 100 stamps each.

French Satirist Finds Too Many Claiming Places in His Book

Vicomte Alain de Leche, author of New York's latest literary sensation, "Mr. Goldberg's Party," paused long enough yesterday on his way to Hollywood from the east coast to present a preliminary apology to Chicago's gold coast for certain lampooning.

"Although the book has been out only ten days," he declared yesterday, "it is amazing how many people have already recognized themselves in my characters, and have come to me, furious about it. Now the character of Mr. Goldberg was a Boston man, but several New Yorkers are certain they recognize themselves in him—and I think they are pleased, though they pretend to be terribly angry."

This youthful Frenchman, whose ideas on marriage are as strong as his Parisian accent, came to America originally two years ago at the behest of Charlie Chaplin, and spent some time in Hollywood, New York and Chicago. His assertion that unless a man marries before he is thirty, he should not do so under fifty made him the target of numerous determined matchmakers, but he successfully withstood all comers and triumphantly passed his deadline several months ago, a bachelor.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

What is your favorite slang expression?

The Answers.

George Coffey, 1311 North Dearborn street, salesman—You might try me out with a provocative remark. I'd probably come back with a "Damn it, what's the matter with you?" Mother never allowed me to use slang. She said it was vulgar and to be avoided.

Miss Myrtle Toler, 6335 Harper avenue, nurse—I seldom use slang, but when I do I use whatever word crashes into my mind. The one I use most often, and the often is seldom, is "darn." I recall that on one occasion I exclaimed "gee whiz," but that and similar expressions are not common to me.

James Lutty, 2450 Aubert street, painter-decorator — I am dealing with wealthy persons the whole day, and I have to watch my step. I was born and lived in France for the greater portion of my life and I have no slang words or expressions in either my French or English.

Miss Mae Acree, 1702 North Clark street, saleslady — I will tell you what it is, but you wouldn't print it; it is hell—that is, when I get real good and angry. I wouldn't want to use anything that is any worse. If I am not angry I say "darn" or "darn it."

William Krone, 6641 Greenview avenue, engineering salesman — I toss out a gamut from A to Z and return. You don't want them. I'll give you a new one—"Dick Smith." I'll illustrate: You ask what I was doing last night. To avoid a direct reply I would say "I was Dick Smithing," meaning "I sneaked out."

"Smart Aleck" Comedy for U. of C.'s "Black Friars"

The board of superiors of the Black Friars, men's dramatic organization at the University of Chicago, announced last night that the annual spring musical comedy to be presented next month will be "Smart Aleck," written by John Pincus, 5303 Woodlawn avenue.

Woman's Symphony Orchestra Takes Its Place in City's Life

BY EDWARD MOORE.

With the sixth concert of the season played at the Eighth Street theater last night, the Woman's Symphony orchestra can now take credit for something definite and pleasant in the musical life of Chicago. Perhaps it is because its members have made so few claims for themselves—one seldom hears anything about them except a desire for hard work and improvement—but at any rate they have made a place for themselves.

Rehearsals are what count for individuals or organizations, amateurs or professionals. So it is agreeable to note that the Woman's Symphony orchestra keeps improving slowly but steadily. It means that the members' ambitions to improve are being realized through their willingness to work. If the orchestra is not the equal of Mr. Stock's band of experts, it at least has made the start of playing worthy music to the best of its ability.

Last night's program began with Vivaldi's Concerto in A minor, passing from there to the suite which Goldmark called a symphony and presented with the further name of "A Rustic Wedding." Then came the soloist of the evening, the Chicago contralto Eva Gordon Horadesky, an artist of rich, voluminous voice and the intelligence with which to use it.

She sang the aria "Ah, rendimi," from Rossi's "Mitrane," with all the fullness of her vocal wealth, later in the program returning for a better known selection, "Amour, viens aider," from Saint-Saëns' "Samson et Dalila." Meanwhile, for the orchestral part of the second part, Conductor Ebba Sundstrom led her forces through Debussy's "The Afternoon of a Faun," the Scherzo from Mendelssohn's incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and two numbers of Glazounow's "Ruses d'Amour."

Knox College Club Meets Tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle

The Chicago-Knox club will hold its annual dinner tomorrow evening at the Hotel La Salle. The Knox Student Players will present a play, "The French Doll," at the dinner. Dr. Albert Britt, president of the college, will report on the progress of the campaign to raise a centenary fund of $5,000,000 for the construction of new buildings and expansion of the college. A total of $914,000 has already been subscribed in the campaign. Dean William E. Simonds, who is completing his forty-first year as a member of the Knox faculty, also will speak.

Bertram W. Bennett is president of the Chicago Knox club. Two hundred and fifty members from the Chicago area are expected to attend the dinner.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

HERBERT RAWLINSON, the central figure in "The City Haul," which opened at the Cort theater last night, has spent seventeen years in motion pictures, according to his own curtain speech testimony. His past is therefore referred to Mae Tinée. His present, however, is proof that the faculty of speech has been pent up within him for a long, long time.

He has got himself a rôle, for his return to the flesh-and-blood drama, which contains all the words he couldn't utter during his sentence in the cinema. There are fully seventeen years of dialogue in the character of His Dishonor the Mayor who pipes the fantastic tune to which "The City Haul" frolics.

Mr. Rawlinson speaks them all, trippingly on the tongue. He wins this year's medal for machine-gun acting. There is a plot in "The City Haul," of course, but the chief purpose of the play is to supply monologues for Mr. Mayor, who dresses like Jimmy Walker, schemes like [insert the name of your favorite politician] and loots like Capt. Kidd. And as a monologist Mr. Rawlinson has skill as well as speed. He is an attractive comedian with no motion picture pomposity in his personality. He knows that "The City Haul" is a farce and his rôle is a stunt. He vaguely resembles Allan Dinehart, an expert in such parts as this.

Corruption is knee deep upon the scene of this loquacious and would-be satirical piece. The mayor's office, where all the dirty work happens, is a bog of knavery. Paving contracts, school book shinnanigan, weights and measures jobbery, building permit hocus-pocus—the whole machinery of municipal graft grinds furiously in this well furnished sanctum. But that does not mean there is a variety of action in the play; the skullduggery is mainly between His Honor, Tony, his henchman, and the telephone.

Maybe you will think that this sounds something like home. But please note that there are only three newspapers in the town that His Honor plunders so efficiently. They are represented by reporters of "The Front Page" species, but the Chicago analogy ends there. Any city, however, whose missing tax funds are hidden in a vault in its mayor's office; which recently dismissed a superintendent of schools named Dr. Andrew Sprague; which contains a river ward, an Italian wire puller named Scaranza, and an incorruptible newspaper called The Ledger may have grounds for legal action against "The City Haul." The author, a woman attorney, belongs in Newark, N. J. The indignation meetings might begin there.

This People's Choice is the Houdini of mayors. He pops into and out of secret cabinets to baffle and dumfound his enemies. He gets arrested twice, but in the twinkling of an eye he is free of the handcuffs. He is also the Chauncey Olcott, the Tim Murphy and the Big Hearted Steve of mayors. He flirts with clubwomen, blarneys Irish widows and is lavish with dollar tips to bootblacks. There is evidence to suggest, however, that he knows where several bodies are buried.

He comes up smiling, as usual, at the end, when it seems that a vigilance committee ought to stalk in and drag him off to the nearest lamp post. He is the Capt. Macheath of this municipal "Beggar's Opera," and like all hero knaves he bears a charmed life. His pretty daughter marries his secretary; they both forgive him for his personal and official misdeeds, and apparently he is going to be reelected. "At heart I'm honest," he says, for Apologia, "and if I've been a grafter it's only because of the competition!"

Young Leaders of Trade Boom National Guard

Seek $50,000 Fund for Chicago Units.

The Junior Association of Commerce of Chicago announced yesterday it has volunteered the services of its entire membership during the remainder of this months to solicit funds for the Chicago National Guard commission. A drive is being made for $50,000 under the direction of Bernard E. Sunny, who succeeded Frank O. Wetmore as chairman of the commission.

Representatives of the Junior Association of Commerce on the commission are R. W. Ibenfeldt, Robert C. Stockton, Carl Beckert, Martin P. Luthy and C. Edward Dahlin. The announcement states they believe it is not only a patriotic and civic duty but is in the best interests of Chicago and the state of Illinois.

The purpose of the fund is to build the morale of the existing organizations of the National Guard in Chicago and thereby attract into it young men of character and caliber and to maintain the guard in its present high state of efficiency, according to the appeal being made.

"The maintenance of the National Guard is a divided responsibility," the commission declared. "The federal government furnishes the arms, uniforms and equipment necessary for the service and defrays the actual cost of training which it prescribes. The state of Illinois provides the armories, camp facilities, and storage of all military property turned over by the federal government.

"The support of the community is essential to the maintenance of the guard as are the equipment and training facilities furnished by state and government. Without community support, it would be impossible for the state to provide a citizen soldiery available for national defense and for use as aid in preserving its own civil power during domestic disturbances.

"The commission therefore is charged with organizing this community spirit. Funds contributed by the community are expended only for the promotion of morale and efficiency of the guard, and to make service in it attractive to a desirable type of recruits. Some of the authorized purposes for which National Guard commission funds are to be used are:

"Transportation of food and troops during demonstrations on patriotic occasions.

"Assistance given the soldiers in remodeling ill fitting uniforms, thereby fostering pride of service.

"Marksmanship, drill, recruiting, and athletic trophies to organizations and individuals, thus tending to develop efficiency.

Harry J. Powers Back, Seeking a Site for the New Erlanger Theater

Harry J. Powers, dean of Chicago theater producers, is back home from New York. He is to decide how and where the new theater to be erected by the Erlanger Amusement Enterprises, Inc., costing several million dollars, will be placed in the scheme of things in Chicago's loop. Mr. Powers attended on Tuesday the board meeting in New York at which the new Chicago theater project was approved.

No site has been selected, however, for the theater. It's doubtful, Mr. Powers said yesterday, that such selection will be very soon. The Auditorium theater site has been mentioned, however, in spite of the fact that leasehold obstacles at present stand in the way. The tentative plan hopes to combine the proposed theater with a large building for a hotel or offices.

"The Illinois theater is the only one in Chicago large enough for productions like the Ziegfeld enterprises, but it seats only 1,400," Mr. Powers said.

Stir of Spring Welcomed by Society Editor

BY THALIA

The number of communications concerning social happenings of one kind or another received by this department yesterday would seem to indicate a rift in the dullness of recent days.

Organizations are beginning to plan spring events, and there are even one or two affairs to take place after Easter now being arranged.

Barry Faulkner is in Chicago and is to attend the dinner of the Chicago Association of Painters and Sculptors to take place this evening at the Palmer house. Frederic Clay Bartlett is to speak on "The Modern Art Movement." The gathering also will serve to introduce the artists of the city to Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins. Mr. Faulkner, who painted a mural for Eames McVeagh some time ago, is the house guest of the Kellogg Fairbanks.

The Chicago Vassar club has issued invitations for a luncheon for Miss Mary Yost, graduate of Vassar in the class of 1904, and dean of Leland Stanford university, to take place on Saturday at 12:30 o'clock at the Fortnightly.

Eleanor Cook, who is to give the costume recital of folk songs that will constitute the third of the programs being given under the auspices of the Arts and Interests committee of the Junior league, is a graduate of Farmington, and a member of the New York Junior league. So the Farmington society is to give a tea for her after her performance at 3:30 o'clock next Monday at the Drake hotel. Miss Cook gave some of the numbers in her repertoire at one of the Wotnan's Athletic club morning programs a year or so ago.

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Jane Everett, daughter of Mrs. John C. Everett of 1512 Dearborn parkway, to Roger Quincy White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ferris White of 5314 University avenue, is to take place at 4:30 o'clock at St. Chrysostom's on Saturday afternoon, March 22, with a reception following at the Woman's Athletic club.

Miss Everett's sister, Miss Joan Everett, is to be her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Emily Foresman, Miss Margaret Emily Carr, Miss Betty Dixon, Mrs. Sidney Gorham, Miss Honor Merrell and Miss Ruth Norwood. Ferris White is to be best man for his brother, and the ushers will include Philip White, Sidney Gorham, Barron Rockwell, Edward Wilson, John Kohler, Franklin Kohler and Frederick Jerauld of Niagara Falls.

The pre-nuptial parties will include a dinner-dance at the Drake on Saturday evening to be given by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. E. Kohler, a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warren Everett of Hinsdale on Sunday, a dinner by Miss Foresman on Monday evening, a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Rich on next Tuesday evening.

Other events include a luncheon on Wednesday at the South Shore Country club by Miss Norwood and a dinner on Wednesday evening at the Blackstone by Miss Carr; luncheon on Thursday at the Woman's Athletic club by Mrs. Arthur Treman of Ithaca, N. Y., and a dinner that evening by Mr. and Mrs. Gorham at the residence of Mrs. Gorham's mother, Mrs. Eugene McVoy; dancing at the Opera club with Miss Merrell as hostess, the bridal dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. White on Friday evening at the Blackstone.

The Lower North Community council's annual benefit has been set for May 2. Besides the fact that the affair is to be a dinner-dance and will take place at the Bal Tabarin of the Hotel Sherman, none of the other details have been settled. Mrs. James Waller Rogers is to be chairman of the committee to make the arrangements, Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr. and Walter S. Frazier are to be co-chairmen, and Mrs. Randolph Payson is to "do" the publicity. Last year's party was a huge success. The setting, invitations, and costumes were representative of the gold rush period.

Mrs. William D. Dean gave a luncheon at her studio at 70 East Cedar street yesterday for the Chicago board of the Northwestern university settlement, of which Mrs. James Offield is chairman. Plans were discussed for a post-Easter benefit for the settlement.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Buel Colton of 3632 Lake View avenue announce the birth of a daughter on March 7 at the Passavant hospital. The baby is to be named Josephine Peacock Colton, after her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Robert E. Peacock. Mrs. Colton was Miss Dorothy Peacock before her marriage.

Jimmy Walker Invited.

Mayor (Jimmy) Walker of New York has been invited by the Rev. William J. McNamee, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Adams and Desplaines streets, to participate in the St. Patrick's day celebration at that church next Monday. Father McNamee is chaplain of the Irish Fellowship club, for which Mayor Walker is coming to the city to speak at its annual St. Patrick's day banquet in the evening.

Midwest Couple Wed in Paris

On March 4 Miss Linda Lee Doan, daughter of Mrs. Sally Doan, formerly of St. Louis and Washington, became the bride of Charles Rhoades Clow of Chicago. The ceremonies, civil and church, were held in Paris, the first at the office of the mayor of the seventh arrondissement, the latter at the home of Vicomte and Vicomtess Obert de Thieusies. The picture was taken after the second ceremony.

Sorority Will Give Party Saturday to Help Charity

A St. Patrick's formal party will be given by Pi chapter of Zeta Sigma Psi sorority on Saturday evening at the Drake hotel. Since its organization in 1889 the group has given several formal affairs each year, a percentage of the proceeds going to charity. Miss Gertrude Chamber is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Miss Dorothy M. Litchfield, Miss Jenriette Kenney, Miss Berenice Driscoll, Miss Vivian Bennett, Miss Dorothy Ann Durr, and Miss Marian Pack.

ENGAGEMENT

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Grosselle Grulee of 1410 Asbury avenue, Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Freer, to Richard Brooks Capps, son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Capps of 1215 East 56th street, Chicago.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The Turkish ambassador has recalled the invitations he had out for three dinners he was giving this month and April 4, because of the death of former Chief Justice Taft.

The new British ambassador and Lady Lindsay sailed today for the United States. They will arrive in New York March 18, and will be the first occupants of the new embassy on Massachusetts avenue.

Mrs. Jacob Baur of Chicago, Republican national committeewoman of Illinois, arrived here today and will be at the Mayflower for a couple of days. She will go from here to New York.

Word has been received here this week from Mrs. Defrees, widow of Joseph H. Defrees of Chicago, from Egypt. She will not return to this country until about the first of June.

Mrs. Paul Henderson, daughter of the late Congressman Martin B. Madden, has had as her guest Miss Harriet Sawyer, for whom she gave a tea in her Woodland drive home.

Miss Helen E. Condell and Miss Eliza B. Condell of Springfield, Ill., are spending three weeks at the Dodge hotel here.

Parents-Teachers' Dinner.

The board of managers and the advisory board of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers will hold a dinner this evening at the Chicago Woman's club.

Three Landscapes by Corot Displayed at O'Brien Galleries

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

At the O'Brien Art galleries there have been put on exhibition this week three magnificent landscapes by Corot. The slightest of the three is that where two nymphs are bathing in water from which rises a typical Corot tree, full-foliaged, the detached leaves like tiny hands against a soft sky.

The most impressive, the deepest and mellowest, the most dramatic of the three, is "Le Chevrier de Terni," a goatherd watching a flock of goats in a landscape where trees are dark fortresses to beauty and the foreground is a rocky slope. The red cap on the man's head gives that dramatic note of color which is found repeated often in Corot's painting.

The third landscape shows a long country road with the retreating figure of a man on horseback; a town rises in the distance; in the foreground deep in shadow comes again the red touch, introduced by a boy wearing the fateful headdress while he leans caressingly over the thick haunches of a well-grown sheep. In all of these paintings the sky is a soft and tender blue fleeced with white clouds.

Vernon Thomas is showing a number of her attractive studies of children in the O'Brien galleries. "The Joy Ride," that gay little girl like quicksilver who bestrides the bannister, is chief among them. "Winter" is a later etching and very popular. The chubby figure and provocative skates, the feel of cold in the air and the smooth glitter of ice underfoot, make it one of her best. "The Garden Gate" is another delightful print with summer in the air and a resolute little girl pulling on the gate. "Cinderella" is adorable. Two children are in party dress and the girl has lost her slipper, which the young cavalier solemnly replaces. "Summer" with its child and frog must not be overlooked.

Completing the exhibit are dog etchings by Marguerite Kirnse and if you have never seen her dogs, go now. They are superb. "Down Wind" is a magnificent etching of an English setter in the field. "Fuzzy-Wuzzy" is a Scottie baby looking at a caterpillar. "Carolina Days" shows two bird dogs in the field.

"A Pair of Aces" are two wire-haired terriers, gloriously depicted. She is a master in her art, the best etcher of dogs that we have. Diana Thorne ranks with her but possibly Marguerite Kirnse is a shade the better craftsman; her prints are a revelation and a joy to the lover of dogs beyond the power of words to express adequately.

Tito Schipa Will Sing on Sunday to Aid Hospital

Tito Schipa will sing on Easter Sunday afternoon in the Civic Opera house for the benefit of St. Mary's of Nazareth hospital, 1120 North Leavitt street. The latter is seeking a fund to erect a new addition to the hospital. It is conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Family, a Polish order, and is the only hospital of its kind in the United States. The woman's auxiliary of which Mrs. Leon W. Dyniewicz is president is sponsoring the concert. Peter L. Evans, president of the Home Trust and Savings bank, is treasurer; Mrs. George Mueller is chairman of boxes, twenty of which have been sold, and Mrs. Leon Grotowski, ticket chairman.

ENGAGED

Karl Taylor Compton Named as President for the 'Boston Tech'

Cambridge, Mass., March 12.—(AP)—The appointment of Dr. Karl Taylor Compton, head of the department of physics, Princeton university, to be president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was announced today by President Samuel W. Stratton after a meeting of the corporation of the institute.

Dr. Compton will take office next July. Then Dr. Stratton will become chairman of the executive committee and of the corporation. A newly created executive position in which he will share the responsibilities of administration but will be relieved of much of the detail.

The appointment of Dr. Compton as president was made at the suggestion of Dr. Stratton, who has been president of Technology for the last eight years. It constitutes the first step in a plan of executive control formulated by Dr. Stratton, in the belief that the administrative organizations of educational institutions are no longer adequate to meet the complex problems of the day.

Galli Curci Cancels European Tour for Criticisms in Hungary

PARIS, March 12.—(AP)—Mme. Amelita Galli Curci, who retired recently as prima donna for the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company of New York, has canceled the remainder of her European concert tour and is sailing today for the United States. As her reason she cited criticism in Budapest papers of what were considered exorbitant fees extracted from Hungary, an impoverished country.

Mme. Galli Curci recently was hissed and booed in Budapest where she sang Violetta in "La Traviata." She said she was not in good voice because of a bad cold. The cold later necessitated her canceling a performance of "The Barber of Seville," and the opera management brought action against her. She also canceled concerts in Vienna and Paris for the same reason.

Audience Laughs Heartily, but 'Intimate Revue' Ends

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—A record short theatrical run was established in London last night when the "Intimate Revue"—an unkind critic named it the "Inanimate Revue"—gave its first performance at the Duchess theater.

The entire London press unmercifully slammed the production today, declaring it was a rotten show, badly acted, and pitifully underrehearsed.

But the audience enjoyed a hilarious evening when the lights went out in the middle of an act, the curtain descended on the heads of actors and went up while the stage hands were changing scenes. Then the actors forgot their lines or fell headlong over the props.

After reading the morning newspapers the management called off future performances.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice are spending a fortnight at their estate, Mount Hope farm in the Berkshires.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cheever Cowdin have gone to Delmonte, Cal.

Mrs. John Bloodgood will leave Friday to spend a fortnight in Baltimore.

Mrs. John Parkin Gilford will leave tomorrow to spend two weeks with friends at Old Point Comfort, Va.

Miss Anna Remsen Alexander will sail early in May to pass the summer abroad.

Boys' Astronomy Book Is Also for Girls, Grownups

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Many of the questions children ask I can answer after a fashion. Or if I can't answer them, I at least know enough to be able to say "I don't know" with an air of intelligence. Are you that way? But when it comes to the sky and all that is up there, I can't even say "I don't know" intelligently.

It wasn't my intention to start telling you about a children's book like that—but ever since the publishers sent me "The Boys' Book of Astronomy" I've had a feeling that here at last was something clear enough and simple enough for me to begin with, myself. The heavens at night in all their starry glory have always seemed to me particularly wonderful, but a baffling study. This book dispels that feeling. If—though probably you're not as ignorant as I—you'd like to read about the heavenly bodies and study them with your growing sons and daughters of 12 or 13 and over, here is your book.

The book is written by J. Harris Gable and G. Deloss Swezey. Prof. Gable of the University of Nebraska has lectured to many hundreds of boys on astronomy and the book is written for young people in a conversational, particularly clear, style.

A good feature for this sort of study is the plan of outlines given at the beginning of each chapter. The book is arranged in a way which would make it easy for one to read up on one special point—or refer back to some subject in question. In fact, if a girl, boy, or an adult did not have time to read or study it continuously, the book could be used profitably at odd times to look up an isolated question of interest in astronomy. But the book is really worthy of continuous reading or study.

"The Boys' Book of Astronomy" is published by E. P. Dutton & Co., of New York City, and costs $2.50.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pork with Milk.

This little note came from Mrs. Leonard—she signs herself thus briefly—the other day: "Just finished reading your method for cooking or frying pork chops. Have you ever tried dipping your pork chops in milk before frying? I find they are delicious done this way and never hard or dry."

Since the article in question was written I have read a most remarkable indictment of the foods that appear on the American table, and among them was listed, "The tough, dry, grease coated fried pork chop."

Certainly one of the ways that will take away the grease and the dryness of the chop is using milk. It pleased me greatly to devise for myself a few years ago some fresh pork cookery with milk that was not only an economical way of cooking pork, but made something extraordinarily dainty. Afterwards I learned that they were cooking veal in this same fashion at the Boston Cooking school. One of the titles I gave for my dish was "minute pork."

I tried using one good sized pork chop to get my economical, quickly cooked, palatable and dainty meat. The one chop was cut in as thin slices as possible, these rolled in flour so as to be perfectly covered, then put into a frying pan in which there was a little seasoned fat, as hot as it could be without smoking. One tablespoon and a half of fat was enough for a quarter of a pound of pork. The pork was cooked one minute to a side in this fat, turned and cooked, then taken up and the butter and the flour in the pan stirred smooth and cooled a little. Then a cup of milk, or preferably a cup of half milk and half cream, was added, put back over the fire and stirred until thickened and cooked. The pork was then put into this sauce and gently stewed for twenty minutes. It must not boil during that twenty minutes because the sauce will get too thick. The safest way is to cover the pan and put it where the contents will barely simmer.

The pork treated in the fashion described first, that is, cut in thin pieces, rolled in flour and cooked one minute to a side, in which time it will be browned lightly, is palatable enough without being finished in a gravy. We can make the milk gravy a little more elaborate with a few mushrooms cut up and sautéed first.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Write or Telephone.

"Dear Miss Blake: I'm in love with a girl. I work night and she goes out every Sunday. Would it be right if I wrote her a note? BUDDY."

Either write to her, or call her on the telephone and arrange an appointment that way, Buddy.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Tubers are thickened portions of either roots or stems in which starch is stored. Irish and sweet potatoes are familiar illustrations of tubers. Roots do not commonly arise from the tubers themselves, but from the bases of young shoots or sprouts. When these sprouts have developed roots they may be removed from the tuber cutting and planted, and the cutting will then send out new shoots. This practice is sometimes employed with new varieties of Irish potatoes in order to secure a maximum from a small stock of seed potatoes.

In cutting Irish potatoes there should be at least one eye on each piece; but in cutting such tubers as sweet potatoes, which have no eyes, it is only necessary that each piece should have upon it a portion of the skin or epidermis from which adventitious buds may develop.

Tuber cuttings may be planted in hotbeds for the production of plants, which are then set out in the field or garden. Or, as is customary with Irish potatoes, the cuttings may be planted in furrows in the field or plat which is to produce the crop.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

2641

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This semi-sports type shows straight, slender lines and the new femininity in its becoming neckline, softened by the becoming collar and the jabot frill. Grouped plaits on the skirt lengthen its line, and while they flare prettily in motion, hang perfectly straight otherwise. Navy blue silk crêpe combined with white will be an important combination for spring. Flat silk crêpe, novelty woolen, and canton silk crêpe are appropriate.

The pattern, 2641, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 40 inch material with ½ yard of 32 inch contrasting.

One Bite Too Many.

I was having some inlay work done by a dentist, and for the fitting I was asked to bite on a small round stick.

After biting on the stick several times as I lay back in the chair with my eyes closed I felt what I supposed was the stick in my mouth and bit again as usual. I found to my embarrassment I had bitten the dentist's finger. D. T. B.

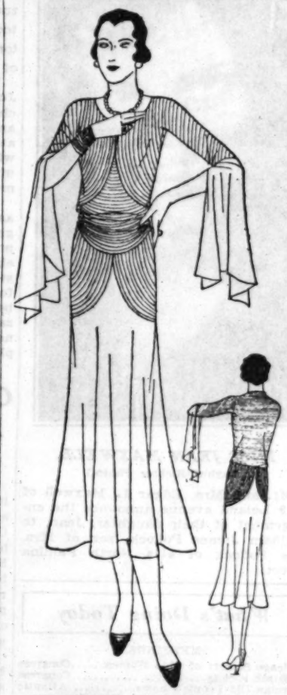
Riviera Hostesses Don Hand Made Frocks



BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special Correspondence.] —News comes to Paris from the Riviera that fashionable hostesses are taking to hand made chic, and receiving their friends in simple hostess frocks that are made distinguished by the finest of hand work. They are "at home" in their villas and chateaux along the cote d'Azur, wearing dresses that announce the fact that sports clothes or fussy afternoon frocks are not being received in in smart society.

The smartest women wear dresses like the one shown in our sketch, a dress that was fashioned by clever and patient fingers, because every one of those tucks that completely cover the bodice and make the partial circles on the skirt are made by hand with almost invisible stitches.

There is nothing formal about the hostess dress at the southern resort, as our sketch testifies. It avoids anything pretentious or sporty. This dress is made of one of the smartest spring materials—crêpe morain, which is not unlike georgette. Transparent crêpes are decidedly coming into fashion for spring, and when dresses are made of such material they are usually treated to fine hand run tucks or some other fine handwork.

The imitation bolero jacket and the upper sleeves of this dress are incrusted with circular tucking. Short sleeves are smart, and for the woman who doesn't want to expose a doubtful lower arm the slit lower sleeve illustrated is the solution.

The bodice of this dress is tucked solidly and is draped in at the normal waist line at the sides. It blouses in the back and curves down in front, so that any woman can wear it. The circular skirt is set on a hip yoke that is divided into circular pieces on the hips, each side being covered with rounded, hand run tucks.

Shoulders and Arms Need Same Care as the Face

by Gabrielle Dorziat

Waiting in one of the frightfully swanky parlors devoted to the glorification of the American woman, my ears were not deceived when the attendant said: "And a shoulder massage, Madame?"

And Madame said: "And arms, too!"

"Yes," volunteered the elegant attendant, "we give shoulder and arm massage just as the face."

We didn't say just as the face what. You don't get free with your speech where a plain sentence like "I would like a massage" may cost you a quarter of your weekly allowance, or nearly.

The shoulder and arm massage intrigued me, as it was not, strictly speaking, the salon of a body masseuse. It seems that you are not a well massaged creature unless your face, shoulders, and arms look, epidermically speaking, like triplets that their mother can't tell apart. That's what comes of wearing these slender shoulder straps with what's left of your evening growns.

It is not a bad idea, though, when you grasp it and Papa can be hornswaggled into meeting the shoulder and arm upkeep. It is consistent that shoulders and arms ought to have a near kin look in satin finish to the face and the neck. So much exposed arm, shoulder and back epidermis does not have that sisterly look. Anyway, you know now what's proper in evening clothes.

Seriously though backs intrigue me. They intrigue me because they are often exposed under circumstances that should have more of a touch of humanity in them. Some backs I have seen make me want to reach for a scrub brush. After that a powder puff. After that the decision that they ought to be covered up anyway. Just a film of lace, net, or chiffon, and how much nicer the scenery those behind might be able to enjoy.

And arms! What a study they are! What a lot could be done about them! It will be done about them, too, when this shoulder and arm massage gets about in a big way.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

MISS V. McB.: SLUMPING DOWN in a chair is a most ugly pose to acquire and an unhealthy one. When you slide forward in the chair with shoulders slouched down you are sitting on your spine. You push forward and down the organs of the abdomen, which were meant to stay back and up. Your stomach sticks out. Learn to sit up straight.

Daughter, Jobless for the Moment, Is Reviled by Mother

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"What do you think of a mother who tells her daughter she ought to be put out of the house; that she is merely keeping her for charity's sake? The daughter is idle because she cannot find employment, hard as she has tried.

"I am the daughter, 19, and have been working for four years until the recent layoff. Other members of my family have been out of employment for long periods without getting such rebuffs as I have had.

"I have a brother, 25, who seldom is employed. No criticism of him passes my mother's lips. The funniest part of it all is that he, in company with my mother, nag me to death. Isn't it true that the conscientious one of the family always is the goat?

"My mother never had to worry about me. I turned in most of my salary. I suppose she just expects things from me she never dreams of demanding from my brother.

"WONDERING."

That is the type of mother a novelist recently described as the deadliest of the mother species, draining the life blood out of one child to pamper another. And, curiously, it invariably is the girl child who is the victim. Why? It is hard to tell, unless it is because it is human to despise the easy mark, which I am afraid many working daughters become, due to an exaggerated sense of family responsibility.

Not that I do not approve of girls contributing from their salary to the upkeep of their homes. But I do think there is much of the vulture in mothers who demand every dollar of a girl's salary and turn on her the moment the income stops. Think of a girl earning since she was 15, her earnings supporting, partly at least, a loafing brother! It is not right. Daughters should rebel.

They should rebel for no other reason than to raise their own standard in the family establishment. The girl who earns should have something beside car fare and luncheon from her pay envelope, unless conditions of invalidism exist and the duty becomes a sacrifice of love.

"Wondering" is the type of girl who will never get a chance to marry. She wouldn't dare see an opportunity. She must stay and support the home. When she gets to be 30 or so, the same mother will be the meanest in her epithets about old maids. It works that way invariably. The thing for daughters to do is to establish by demands that are within reason an honored and respected position in the family.

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily end those pains with Midol. This merciful medicine is not a narcotic, you know. Nor does it interfere in the slightest with the normal and natural process itself. But Midol does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on the organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is; it has made at least one form of suffering quite needless. When every drug store has these harmless tablets, isn't it foolish to be a martyr? Midol costs fifty cents, in metal case.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

WANTED—MALE HELP.
Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

AAAA

A Man of Exceptional Mentality

An organization rated AAAL operating nationally is about to build A new national selling organization marketing an entirely new service. This step is the result of careful experimental work conducted over a period of several months which proves conclusively to us that there is a market for what we have to sell.

We would like to talk to a man who can show an earning record in excess of $5,000 per year selling an intangible—and who has the ambition to double or triple that amount.

The men selected will be backed by an extensive advertising campaign.

Call Randolph 4745 and ask for the General Sales Manager. Do not make inquiries over the telephone. If you can answer our questions satisfactorily we will grant you a personal interview.

A SPECIALTY

AVERAGE MEN of character and good intention who are discouraged chasing down meaningless, unsalable propositions will be considered for a worthwhile position with us, the largest concern of its kind in the world.

Answer this question to yourself. If you had two articles that ARE IN GREAT DEMAND and were in a position to SELL THEM for HALF of what any other merchant would dare to offer them, how many ORDERS a week do you feel YOU could write at a DOLLAR DOWN?

JUST TWO MEASLEY ORDERS A DAY WITH A DOLLAR DEPOSIT PAYS YOU $75 A WEEK AS FULL NOTHING DEFERRED, and WE GET YOU INTO THE HOME at our own expense and pay you on all other purchases that your cutsomer makes.

If you are seeking a good, legitimate, steady income and want something that sells—we have it.
23 E. JACKSON-BLVD., 11TH FLOOR.

A SALES POSITION

Now open for three experienced salesmen and two beginners. Special canvassing for large Chicago concern. Must be ambitious and willing to learn our methods, have good references, and be over 25 years of age. Personality more essential than experience.

Excellent future where earnings will be commensurate with ability. Do not write or phone. Call in person only. If you convince me that you are sincere I can place you in one of our Chicago sales departments at once. Apply 9 to 12 a. m. No phone calls or letters answered. M. Walters, Suite 402-404, Brevoort Hotel, 120 W. MADISON.

A FEW SALESMEN

THRIFT ACCOUNTS under our new plan is irresistible public appeal and is simple to obtain; experience is not necessary nor is it particularly desired. Immediate instruction will bring quick returns. Each account brings you a commission from $15 to $150. If you follow instructions you should make LARGE DAILY commissions; get 100% co-operation and can advance to an executive position.

We have several OPENINGS FOR SALESMEN speaking FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH, ITALIAN, and GREEK. Call Thursday before 1 P. M., Suite 610, 330 S. Wells-st.
